Ethics In Hospice Care Challenges To Hospice Values In A Changing Health Care Environment:

Ethics in Hospice Care Bruce Jennings, 2018-10-24 Ethics in Hospice Care Challenges to Hospice Values in a Changing Health Care Environment explores the pressures and challenges facing hospice and aims to produce new studies and educational materials on hospice ethics to help professionals in the field. Many of the tensions felt by caregivers and practitioners in hospice stem from uncertainty about the ethical mission of hospice and the ethical dilemmas arising in practice. This volume, a result of The Hastings Center and the Hospice Foundation of America's project on Ethical and Policy Issues in Hospice Care, addresses these issues in a clear, accessible way. Ethics in Hospice Care outlines the economic, social, and cultural challenges facing hospice care in a changing society and a changing health care environment. Issues of concern include financial pressures as policymakers limit Medicare spending; organizational pressures as hospice organizations enter a variety of new relationships with managed care organizations, home health agencies, and hospitals; cultural and social challenges as Americans wrestle with moral and legal issues of death and dying; and physician-assisted suicide. The rapid and unplanned growth of the movement from a single hospice in 1973 to over 2500 today. While primarily for practicing hospice professionals, Ethics in Hospice Care is vital reading for everyone concerned with assisted suicide, patients' rights, quality of life, managed care, physician referral, professional development, pain management, quality of care, and ethics committees.

Ethical Foundations of Palliative Care for Alzheimer Disease Ruth B. Purtilo, Henk A.M.J. ten Have, 2010-09-01 Alzheimer disease afflicts more than twelve million people worldwide and its incidence is increasing at a staggering rate. People with the disorder are living longer than those in previous generations and they require interventions for quality of life issues associated with palliative care. However, the symptoms of Alzheimer disease often fail to place such persons into settings where palliative care resources are available to them. Indeed, clinicians and other caregivers may be unsure about what constitutes effective palliation in these cases. At the same time, the ethical issues involved in providing end-of-life care to persons with Alzheimer disease remain on the margins of mainstream bioethics. In Ethical Foundations of Palliative Care for Alzheimer Disease, leading ethicists and clinicians from the United States and Europe explore ethical and scientific concerns about the diagnosis and prognosis of Alzheimer disease, challenges arising from applying palliative procedures to its symptoms, key philosophical and theological concepts central to our understanding of the disease and to end-of-life decisions, and the changing patterns of relevant medical, social, and economic policies. Cross-cultural, multidisciplinary, and state-of-the-art, this volume is a unique and important resource for bioethicists, clinicians, and policy makers everywhere. Contributors: David A. Ethical Issues in Cancer Patient Care Peter Angelos, 2007-11-30 Peter Angelos Numerous ethical issues arise in the care of oncology patients Although much has been written in the last several decades on ethical issues in caring for patients few volumes have sought to focus the exploration on ethical issues particularly relevant to the care of cancer patients In 1999 the first edition of this book was published Since that time many changes have occurred in how some cancers are diagnosed and treated but the central ethical issues have continued to challenge patients families and their health care providers All of the chapters from the prior edition have been updated and there are seven new chapters in this expanded edition In this second edition the perspectives on what is an ethical issue have been broadened by bringing authors of differing backgrounds into the discussion In Chapter 1 the perspective of a cancer patient is provided as an open letter to physicians Although Parvez Kamangar is providing only one patient s perspective this is an essential voice that is not often heard in texts on medical ethics In Chapters 2 and 3 the issues of communication and the physician patient relationship are explored in order to better understand how the needs of patients and families can be met In Chapter 4 Professor Tod Chambers highlights the challenges to providing ethical care to patients in a multicultural society

Pain and Palliative Care in the Developing World and Marginalized Populations M.r. Rajagapol, 2004-03-31 Essential information for anyone involved in

The Dying Process Julia Lawton, 2002-01-04 Taking as its focus a highly emotive area of study The Dying Process draws on the experiences of daycare and hospice patients to provide a forceful new analysis of the period of decline prior to death

Placing the bodily realities of dying very firmly centre stage and questioning the ideology central to the modern hospice movement of enabling patients to live until they die Julia Lawton shows how our concept of a good death is open to interpretation Her study examines the non negotiable effects of a patient s bodily deterioration on their sense of self and in so doing offers a powerful new perspective in embodiment and emotion in death and dying A detailed and subtle ethnographic study The Dying Process engages with a range of deeply complex and ethically contentious issues surrounding the care of dying patients in hospices and elsewhere

