Ethnicity And Economy Race And Class Revisited:

Ethnicity and Economy S. Fenton, H. Bradley, 2002-06-18 The nature of the connection between economic action and structure and ethnic identities receives here a long overdue and incisive re examination The question is addressed theoretically by revisiting the race and class debate and by a wide ranging review of the contexts in which the conjuncture of ethnicity economy is worked out It is also addressed empirically in a series of case studies of ethnically defined groups and their articulation with the economy A combination of established authors and new researchers have made an invaluable contribution to the field

Race and Ethnicity Stephen Spencer, 2014-03-14 Broad ranging and comprehensive this completely revised and updated textbook is a critical guide to issues and theories of race and ethnicity It shows how these concepts came into being during colonial domination and how they became central and until recently unquestioned aspects of social identity and division This book provides students with a detailed understanding of colonial and post colonial constructions changes and challenges to race as a source of social division and inequality Drawing upon rich international case studies from Australia Guyana Canada Malaysia the Caribbean Mexico Ireland and the UK the book clearly explains the different strands of theory which have been used to explain the dynamics of race These are critically scrutinised from biological based ideas to those of critical race theory This key text includes new material on changing multiculturalism immigration and fears about terrorism all of which are critically assessed Incorporating summaries chapter by chapter questions illustrations exercises and a glossary of terms this student friendly text also puts forward suggestions for further project work Broad in scope interactive and accessible this book is a key resource for undergraduate students of race and ethnicity across the social sciences

Ethnic Stratification and Economic Inequality around the World Max Haller in collaboration, Anja Eder, 2016-03-03 The modern world is characterised by pervasive economic inequalities Strong economic growth in some developing countries has contributed to a degree to a reduction in the levels of inequality between nations yet inequality within nations remains high and in some cases continues to increase Ethnic Stratification and Economic Inequality around the World investigates the reasons for these striking differences exploring the coincidence and interaction between economic stratification and ethnic differentiation Drawing on extensive international survey and statistical data the author develops a new theory and concrete hypotheses concerning the conditions which lead toward extreme inequality and those which tend toward greater equality A systematic examination of the interaction between class structures social stratification and ethnic differentiation this book sheds light on the manner in which the resulting social structures produce different levels of economic inequality offering a fivefold typology of patterns of ethnic stratification which can be applied to present day world regions Drawing on the work of Max Weber to provide a rigorous investigation of inequality around the world it demonstrates what sociology as a science of social reality can significantly contribute to our understanding of global economic stratification The book is relevant for a wide social scientific audience particularly for sociologists economists and political scientists working in a comparative perspective

Bauman and contemporary sociology

Ali Rattansi, 2017-08-01 This is the first single authored critical engagement with the major works of Zygmunt Bauman Where previous books on Bauman have been exegetical here an unwavering light is shone on key themes in the sociologist's work exposing serious weaknesses in Bauman's interpretations of the Holocaust Western modernity consumerism globalisation and the nature of sociology The book shows how Eurocentrism the neglect of issues of gender and a lack of awareness of the racism faced by Europe's non white ethnic minorities seriously limit Bauman's analyses of Western societies At the same time it points to Bauman's repeated insistence on the need for sociologists to take a moral stance in favour of the world's poor and downtrodden as being his most valuable legacy The book will be of great interest to sociologists Its readability will be valued by undergraduates and postgraduates and it will attract a readership well beyond the discipline

New Racial Missions of Policing

Paul Amar, 2013-09-13 This book identifies new formations of race racism and ethnicity at the intersection of neoliberalism security urban governance and the law through a comparative international analysis of police organizations and practices It pushes analytical and theoretical boundaries by examining racialization and ethnicization in locations where the topic is politically taboo such as in China India and France and where racial and ethnic hierarchies have supposedly been banished to the past as in Bosnia and South Africa This book also examines police and security services not as mere artefacts of state authority or the prerogatives of capitalist development but as relatively autonomous and uniquely productive intersections of new kinds of state social and cultural formations that are remaking race embodiment fear and control on their own terms This book was published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Racialization Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2005 Racialization has become one of the central concepts in the study of race and racism It is widely used in both theoretical and empirical studies of racial situations There has been a proliferation of texts that use this notion in quite diverse ways It is used broadly to refer to ways of thinking about race as well as to institutional processes that give expression to forms of ethno racial categorization An important issue in the work of writers such as Robert Miles for example concerns the ways in which the construction of race is shaped historically and how the usage of that idea forms a basis for exclusionary practices The concept therefore refers both to cultural or political processes or situations where race is invoked as an explanation as well as to specific ideological practices in which race is deployed It is evident however that despite the increasing popularity of the concept of racialization there has been relatively little critical analysis exploring its theoretical and empirical usages It is with this underlying concern in mind that Racialization Studies in Theory and Practice brings together leading international scholars in the field of race and ethnicity in order to explore both the utility of the concept and its limitations

Transnational Islam and the Integration of Turks in Great Britain Erdem Dikici, 2021-10-07 This book brings a transnational perspective to the study of immigrant integration in contemporary Western European societies with a specific focus on transnational Turkish Islam and Turkish integration in Great Britain It raises significant questions regarding national citizenship models and offers original insights into the ways in which they can be extended and renewed to cover the cross border reality At the theoretical level Dikici argues that the idea of multiculturalism can be extended to cover immigrant transnationalism without jeopardising its core principles such as equality and recognition of difference and promises such as a shared national identity and unity in diversity At the empirical level the book illustrates that not all transnational Muslim organisations are the same i.e. militant and nor do they all hinder Muslim integration rather they are diverse with some deliberately contributing to the integration of Muslims into non Muslim majority societies The work will be of interest to scholars and students of contemporary integration and citizenship studies multiculturalism studies Muslim
