Confidence Games Tanina Rostain, Milton C. Regan, Jr., 2014-05-02 The rise and fall of a tax shelter industry that enabled some of America's richest citizens to avoid paying their fair share of taxes For ten boom powered years at the turn of the twenty first century some of America's most prominent law and accounting firms created and marketed products that enabled the very rich including newly minted dot com millionaires to avoid paying their fair share of taxes by claiming benefits not recognized by law These abusive domestic tax shelters bore such exotic names as BOSS BLIPS and COBRA and were developed by such prestigious firms as KPMG and Ernst heightened competition for professional services the relaxation of tax practitioner norms against aggressive advice and the creation of complex financial instruments that made abusive shelters harder to detect By 2004 the tax shelter boom was over leaving failed firms disgraced professionals and prison sentences in its wake Rostain and Regan's cautionary tale remains highly relevant today as lawyers and accountants continue to face intense competitive pressure and regulators still struggle to keep pace with accelerating financial risk and innovation
