Ethics Subjectivity Truth 1st Edition:

Ethics Michel Foucault, 1997 Michel Foucault is generally considered one of the most brilliant and influential philosophers of the twentieth century yet much of his writing has remained unpublished and or unavailable in English It is only recently that the French publisher Gallimard issued Dis et Ecrits the first complete collection of everything Foucault published outside of his monographs Ethics the first of three volumes in the collection provides a lucid and accessible overview of Foucault's work Included in the first section of this volume are his groundbreaking analyses of penal institutions psychiatry biopolitics and the modern subject A second section contains interviews along with Foucault's key writings on ethics Winner of the Choice Outstanding Academic Book Award

Considering Ethics in Dance, Theatre and

Performance Fiona Bannon, 2018-08-01 This book asks important questions about making performance through the means of collaboration and co created practice It argues that we can align ethics and aesthetics with collaborative performance to realise the importance of being in association with one another and being engaged through our shared imaginations Evident in the examples of practice visited in this study is the attention given by a number of practitioners to the development of shared co operative modes of creation Here we can appreciate ethical work as being relational forged in association with the others as we cultivate ideas that matter In looking at a range of work from practitioners including Meg Stuart Rosemary Lee Deufert Philschke and Fevered Sleep Considering Ethics in Dance Theatre and Performance explores ways that we rehearse by attending to ethics aesthetics and co creation In learning to listen to observe to co operate and to negotiate these practitioners reveal the ways that they bring their work into existence through the transmission of shared meaning

On the Self: Discourses of Mental Health and Education Julie Allan, Valerie Harwood, 2022-09-24 This book examines the emergence of psychologised discourses of the self in education and considers their effects on children and young people on relationships both in and out of school and on educational practices It undertakes a Foucauldian genealogy of the discourses of the self in education in order to scrutinise the focal points of experience for children and young people Part One of the book offers a critical analysis of the discourses of the self that operate within interventions of self esteem self concept self efficacy and self regulation and their incursions into education Part Two provides counter narratives of the self drawn principally from the arts and politics and providing alternative and potentially radical ways of when and how the self might speak It also articulates how teachers may support children and young people in giving voice to these counter narratives as they move through school

The Discourse of Palestinian-Israeli Relations Sean F. McMahon, 2010-04-15 This Foucault inspired analysis of the degeneration of the Oslo Process into direct Palestinian Israeli violence critically examines the ideas and practices that define Palestinian Israeli relations The text offers a radically different peace proposal that moves far beyond exhausted calls for confidence building measures and or an end to settlement construction

Afterimage of Empire Zahid R. Chaudhary, 2012 How the colonial photograph revolutionized the very nature of perception After Discourse Bjørnar Olsen, Mats Burström, Caitlin DeSilvey, Þóra Pétursdóttir, 2020-12-21 After Discourse is an interdisciplinary response to the recent trend away from linguistic and textual approaches and towards things and their affects. The new millennium brought about serious changes to the intellectual landscape. Favoured approaches associated with the linguistic and the textual turn lost some of their currency and were followed by a new curiosity and concern for things and their natures. Gathering contributions from archaeology, heritage studies, history, geography, literature, and philosophy, After Discourse offers a range of reflections on what things are, how we become affected by them, and the ethical concerns they give rise to. Through a varied constellation of case studies, it explores ways of dealing with matters which fall outside the othered from or simply cannot be grasped through perspectives derived solely from language and discourse. After Discourse provides challenging new perspectives for scholars and students interested in other than textual encounters between people and the objects with which we share the world.

The Nature of Masculinity Steve Garlick, 2016-10-11 Social theorists have argued that as the complexity of our ecosystems becomes more apparent, the line between nature and culture, human and nonhuman, and technology and bodies becomes less distinct. Yet contemporary masculinity studies has generally failed to incorporate this new way of thinking. In this penetrating analysis of the relationship between gender and nature, Steve Garlick proposes that masculinity is best understood as a technology that shapes both our engagement with the natural world and how we define freedom. Extending the work of the Frankfurt School and Heidegger's critique of modern technology, The Nature of Masculinity draws on case studies and new materialist theories to argue that the essence of technology is not in mechanical devices but in a particular relationship to natural forces. Within this critical framework, masculinity is a technology of embodiment and freedom does not lie in the domination of nature but rather in fostering a new relation to it.

The First Apocalypse of James Mikael Haxby, 2023-08-03 In this study, Mikael Haxby offers a new analysis of a little studied early Christian text. He uses recently discovered manuscript evidence to place the First Apocalypse of James in ancient debates about political violence and sexual difference.

The Hermeneutics of the Subject NA NA, 2016-09-27 The Hermeneutics of the Subject is the third volume in the collection of Michel Foucault's lectures at the Collège de France, one of the world's most prestigious institutions. Faculty at the Collège give public lectures in which they present works in progress on any subject of their choosing. Foucault's wide-ranging lectures influenced his groundbreaking works like The History of Sexuality and Discipline and Punish. In the lectures comprising this volume, Foucault focuses on how the self and the care of the self were conceived during the period of antiquity, beginning with Socrates. The problems of the ethical formation of the self, Foucault argues, form the background for our own questions about subjectivity and remain at the center of contemporary moral thought. This series of lectures throws new light on Foucault's final works and shows the full depth of his engagement with ancient thought. Lucid and provocative, The Hermeneutics of the Subject reveals Foucault at the height of his powers.

