Ethnicity In Asia A Comparative Introduction:

Ethnicity in Asia Colin Mackerras, 2003-09-02 A comparative introduction to ethnicity in East and Southeast Asia since 1945 Each chapter covers a particular country looking at core issues such as ethnic minorities and groups population language culture and traditional religion Identity and Ethnic Relations in Southeast Asia Chee Kiong Tong, 2010-08-03 Modern nation states do not constitute closed entities This is true especially in Southeast Asia where Chinese migrants have continued to make their new homes over a long period of time resulting in many different ethnic groups co existing in new nation states Focusing on the consequences of migration and cultural contact between the various ethnic groups this book describes and analyses the nature of ethnic identity and state of ethnic relations both historically and in the present day in multi ethnic pluralistic nation states in Southeast Asia Drawing on extensive primary fieldwork in Malaysia Singapore Indonesia Burma Vietnam Thailand and the Philippines the book examines the mediations and transformation of ethnic identity and the social incorporation tensions and conflicts and the construction of new social worlds resulting from cultural contact among different ethnic groups Routledge Handbook of Race and Ethnicity in Asia Michael Weiner, 2021-09-30 The Routledge Handbook of Race and Ethnicity in Asia introduces theoretical approaches to the study of race ethnicity and indigeneity in Asia beyond those commonly grounded in the Western experience The volume s twenty eight chapters consider not only the relationship between ethnic or racial minorities and the state but social relations within and between individual and transnational communities These shape not only the contours of governance but also the means by which knowledge of national identity self and other have been constructed and reconstructed over time Divided into four sections it provides holistic and comparative coverage of South South East and East Asia as well as Australasia and Oceania an area that extends from Pakistan in the West to Hawai i in the East Contributors to this handbook offer a variety of disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives opening a domain of scholarship wherein the relationship between phenotype and racism is less pronounced than European and North American approaches which have often privileged the so called colour stigmata leading to further exclusions of particular ethnic racial and indigenous communities This volume seeks to overcome racism and white ideologies embedded in theories of race and ethnicity in Asia proving a valuable resource to both students and scholars of comparative racial and ethnic studies international relations and human rights Ethnos Oblige Baniyelme D. Zoogah, 2022-02-28 Ethnos Oblige Theory and Evidence presents revelatory findings on the drivers of ethnic identity and related contingencies as well as suggestions for organizational implications for employee relations organization behavior institutional entrepreneurship and overall business strategy Politicising Democracy J. Harriss, K. Stokke, Olle Törnquist, 2004-11-11 There is a major contradiction in contemporary politics there has been a wave of democratization that has swept across much of the world while at the same time globalization appears to have reduced the social forces that have built democracy historically This book by an international group of authors analyzes the ways in which local politics in developing countries often neglected in work on democratization render democratic experiments more or less successful in realizing substantial democracy

Federalism in Asia Harihar Bhattacharyya, 2010-02-25 This book analyzes the successes and failures of various federal measures adopted in India Pakistan and Malaysia for the political accommodation of diversity Bhattacharyya then assesses their comparative significance for other countries in Asia In particular he examines growing tensions between nation and state building in ethnically plural societies modes of federation building in Asia persistent ethno nationalist tensions in federations and the relationship between federalism and democracy and federalism and decentralization Since ethno nationalist conflict remains unresolved in most countries of Asia this book should of interest to those seeking long term solutions of problems of order and stability in ethnically diverse countries in Asia

Comparative Federalism in Asia Baogang He, Michael G. Breen, Laura Allison-Reumann, 2023-06-23 He Breen and Allison Reumann combine qualitative and quantitative research to compare the successes and failures of attempts at federalism in Asian countries Federalism is an increasingly common approach to improving governance and resolving ethnic conflict in Asia However Asian federalism faces three thorny problems First the ethnic federalism paradigm dominates political and intellectual life rendering political compromise difficult and creating an obstacle to establishing or improving federalism in Asia Second religious fundamentalism and secular refusal to accommodate religious demands pose an existential threat to federal politics Third a majoritarian democracy is itself a threat to federalism in Asia and the peace and stability that it is meant to underpin Through a truly comparative analysis He Breen and Allison Reumann investigate the potential for a hybrid ethnic approach religious moderation and deliberative democracy to overcome these challenges They analyse cases from across Asia both successes and failures These include countries encompassing the first generation of federalism in Asia India Malaysia and Pakistan and challenges faced by the new emerging and aspiring federal states namely Nepal Myanmar and Sri Lanka They demonstrate how federalism can be achieved through compromise and a continual renegotiation of its underpinning values A vital resource for scholars of political systems in Asia and of federalism more broadly

