Ethical Issues In Contemporary Society:

Ethical Issues in Contemporary Society John Howie, George Schedler, 1995 In this volume of Leys Lectures the third collection of Wayne Leys Memorial Lectures six distinguished essayists demonstrate the relevance of ethics to contemporary concerns by constructively exploring major ethical issues deeply embedded in our society The essays written by noted scholars Tom Regan Carol C Gould James Rachels James P Sterba Louis P Pojman and David L Norton focus on issues of feminism the exploitation of animals economic injustice racial prejudice naive moral relativism and the failure of public education Tom Regan and Louis P Pojman both address the issue of animal rights Regan directs his attention to an ethic of care feminism which contends that the ideology of male superiority not only to women but to all creatures must be destroyed By means of a consistency argument he extends ethic of care feminism to the treatment of animals insisting that we must not permit to be done to animals in the name of science what we would not allow to be done to human beings Pojman on the other hand addresses the question of animal rights through a critical analysis of seven theories of the moral status of animals arguing that while animals have no natural rights since they are unable to enter into contracts they do deserve to be treated kindly In his view much animal research could be abandoned without significant loss What rethinking of democracy in terms of freedom and equality is required by economic justice Carol C Gould offers an answer to this question by arguing that economic justice requires that workers control the production process as well as the distribution process Such justice would provide the basis of positive freedom as self development without ignoring the importance of the absence of constraints Taking racial prejudice as his paradigm James Rachels explores the deeper meaning of prejudice and what equality of treatment involves Noting the subtlety of prejudicial reasoning he examines how stereotypes unconscious bias and the human tendency toward rationalization make it difficult even for people of good will to prevent prejudice from influencing their actions James P Sterba invites the reader to consider a different and more general problem of how to persuade people to act for moral reasons To accomplish this aim he shows morality to be a requirement of rationality and the welfare liberal ideal the right to welfare and the right to equal opportunity to be a fusion of the practical ends of five ideals liberty fairness common good androgyny and equality For David L Norton one of our most pressing problems is the failure of our educational system The system fails to enable students to make wise life shaping choices involving vocation marriage children and friendship In order to make good choices human beings must live and work in an environment that provides experiences that authenticate personal truths indispensable to worthy living These personal truths include direct acquaintance with vocational alternatives and participation in actual service to others Collectively these essays bring into sharp focus the urgent moral issues confronting our society and the need for ongoing discussion and examination of these issues in order to gain deeper understanding of and possible solutions to the problems they present Ethical Issues that Matter Enoch Hammond Oglesby, 2002 Faith communities have always struggled with the questions of ethical method and cultural inclusivity

Contemporary Society John A Perry, Erna K Perry, 2015-08-27 This best selling text emphasizes that social and cultural changes are the pervasive realities of our era One of the main themes of Contemporary Society is that the transition from an industrial to a post industrial order in the modern world is fraught with difficulties as was the transition from an agricultural to an industrial order in an earlier era Within this framework we can observe the increasing fragmentation of the social order which tends to lead people away from community and a common purpose and often invites conflict and disunity At the same time countervailing social forces are also at work providing some stability some shelter in the storm Finally societies are faced with the rapid and transformative power of information technology a fact that propels separate groups of people into a global entity

