Ethiopia The Challenge Of Democracy From Below:

Ethiopia Bahru Zewde, Siegfried Pausewang, 2002 Democracy is a concept reflecting European philosophies struggles and concerns Many Ethiopian ethnic groups have traditions which may offer more satisfactory and culturally acceptable foundations for a sovereignty of the people through time honored ways of voicing political ideas ironic observations and vital interests In line with modern urban life Ethiopians also organize and express their interests in non governmental organizations the independent press and advocacy groups representing political and social alternatives The contributors to this book analyze the democratic potential of these movements and practices their ability to give a voice to the view from below and their potential contribution to a more genuine participation by the majority of Ethiopians in democratic decision making and bringing the sovereignty of the people a step closer to reality Ethiopia B (Bahru); Pausewang Zewde (S (Siegfried).), 2002 Enforcement of Human Rights in Ethiopia Yohannes Eneyew Ayalew , Wondemagegen Tadesse Goshu, 2023-05-25 Enforcement has not been the most practiced business in the field of human rights in Ethiopia The absence of effective enforcement can be attributed to various factors including the absence of a normative framework insufficient political commitment inadequate institutional capacity and resources and limited awareness Despite recent legal reform initiatives purportedly driven by human rights demands it remains uncertain whether enforcement has undergone any significant changes Effective enforcement of human rights necessitates the existence of robust multi layered institutions at the national sub regional regional and international levels However in Ethiopia concerns have been raised about the capability of numerous normative instruments and mechanisms of human rights This volume comprises a collection of papers presented at a hybrid conference held at the Hilton Hotel Addis in April 2022 The conference organized by the School of Law of Addis Ababa University in collaboration with Friedrich Ebert Stiftung Ethiopia centered around the theme Enforcement of Human Rights in Ethiopia Old and New Challenges Its primary objective was to identify and analyze both old and new challenges in human rights enforcement in Ethiopia and propose strategies to overcome them The editors of this volume intend for it to address scholarly gaps in the implementation and enforcement of human rights in Ethiopia Among the notable findings from the chapters included in this volume is a significant disparity between recently reformed laws passed by the parliament and their execution by the executive body This disconnect demonstrates a failure to prioritize and enforce human rights in the country As such the volume suggests that the Ethiopian government must take the business of human rights enforcement seriously Village Gone Viral Marit Tolo Østebø, 2021-02-16 In 2001 Ethiopian Television aired a documentary about a small rural village called Awra Amba where women ploughed men worked in the kitchen and so called harmful traditional practices did not exist The documentary radically challenged prevailing images of Ethiopia as a gender conservative and aid dependent place and Awra Amba became a symbol of gender equality and sustainable development in Ethiopia and beyond Village Gone Viral uses the example of Awra Amba to consider the widespread circulation and use of modeling practices in an increasingly transnational and digital policy world With a particular focus on traveling models policy models that become viral through various vectors ranging from NGOs and multilateral organizations to the Internet Marit Tolo steb critically examines the hidden dimensions of models and model making While a policy model may be presented as a best practice one that can be scaled up and successfully applied to other places the local impacts of the model paradigm are far more ambivalent potentially increasing social inequalities reinforcing social stratification and concealing injustice With this book steb ultimately calls for a reflexive critical anthropology of the production circulation and use of models as instruments for social change

A Theory of African Constitutionalism Berihun Adugna Gebeye,2021 Utilizing detailed case studies from Nigeria Ethiopia and South Africa this title traces African constitutionalism from precolonial times to the present The volume offers a new framework for understanding African constitutionalism and a range of practical proposals for its future development

Ethiopian Labour Migration to the Gulf and South Africa Kefale, Asnake,Mohammed, Zerihun,2016-05-11 The major objective of the research is to produce evidence based knowledge on the social and economic impacts of labour migration by looking at the challenges and opportunities of Ethiopian labour migration to the Gulf and South Africa On the one hand international migration from Ethiopia could be considered as an aspect of development problem The major push factors that forces Ethiopian migrants to the Gulf and South Africa are economic developmental problems ranging from lack of employment opportunities to wage differentials On the other hand international migration could be considered as an important resource that could be tapped for accelerating socio economic development At the general level this research aims to examine the successes and failures of policies and institutions in realising the potentials of international migration for socio economic development of the country and minimizing its adverse impacts At the same time the growing problem of illegal migration will be examined