Migration, Borders and Education Jessica Gerrard, Arathi Sriprakash, 2020-05-21 This book brings together high quality international research which examines how migration and borders are experienced in education It presents new conceptualisations of education as a border regime demonstrating the need for closer attention to border thinking and diasporic and transnational analyses in education We live in a time in which borders material and political are being reasserted with profound social consequences Both the containment and global movement of people dominate political concerns and inevitably impact educational systems and practices Providing a global outlook the chapters in this book present in depth sociological analyses of the ways in which borders are constituted and reconstituted through educational practice from a diverse range of national contexts Key issues taken up by authors include immigration status and educational inequalities educational inclusion and internal migration curricula nationalism and global citizenship education and labour the educational experiences of refugees and the politics of refugee education student migration and adult education and nationalism colonialism and racialization This book was originally published as a special issue of International Studies in Sociology of Education

Poetics of Listening Brandon LaBelle, 2025-03-20 In Poetics of Listening renowned sound studies scholar Brandon LaBelle brings critical attention to listening as a practice one that can wield significant impact onto individual interpersonal and community wellbeing From self determination to social participation somatic healing to collective repair political recognition to ecological engagement listening is vitally influential in negotiating our most fundamental challenges Through thoughtful examinations of listening's role across society Poetics of Listening convincingly shows listening to be not only important to social struggles but a form of poetic imagination and communion It moves listening toward a broader application and view which includes the ability to listen across human and more than human worlds to listen into or with one's body or to listen out for futures to come as well as addressing unfinished histories and it challenges us to think more broadly about what it means to hear and be heard within today's complex environments

An Introduction to AI and Intercultural Communication Education Fred Dervin, Hamza R'boul, 2025-09-17 An Introduction to AI and Intercultural Communication Education is the first historic volume to explore the intersection of AI and intercultural communication education interrogating both the transformative possibilities and ethical dilemmas posed by emerging technologies Through diverse scholarly perspectives the book examines how AI tools ranging from language models such as ChatGPT and DeepSeek to generative image systems could reshape the way we teach research and conceptualise interculturality While AI offers innovative opportunities for virtual exchanges automated translation and accessible learning it also risks reinforcing stereotypes Western centric epistemologies and reductive narratives if used uncritically The contributors address pressing questions Can AI facilitate decolonial and reflexive approaches to intercultural communication education or does it inevitably reproduce dominant paradigms How can educators harness the potential of AI while safeguarding against its pitfalls such as algorithmic bias and the erasure of indigenous knowledge systems Combining theoretical critique with case studies the volume highlights the need for ethical frameworks that prioritise epistemic justice pluralistic perspectives and human agency in AI assisted intercultural communication and education This book is an indispensable resource for students researchers and educators interested in the complexities of technology mediated learning as well as the broader fields of higher education intercultural studies and internationalisation and globalisation

Refugee Voices Rob Sharp, 2024-03-12 This book explores how participatory creative production can allow refugees to be recognised in emotional legal and social ways It also explains how decisions around participation in these forms of creative production can equally exclude refugee voices from the public sphere inhibit recognition and in fact lead to refugee misrecognition Building on the concept of performative refugeeeness it considers how refugee voices are ambivalently enacted in alternative forms of media and considers the differences between the refugee voices expressed in and beyond them in contexts surrounding their creation Furthermore it analyses the forms of refugee voices expressed in such creative projects which encompass fiction photography video audio and or drawing in linear as well as messy and interrupted ways and assesses how promises of offering a voice might claim to have been fulfilled in such cases The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of migration and refugee studies media and culture studies performance studies and communication studies

Thinking Sex with the Great Whore Luis Menéndez-Antuña, 2018-04-17 Many scholars in Biblical and Revelation studies have written at length about the imperial and patriarchal implications of the figure of the Whore of Babylon. However much of the focus has been on the links to the Roman Empire and ancient attitudes towards gender. This book adds another layer to the conversation around this evocative figure by pursuing an ideological critique of the Great Whore that takes into account contemporary understandings of sexuality and in so doing advances a demoralization of apparent sexual deviancy both in the present and in the past. Offering an emancipatory reading of Revelation 17-18 using Foucauldian postcolonial and queer historiographies, this study sets out alternative paths for identity construction in Biblical texts. By using these alternative critical lenses, the author argues that the common neglect of the ethical and political impact of Biblical texts in the present can be overcome. This in turn allows for fresh reflection on the study of the Bible and its implications for progressive politics. Situated at the intersection of Revelation Studies, Biblical Studies and Hermeneutics, as well as Contextual Liberationist Theologies and Queer and Postcolonial Criticism, this is a cutting edge study that will be of keen interest to scholars of Theology and Religious Studies.

Wrong-Doing, Truth-Telling

Michel Foucault, 2014-06-04

Three years before his death, Michel Foucault delivered a series of lectures at the Catholic University of Louvain that until recently remained almost unknown. These lectures, which focus on the role of avowal or confession in the determination of truth and justice, provide the missing link between Foucault's early work on madness, delinquency and sexuality and his later explorations of subjectivity in Greek and Roman antiquity. Ranging broadly from Homer to the twentieth century, Foucault traces the early use of truth-telling in ancient Greece and follows it through to practices of self-examination in monastic times. By the nineteenth century, the avowal of wrongdoing was no longer sufficient to satisfy the call for justice; there remained the question of who the criminal was and what formative factors contributed to his wrongdoing. The call for psychiatric expertise marked the birth of the discipline of psychiatry in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, as well as its widespread recognition as the foundation of criminology and modern criminal justice. Published here for the first time, the 1981 lectures have been superbly translated by Stephen W. Sawyer and expertly edited and extensively annotated by Fabienne Brion and Bernard E. Harcourt. They are accompanied by two contemporaneous interviews with Foucault in which he elaborates on a number of the key themes. An essential companion to Discipline and Punish, Wrong-Doing, Truth-Telling will take its place as one of the most significant works of Foucault to appear in decades and will be necessary reading for all those interested in his thought.