Toward a Positive Psychology of Islam and Muslims Nausheen Pasha-Zaidi, 2021-07-15 This book integrates research in positive psychology Islamic psychology and Muslim wellbeing in one volume providing a view into the international experiential and spiritual lives of a religious group that represents over 24% of the world's population It incorporates Western psychological paradigms such as the theories of Jung Freud Maslow and Seligman with Islamic ways of knowing while highlighting the struggles and successes of minoritized Muslim groups including the LGBTQ community Muslims with autism Afghan Shiite refugees and the Uyghur community in China It fills a unique position at the crossroad of multiple social science disciplines including the psychology of religion cultural psychology and positive psychology By focusing on the ways in which spirituality struggle and social justice can lead to purpose hope and a meaningful life the book contributes to scholarship within the second wave of positive psychology PP 2 0 that aims to illustrate a balance between positive and negative aspects of human experience While geared towards students researchers and academic scholars of psychology culture and religious studies particularly Muslim studies this book is also useful for general audiences who are interested in learning about the diversity of Islam and Muslims through a research based social science approach Ethnic Subnationalist Insurgencies in South Asia Jugdep S. Chima,2015-03-24 This book provides a micro historical analysis of the emergence and contemporary dynamics of recent ethnic sub nationalist insurgencies in South Asia Using comparative case studies it discusses the causes of each insurgency analyses the trajectory and dynamics of each including attempts at resolution and highlights the wider theories of ethno nationalist insurgency and mobilization Bringing together an international group of contributors the book covers insurgencies in India Sri Lanka Pakistan Nepal and Bangladesh It questions why ethnic sub nationalist insurgencies occurred at particular points in time and not at others and explores the comparative trajectories of these movements The book goes on to discern reappearing patterns of conflict escalation de escalation through the method of comparative process tracing It argues that while identity is a necessary factor for insurgency it is not a sufficient one Instead ethnic mobilization and insurgency only emerge when it is activated by tension emerging from political competition between ethnic and central state elites These elite led dynamics when combined with favourable socio economic and political conditions make the ethnic masses primed to accept the often symbolically rich appeals from their leaders to mobilize against the central state Providing an important study on ethno nationalist insurgencies in South Asia the book will be of interest to those working in the fields of South Asian Politics Security Studies and Ethnic Conflict Ethnic Chinese Business In Asia: History, Culture And Business Enterprise Ching-hwang Yen,2013-09-13 This unique volume provides a broad introduction to the ethnic Chinese business in Asia with focus on the ethnic Chinese in East and Southeast Asia The growing interest in ethnic Chinese business reflects its importance in these two regional economies and its relations with China s economy the world s new economic powerhouse It examines the nature and characteristics of the ethnic Chinese business such as business networks family business and conglomerates concepts of xinyong and guanxi and entrepreneurship and management It also examines the input of history and culture in the formation and operation of ethnic Chinese business The second half of the book is devoted to detailed regional studies covering the Chinese in Thailand Malaysia and Singapore Indonesia the Philippines Hong Kong and Taiwan This book provides an excellent introduction for tertiary students in business schools and for prospective businessmen who wish to do business with the Chinese in East and Southeast Asia Ethnic Groups Across National Boundaries in Mainland Southeast Asia Gehan Wijeyewardene,1990 Essays on various ethnic groups in mainland Southeast Asia including the Mon Karen Yao Hmong and various Tai groups Ethnic Minorities and Regional Development in Asia Huhua Cao,2009 The global development experience of the past century has shown that economic growth cannot be sustained without taking into consideration the social and political development of vulnerable populations including the struggle for minority rights Within this context this volume argues for the support of an interdisciplinary discussion that aims to link studies surrounding the development of minorities in Asia Government Policies and Ethnic Relations in Asia and the Pacific Michael E. Brown, Sumit Ganguly, 1997-10-20 Efforts to contend with tensions inherent in multiethnic societies case studies of India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia Ethnic conflict one of the most serious and widespread problems in the world today can undermine efforts to promote political and economic development as well as political economic and social justice It can also lead to violence and open warfare producing horrifying levels of death and destruction Although government policies on ethnic issues often have profound effects on a country the subject has been neglected by most scholars and analysts This volume analyzes different policies governments have pursued in their efforts to contend with the tensions inherent in multiethnic societies The book focuses on Asia and the Pacific the most populous and economically vibrant part of the world The heart of the book is a set of case studies of government policies in sixteen countries India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia The studies consider a wide range of political economic educational linguistic and cultural policies and how these policies have evolved over time Using a broad comparative perspective to assess the effectiveness of different governmental approaches the authors offer policy recommendations that cut across individual countries and regions Education, Ethnicity, Society and Global Change in Asia Gerard A. Postiglione, 2017-07-14 For more than three decades Gerard A Postiglione has witnessed the globalization of education and society in Hong Kong China and the wider Asian region His research emphasizes the diversity and complexity of the region from studies of education and the academic profession during Hong Kong's retrocession to reform of ethnic minority education and the rise of world class universities in the Chinese mainland as well as the complexity of mass higher education in an increasingly dynamic Asia This selection of 12 of his most representative papers and chapters documents his scholarship in comparative higher education in China Hong Kong and Asia State, Nation and Ethnicity in Contemporary South Asia Ishtiaq Ahmed, 1998-01-01 Preface Ethnic Conflicts in Southeast Asia Kusuma Snitwongse, Willard Scott Thompson, 2005 Potentially destabilizing ethnic conflicts continue to challenge nation states worldwide The countries of Southeast Asia are no exception Globalization population movements and historical and political fault lines in a tremendously ethnically diverse region coupled with continuing uneven access to economic development have seen the resurgence of old conflicts or the flaring up of new ones Along with violence and the loss of life and livelihood there are also longer term cross border impacts to consider in the form of refugees or displaced persons illegal migrant labour as well as drug and arms smuggling Written by country experts this volume examines ethnic configurations as well as conflict avoidance and resolution in five Southeast Asian countries Indonesia Malaysia Myanmar the Philippines and Thailand Ethnic Conflicts in Southeast Asia is a resource for scholars policy makers NGO personnel analysts and others who wish to deepen their understanding of the region or develop strategies to prevent modulate and resolve such conflicts