On the Border Ginger Ochoa Poag,2010 On the Border Cultural Competency with Hispanics in Hospice is a one of a kind resource for healthcare professionals It provides a wealth of ready to use knowledge and practical insights into understanding Hispanic culture and traditions as well as providing non Hispanic healthcare professionals with the tools and techniques needed to improve their quality of care This guide also includes a number of useful questionnaires English to Spanish translations assessment forms and case studies It illuminates obscure subjects such as cultural taboos the dying process and the role that superstition and folk medicine play in Hispanic culture

Assisted Suicide Lois Snyder,Arthur L. Caplan,2002 There is no constitutional right to physician assisted suicide says the U S Supreme Court Most states have laws against it but states can also allow it as Oregon has done others are considering legalization Still very little guidance has been offered about its practice Assisted Suicide Finding Common Ground fills that void A diverse group of experts some for some against provide a framework for thinking about what assisted suicide particularly physician assisted suicide is and how its legalized practice might be guided The book does not take a position on the continuing debate about the morality or wisdom of legalizing assisted suicide But physician assisted suicide is now taking place and the more pressing concerns are those pertaining to its implementation Editors Lois Snyder and Art Caplan attempt to find common ground on those real world concerns Among the questions asked and answered are What is assisted suicide Is physician assisted suicide different from refusal of treatment Are there alternatives to assisted suicide How useful are currently available guidelines for physician assisted suicide Who should have access to what Does assisted suicide necessarily mean physician assisted suicide Can the practice be effectively and meaningfully regulated How should physicians respond to requests for assisted suicide Assisted suicide is one of the most ethically challenging issues in medicine and bioethics defining who we are and want to be as individuals and as a society This book takes a hard look at alternatives to the practice the implications for the patient physician relationship who should write guidelines and how to regulate physician assisted suicide and establish safeguards so that it is voluntary and an option of last resort

Ethical Dilemmas at the End of Life Kenneth J. Doka,Bruce Jennings,Charles A. The Contribution of Occupation to the Good Death Noralyn Davel Jacques,2001 Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging Barbara Berkman,2006-02-09 The Handbook of Social Work in Health and Aging is the first reference to combine the fields of health care aging and social work in a single authoritative volume These areas are too often treated as discrete entities while the reality is that all social workers deal with issues in health and aging on a daily basis regardless of practice specialization. As the baby boomers age the impact on practice in health and aging will be dramatic and social workers need more specialized knowledge about aging health care and the resources available to best serve older adults and their families. The volume's 102 original chapters and 13 overviews written by the most experienced and prominent gerontological health care scholars in the United States and across the world provide social work practitioners and educators with up to date knowledge of evidence based practice guidelines for effectively assessing and treating older adults and their families, new models for intervention in both community based practice and institutional care and knowledge of significant policy and research issues in health and aging. A truly monumental resource, this handbook represents the best research on health and aging available to social workers today.

Foundations of Nursing: Enrolled Nurses Susie Gray, Leanne Ferris, Lois Elaine White, Gena Duncan, Wendy Bauml, 2018-08-31. Designed for the Diploma of Nursing Foundations of Nursing Enrolled Nurses Australia and New Zealand edition is mapped to the HLT54115 training package competencies and aligns to the revised Standards for Practice for the Enrolled Nurse. Written to equip the enrolled nurse with current knowledge and basic problem solving and critical thinking skills to successfully meet the demanding challenges of today's health care, the text clearly explains concepts and definitions and scaffolds knowledge. The student friendly text provides a clear and fresh approach to the study of nursing; it is straightforward and heavily illustrated with colour photos of procedures.

Advanced Practice Palliative Nursing Constance Dahlin, Patrick Coyne, Betty Ferrell, 2016. Advanced Practice Palliative Nursing is the first text devoted to advanced practice nursing care of the seriously ill and dying. This comprehensive work addresses all aspects of palliative care including physical, psychological, social and spiritual needs. Chapters include symptoms common in serious illness, pediatric palliative care, spiritual and existential issues, issues around the role and function of the advanced practice nurse, APN reimbursement and nursing leadership on palliative care teams. Each chapter contains case examples and a strong evidence base to support the highest quality of care. The text is written by leaders in the field and includes authors who have pioneered the role of the advanced practice nurse in palliative care. This volume offers advanced practice content and practical resources for clinical practice across all settings of care and encompassing all ages from pediatrics to geriatrics.