Human Rights and Development in the new Millennium Paul Gready,Wouter Vandenhoe,2013-10-23 In recent years human rights have assumed a central position in the discourse surrounding international development while human rights agencies have begun to more systematically address economic and social rights This edited volume brings together distinguished scholars to explore the merging of human rights and development agendas at local national and international levels They examine how this merging affects organisational change operational change and the role of relevant actors in bringing about change With a focus on practice and policy rather than pure theory the volume also addresses broader questions such as what human rights and development can learn from one another and whether the connections between the two fields are increasing or declining The book is structured in three sections Part I looks at approaches that combine human rights and development including chapters on drivers of change indicators donor and legal empowerment of the poor Part II focuses on organisational contexts and includes chapters on the UN at the country level EU development cooperation PLAN s children s rights based approach and ActionAid s human rights based approach Part III examines country contexts including chapters on the ILO in various settings the Congo Ethiopia and Revisiting Metaphors in International Relations Theory Michael P. Marks,2018-01-08 This book presents an analysis of how metaphors are essential elements in the study of international relations It acknowledges the fact that theory and practice in international relations often rest on common metaphorical concepts which have implications for the ways people around the world pursue their lives. Because of the increased attention metaphors have received as integral elements in political discourse, there is a need to investigate metaphorical concepts that are not neutral in their implications for understanding international relations. Inasmuch as government policy is shaped by metaphorical concepts that originate in the academic realm and given that scholarly works are therefore partially involved in inspiring policy, the author subjects a range of metaphors in international relations theory to critical interrogation.

Gendering Knowledge in Africa and the African Diaspora Toyin Falola, Olajumoke Yacob-Haliso, 2017-07-14

Gendering Knowledge in Africa and the African Diaspora addresses the question of to what extent the history of gender in Africa is appropriately inscribed in narratives of power, patriarchy, migration, identity, and women and men's subjection, emasculation, and empowerment. The book weaves together compelling narratives about women, men, and gender relations in Africa and the African Diaspora from multidisciplinary perspectives with a view to advancing original ways of understanding these subjects. The chapters achieve three things: first, they deliberately target long-held but erroneous notions about patriarchy, power, gender, migration, and masculinity in Africa and of the African Diaspora, vigorously contesting these and debunking them; second, they unearth previously marginalized and little-known histories depicting the dynamics of gender and power in places ranging from Angola to Arabia to America and in different time periods, decidedly gendering the previously male-dominated discourse; and third, they ultimately aim to re-write the stories of women and gender relations in Africa and in the African Diaspora. As such, this work is an important read for scholars of African history, gender, and the African Diaspora. This book will be of interest to students and scholars of African Studies, Diaspora Studies, Gender, and History.

Political Handbook of the World 2016-2017 Tom Lansford, 2017-03-31

Published since 1928, the Political Handbook of the World provides timely, thorough, and accurate political information with more in-depth coverage of current political controversies and political parties than any other reference guide. The updated 2016-2017 Edition continues this legacy as the most authoritative source for finding complete facts and analysis on each country's governmental and political makeup. Political science and international relations scholars have revised this edition and made understanding complex foreign affairs and political situations easy and accessible. With more than 200 entries on countries and territories throughout the world housed in one place, these volumes are renowned for their extensive coverage of all major and minor political parties and groups in each political system. They also provide names of key ambassadors and international memberships of each country, plus detailed profiles of more than 30 intergovernmental organizations and United Nations agencies. This comprehensive update will include coverage of current events, issues, crises, and controversies from the course of the last two years, including the closely watched U.S. presidential election, the effect of the Brexit referendum, and installment of a new British prime minister. The extensive investigation and subsequent impeachment of Brazil's president, the far-reaching impact of the Panama Papers scandal, changes in U.S.-Cuba diplomatic relations and the reopening of their embassies The unconstitutional declaration of Gambia as an Islamic State Sentiments about the migrant and refugee crisis across Europe and the influence on policy Also the new For Further Reference feature included for every country entry directs readers to additional resources to continue their research Understanding and Reducing Persistent Poverty in Africa Christopher B. Barrett, Peter Little, Michael Carter, 2013-10-21 Prior work has shown that there is a significant amount of turnover amongst the African poor as households exit and enter poverty Some of this mobility can be attributed to regular movement back and forth in response to exogenous variability in climate prices health etc churning Other crossings of the poverty line reflect permanent shifts in long term well being associated with gains or losses of productive assets or permanent changes in asset productivity due for example to adoption of improved technologies or access to new higher value markets Distinguishing true structural mobility from simple churning is important because it clarifies the factors that facilitate such important structural change Conversely it also helps identify the constraints that may leave other households caught in a trap of persistent structural poverty The papers in this book help to distinguish the types of poverty and to deepen understanding of the structural features and constraints that create poverty traps Such an understanding allows communities local governments and donors to take proactive effective steps to combat persistent poverty in Africa This book was previously published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies

