Bowlus, 2006 In August 955 the forces of Otto the Great annihilated a huge army of Hungarian mounted archers in an encounter known as the battle of Lechfeld This book provides the first satisfactory explanation for the decisive nature of Otto s victory which effectively ended the incursions of steppe nomads into Western Europe A detailed reconstruction of the battle is preceded by chapters analyzing 10th century Germany and the strengths of nomadic styles of warfare A pioneering aspect is the consideration of environmental factors not only the limits they imposed on the expansion of the nomadic way of life into Europe but also the impact the local environment had on the outcome of the battle Cultural Encounters on Byzantium's Northern Frontier, c. AD 500–700 Andrei Gandila, 2018-10-25 In the sixth century Byzantine emperors secured the provinces of the Balkans by engineering a frontier system of unprecedented complexity Drawing on literary archaeological anthropological and numismatic sources Andrei Gandila argues that cultural attraction was a crucial component of the political frontier of exclusion in the northern Balkans If left unattended the entire edifice could easily collapse under its own weight Through a detailed analysis of the archaeological evidence the author demonstrates that communities living beyond the frontier competed for access to Byzantine goods and reshaped their identity as a result of continual negotiation reinvention and hybridization In the hands of barbarians Byzantine objects such as coins jewelry and terracotta lamps possessed more than functional or economic value bringing social prestige conveying religious symbolism embedded in the iconography and offering a general sense of sharing in the Early Byzantine provincial lifestyle Nationalism and Territory George W. White, 2000 Why do nations come into conflict What factors lead to the horrors of ethnic cleansing This timely book offers clear eyed answers to these questions by exploring how national identity is shaped by place focusing especially on Serbia Hungary and Romania Moving beyond studies of nationalism that consider only the economic and geostrategic value of territory George W White shows that the very core of national identity is intimately bound to specific places Indeed nations define themselves in terms of spaces that have historical linguistic and religious meaning as Serbs have clearly demonstrated in Kosovo These territories are concrete expressions of a nation's identity both past and present With his detailed analysis of the places that define national identity in Southeastern Europe White convincingly shows why territorial disputes so often escalate into war The Materiality of Text – Placement, Perception, and Presence of Inscribed Texts in Classical Antiquity, 2018-10-22 Written by an international cast of experts The Materiality of Text showcases a wide range of innovative methodologies from ancient history literary studies epigraphy and art history and provides a multi disciplinary perspective on the physicality of writing in antiquity The contributions focus on epigraphic texts in order to gauge questions of their placement presence and perception starting with an analysis of the forms of writing and its perception as an act of physical and cultural intervention the volume moves on to consider the texts ubiquity and strategic positioning within epigraphic literary and architectural spaces The contributors rethink modern assumptions about the processes of writing and reading and establish novel ways of thinking about the physical forms of ancient texts The Way Things Aren't: Deconstructing 'Reality' to Facilitate Communication John Backman, Malgorzata Wojcik, 2019-05-15 In a world of continual conflict rethinking the way we communicate with other cultures religions or nations is of paramount importance Standing in the way is the unconscious assumption that our own views reflect the way things are an assumption both inefficient and harmful The Way Things Aren't Deconstructing Reality to Facilitate Communication explores communication as a meeting point between different perceptions of reality presenting how our assumptions and convictions hinder effective communication with those who are different from us Featuring case examples from Somalia Romania and other regions the chapters describe how authorities and the media often create reality to relegate some people cultures languages or religions to the wrong side of the tracks Featuring scholars and practitioners from many disciplines this discussion challenges readers with the idea that in order to remain open for new perspectives we must be aware that things are not always the way things are
