who has spent time in a hospital as a patient or family member of a patient hopes that those who attend to us or our loved ones are at their professional best and that they care for us in ways that console us and preserve our dignity This book takes an intimate look at how health care practitioners struggle to live up to their professional and caring ideals through or during twelve hour shifts on the hospital floor From 3 200 hours of participant observation and 500 hours of follow up interviews with twenty one doctors thirty registered nurses twenty one respiratory therapists twenty medical social workers and eighteen occupational physical and speech therapists the authors create a complex picture of the workplace conflicts that different types of health care practitioners face Though all these groups espouse caring ideals professional interests and a curative orientation dominate in patient care and interoccupational relations Because emotive caring is not supported by the organization of health care in the hospital it becomes an individual virtue that overworked staff find hard to perform and it takes on an ideological form that obscures the status hierarchy among practitioners Conflicts between practitioners rest upon the ranking of each group s knowledge base They manifest in efforts to work as a team or set limits on practitioner responsibilities and in differing views on unionization Mechanics of Biomaterials Lisa A. Hodgkinson is one of the most important contributors to the field of educational administration This collection of essays open up the philosophical foundations of ethical educational administration by reviewing his writings and exploring the ethical theories of major philosophers as they apply to administration and leadership Ethical Foundations of Educational Administration is published in honour of the work of Christopher Hodgkinson. It is divided into two sections. The first comprises biographical essays and a critical evaluation of Professor Hodgkinson's work focusing on his personal and intellectual contributions to a moral theory of educational administration and leadership. The second section looks at how his moral philosophy can inform administrative practice. The work of a broad range of philosophers is discussed from the pre-20th century theories of Aquinas, Adam Smith and Kant to the pragmatists Peirce, James and Dewey, Heidegger, MacIntyre, Bourdieu, Churchland and Thagard. Christopher Hodgkinson's definition of administration as philosophy in action is now famous within the field. This collection illustrates the essential truth of that maxim showing that moral philosophy approached in the spirit promoted by Hodgkinson has both practical and critical purpose when brought to bear upon educational administration and leadership.

The Body Nicholas J. Fox, 2012-02-27 This is the first volume in Polity's new Key Themes in Health and Social Care series providing applied introductions to core issues and topics for allied health care professionals.

Contested Classrooms Parkland Institute, 1999-03 Education has become a battlefield, the classroom the arena where the contest is fought. The 1997 Ontario teachers strike, the federal government's Millennium Scholarship and a wave of protests across the country are among the signals that the war is heating up. Alberta stands as a Canadian model of radical education reform propelled by economic necessity. But is all reform necessarily right or good and who decides? A range of commentators, teachers, scholars, parents and others discuss the conflict in Alberta's schools.

Comptes Rendus Philosophiques, 1999 Beyond Developmentality Debal Deb, 2009 EBOOK: Caring for People with Chronic Conditions: A Health System Perspective Ellen Nolte, Martin McKee, 2008-09-16 Overall the book walks a delicate balance between evidence and advocacy regarding the care of people with chronic conditions. Nolte and McKee conclude the volume with the following: A first step is to recognize that something must be done. A second, which we hope will be facilitated by the evidence provided in this book, is to realize that something actually can be done and that they can do it. p 240. The overarching desire to match the need for evidence with the reality that advocates, including policy makers, need a reasoned voice makes the book well suited to health policy deliberations. International Journal of Integrated Care. The complex nature of many chronic diseases which affect people many different ways requires a multifaceted response that will meet the needs of the individual patient. Yet while everyone agrees that the traditional relationship between an individual patient and a single doctor is inappropriate there is much less agreement about what should replace it Many countries are now experimenting with new approaches to delivering care in ways that do meet the complex needs of people with chronic disorders redesigning delivery systems to coordinate activities across the continuum of care Yet while integration and coordination have an intuitive appeal policy makers have had little to help them decide how to move forward The book systematically examines some of the key issues involved in the care of those with chronic diseases It synthesises the evidence on what we know works or does not in different circumstances From an international perspective it addresses the prerequisites for effective policies and management of chronic disease Taking a whole systems approach the book Describes the burden of chronic disease in Europe Explores the economic case for investing in chronic disease management Examines key challenges posed by the growing complexity in healthcare including prevention the role of self management the healthcare workforce and decision support Examines systems for financing chronic care Analyses the prerequisites for effective policies for chronic care Caring for People with Chronic Conditions is key reading for health policy makers and health care professionals as well as postgraduate students studying health policy health services research health economics public policy and management Contributors Reinhard Busse Elisabeth Chan Anna Dixon Carl Ardy Dubois Isabelle Durand Zaleski Daragh K Fahey Nicholas Glasgow Monique Hejmans Izzat Jiwani Martyn Jones C cile Knai Nicholas Mays Martin McKee Ellen Nolte Thomas E Novotny Joceline Pomerleau Mieke Rijken Dhigna Rubiano Debbie Singh Marc Suhrcke