Political Handbook of the World 2018-2019 Tom Lansford, 2019-03-19 The Political Handbook of the World provides timely thorough and accurate political information with more in depth coverage of current political controversies than any other reference guide The updated 2018 2019 edition will continue to be the most authoritative source for finding complete facts and analysis on each country s governmental and political makeup Compiling in one place more than 200 entries on countries and territories throughout the world this volume is renowned for its extensive coverage of all major and minor political parties and groups in each political system It also provides names of key ambassadors and international memberships of each country plus detailed profiles of more than 30 intergovernmental organizations and UN agencies This comprehensive update will include coverage of current events issues crises and controversies from the course of the last two years including Elections across Europe Referendum in Ireland Rohingya genocide in Myanmar The Venezuelan dictatorship The renaming of Swaziland to eSwatini Qatar diplomacy changes Historic meeting between the United States and North Korea Establishment of a new governing coalition in Liberia Making Water Security Hermen Smit, 2020-02-04 This book examines Nile water security through the morphology of the river it uses the always changing form of the river as a theoretical and empirical device to map and understand how infrastructures and discourses dynamically interact with the Nile By bringing a history of two centuries of dam development on the Nile in relation with the drainage of a hill slope in Ethiopia on the one hand and irrigation reform in Sudan on the other the author shows how the scales units and populations figuring in projects to securitize the river emerge through the rearrangement of its water and sediments The analysis of Making water security is more than yet another story of how modern projects of water security have legitimized often violent dispossessions of Nile land and water. It shows how no water user is confined by the roles assigned by project engineers and planners. As ongoing modern development of the river reduces the prospects for new large diversions of water, the targeted subjects of development and modernization make use of newly opened spaces to carve out their own projects. They creatively mobilize old irrigation and drainage infrastructures in ways that escape the universal logic of water security.

Reconfiguring Ethiopia: The Politics of Authoritarian Reform Jon Abbink, Tobias Hagmann, 2016-04-22 This book takes stock of political reform in Ethiopia and the transformation of Ethiopian society since the adoption of multi party politics and ethnic federalism in 1991. Decentralization attempted democratization via ethno national representation and partial economic liberalization have reconfigured Ethiopian society and state in the past two decades. Yet as the contributors to this volume demonstrate, democracy in Ethiopia has not changed the authority structures and the culture of centralist decision making of the past. The political system is tightly engineered and controlled from top to bottom by the ruling Ethiopian Peoples Revolutionary Democratic Front (EPRDF). Navigating between its 1991 announcements to democratise the country and its aversion to power sharing, the EPRDF has established a de facto one party state that enjoys considerable international support. This ruling party has embarked upon a technocratic developmental state trajectory ostensibly aimed at depoliticizing national policy and delegitimizing alternative courses. The contributors analyze the dynamics of authoritarian state building, political ethnicity, electoral politics and state society relations that have marked the Ethiopian polity since the downfall of the socialist Derg regime. Chapters on ethnic federalism, revolutionary democracy, opposition parties, the press, the judiciary, state religion and state foreign donor relations provide the most comprehensive and thought provoking review of contemporary Ethiopian national politics to date. This book is based on a special issue of the Journal of Eastern African Studies.

Decentralization in Ethiopia Taye Assefa, Tegegne Gebre-Egziabher, 2007 The 1991 government change in Ethiopia ushered in a centralised system of governance aimed to bring about harmony and cooperation between different groups and to promote local self rule. It has proceeded in two phases: 1991-2001 centred on creating and powering National Regional Governments termed mid level decentralisation. Further powers were devolved in 2001 through the District Level Decentralization Program and Urban Management Program. This volume brings together studies by the Forum for Social Studies and others with the aim of identifying knowledge gaps for further research and to generate debate on the issues in Ethiopia. The study is in two parts: a literature review seeking to document existing studies and highlight research gaps and field work which involved a rapid assessment of eight weredas and two kifle ketemas in Addis Ababa. The other three studies are synopses of master theses submitted to the Institute of Regional and Local Development Studies of Addis Ababa University.