The Sheqel Oblap Franciscus Mejia, 2011-10. At this point, the general intelligence strategic field presents a numerable of intelligence gathering activity. The strategic informer non-fiction manuscript The Sheqel puts forward today's read-caster for an introductory look in the general intelligence knowledge. The Sheqel offers a collection of loaded, modernized intelligence subjects from the pre-world wars to modern-day science and art topics. The Sheqel was produced in all good standing and delivers a dynamic knowledge foundation for its read-casters, as intelligence subject should be available. It enhances the reader with satisfactory contemporary psychology, significant pre-law understanding, natural science facts, cleverness, analytical tool concepts, and most importantly, polished technological essence. The Sheqel: A Strategic Intelligence Manuscript, published in the US in 2011, describes intelligence as the general intelligencer would describe it in a composition of religion, social, and philosophical literature, and the cited passages that explore many interests in the contemporary intelligence field. I am Oblap Mejia; however, you may know me by Franciscus. This is my first book about the general intelligence field I have written. I satisfied a B.A. in Psychology and a minor in Biology with honor. I am 34 years old and live in Hollywood, CA, where I am an actor attending The Film and Acting Academy. Aside from all else, I consider myself an actor in Hollywood, CA. In addition to being an actor, I also am a general intelligencer, student election representative. I earned an advanced technical degree in Legal Assisting and an Associate in Science in Paralegal Studies. I have attended as subject in the film festivals. I have dedication and commitment to furthering my knowledge in order to become open to promising roads in my career. I enjoy reading L. Ron Hubbard, western novels, acting, film festival volunteering, intern hunting, gun club, and most importantly, intelligence studies. I am looking forward to a nice start at a second book.

The Tapestry of Ethics
 Pasquale De Marco, 2025-04-07. Ethics is a tapestry woven from the threads of different cultures, traditions, and beliefs. It is a complex and ever-changing field of study, but at its core, ethics is about the search for the good life and the right way to live. This book is an invitation to explore the tapestry of ethics. It takes readers on a journey through the major ethical traditions of East and West, from ancient Greece to modern China. Along the way, readers will encounter a diverse cast of philosophers, religious leaders, and social reformers who have grappled with the big questions of life: What is the meaning of life? What is right and wrong? How should we live? The book begins with an introduction to the basic concepts of ethics, such as morality, values, and virtues. It then explores the major Western ethical traditions, including ancient Greek ethics, Judeo-Christian ethics, and modern Western ethics. The book also examines three non-Western ethical traditions: Indian, Buddhist, and Chinese Confucian ethics, and Chinese Taoist ethics. The book concludes with a discussion of the challenges facing ethics in the 21st century These challenges include the rise of artificial intelligence the global climate crisis and the increasing interconnectedness of the world The book argues that ethics is more important than ever in a world that is facing these complex and unprecedented challenges This book is an essential resource for anyone interested in learning more about ethics It is written in a clear and accessible style and it is filled with examples and case studies that help to illustrate the ethical concepts that are discussed The book is also a valuable resource for students of philosophy religion and social studies The Tapestry of Ethics is a book that will challenge your assumptions expand your horizons and inspire you to think deeply about the meaning of life It is a book that will stay with you long after you finish reading it If you like this book write a review

Shaped by Stories Marshall Gregory,1997-09-01 In his latest book Marshall Gregory begins with the premise that our lives are saturated with stories ranging from magazines books films television and blogs to the words spoken by politicians pastors and teachers He then explores the ethical implication of this nearly universal human obsession with narratives Through careful readings of Katherine Anne Porter s The Grave Thurber s The Catbird Seat as well as David Copperfield and Wuthering Heights Gregory asks and answers the question How do the stories we absorb in our daily lives influence the kinds of persons we turn out to be Shaped by Stories is accessible to anyone interested in ethics popular culture and education It will encourage students and teachers to become more thoughtful and perceptive readers of stories

LGBTQI Inclusivity, Homosexuality, and Same-Sex Marriage in the Catholic Church Vivencio O Ballano,2024-08-19 This book employs an experimental approach to critically re examine the Catholic Church s traditional teachings on homosexuality heterosexual marriage and Lesbian Gay

Bisexual Transgender Queer and Intersexual LGBTQI inclusivity in light of Pope Francis's inductive synodal theology and modern sociology With the growing complexity of today's culture and the advancement of social science research it argues that the empirical foundations of the traditional Church's doctrines on topical moral issues need to be scientifically reassessed so as to update them in view of Francis's synodality and sociological research on gender sexuality and same sex union Discussion pertaining to whether homosexuality is naturally disordered and whether heterosexuality is the only criterion for Christian marriage remain lingering empirical issues in the Church that require a sociological and inductive synodal analysis rather than the traditional deductive philosophical and theological method that is largely based on natural law theory This topical book is of appeal to scholars and students of sociology theology as well as religious biblical and gender studies
