Frontinus: De Aquaeductu Urbis Romae Frontinus, 2004-04-15 In 97 CE Julius Frontinus was appointed by the Emperor Nerva to the post of water commissioner for the city of Rome In the De Aquaeductu Urbis Romae he sets forth his duties responsibilities and accomplishments during his first year in office He sketches the history of the aqueducts furnishes a wealth of technical data and quotes verbatim from legal documents This edition is the first since 1922 to be based on the single authoritative witness discovered at Monte Cassino in 1429 and is also the first to take into account the idiosyncrasies of its twelfth century scribe Peter the Deacon a man notorious for literary affectations of his own R H Rodgers provides the first full commentary since the early eighteenth century dividing his attention between text and language on the one hand and content and interpretation on the other

Luther's Rome, Rome's Luther Carl P. E. Springer, 2021-07-13 This book reconsiders the question of Martin Luther's relationship with Rome in all its sixteenth century manifestations the early modern city he visited as a young man the ancient republic and empire whose language and literature he loved the Holy Roman Empire of which he was a subject and the sacred seat of the papacy It will appeal to scholars as well as lay readers especially those interested in Rome the reception of the classics in the Reformation Luther studies and early modern history Springer's methodology is primarily literary critical and he analyzes a variety of texts prose and poetry throughout the book Some of these speak for themselves while Springer examines others more closely to tease out their possible meanings The author also situates relevant texts within their appropriate contexts as the topics in the book are interdisciplinary While many of Luther's references to Rome are negative especially in his later writings Springer argues that his attitude to the city in general was more complicated than has often been supposed If Rome had not once been so dear to Luther it is unlikely that his later animosity would have been so intense Springer shows that Luther continued to be deeply fascinated by Rome until the end of his life and contends that what is often thought of as his pure hatred of Rome is better analyzed as a kind of love hate relationship with the venerable city