Routledge Handbook of

Autocratization in Southeast Asia Netina Tan, Yuko Kasuya, 2025-07-31 The Routledge Handbook of Autocratization in Southeast Asia examines how global and domestic forces of autocratization affect regional and local politics. It analyzes how the interactions of international and domestic factors affect actors and institutions in both democracies and autocracies in the region. Bringing together a representative slate of both local and international junior and senior scholars of different methodological backgrounds, this Handbook cross-examines regional trends and provides an insider view of the causes and effects of autocratization in a region with diverse experiences with de-colonization, state building, and economic and political developments. The 28 chapters are organized into three sections. Part I examines a range of structural, international, socio-political, technological, and ideological causal factors of autocratization. Part II offers a comparative analysis of the consequences of autocratization on key actors and democratic institutions. Part III provides a more detailed study of autocratic consolidation and pushback in each country in Southeast Asia. Taking into account structural, historical, institutional, and cultural factors, the contributors analyze how domestic actors and democratic institutions withstand the global forces of autocratization. This Handbook fills empirical gaps in the current scholarship by focusing on all nation states in the Association of Southeast Asian Nations and Timor-Leste, varied regime types with diverse socio-religious backgrounds. It is the first authoritative reference work dedicated to Southeast Asia's autocratization and will be an indispensable reference work for academics and policymakers interested in democracy and autocracy, regime transition, and Southeast Asian politics.

Nationalism and Identity Construction in Central Asia Mariya Y. Omelicheva, 2014-12-17 More than two decades after the break-up of the Soviet Union, Central Asian republics—Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan—continue to reexamine and debate whom and what they represent. Nationalism and Identity Construction in Central Asia explores the complex and controversial process of identity formation in the region using a 3D framework which stands for Dimensions, Dynamics, and Directions of nation building. The first part of the framework, dimensions, underscores the new and complex ways in which nationalisms and identities manifest themselves in Central Asia. The second part, dynamics, is premised on the idea that nationalisms and identity construction in the Central Asian republics may indicate some continuities with the past but are more concerned with legitimation of the present power politics in these states. It calls for the identification of the main actors, strategies, tactics, interests, and reactions to the processes of nationalism and identity construction. The third part of the framework, directions, addresses implications of nationalisms and identity construction in Central Asia for regional and international peace and cooperation. Jointly, the chapters of the volume address domestic and international level dimensions, dynamics, and directions of identity formation in Central Asia. What unites these works is their shared modern and post-modern understanding of nations, nationalisms, and identities as discursive, strategic, and tactical formations. They are viewed as constructed and imagined and therefore continuously changing but also fragmented and contested.

Ethnic and Racial

Minorities in Asia Michelle Ann Miller, 2014-02-25 Ethnic and Racial Minorities in Asia explores the relationship between ethnic minority rights and citizenship in Asia. Occupying a prominent place on the global map of conflict, Asia is one of the most ethnically diverse and racially divided regions in the world. It is also the scene of some of the most contrasting state responses to ethnic and racial conflicts, ranging from violent military repression and coercion on the one hand to offers of autonomy and other forms of self-rule aimed at granting minorities more equal and inclusive citizenship on the other. This volume combines conceptual debates about citizenship with case studies of ethnic minorities from across the Asian region, with a particular emphasis on Southeast Asia. The contributing authors question the nature of citizenship in the broader sense of identity, belonging, and the rights and responsibilities of ethnic minorities in relation to sovereign nation states. They examine a wide range of key issues, including minority rights, claims, ethnic and racial conflict, citizenship constructions, and representations of identity, post-colonialism, and human security. This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies.

Kazakhstan - Ethnicity, Language and Power Bhavna Dave, 2007-09-13 Kazakhstan is emerging as the most dynamic economic and political actor in Central Asia. It is the second largest country of the former Soviet Union, after the Russian Federation, and has rich natural resources, particularly oil, which is being exploited through massive US investment. Kazakhstan has an impressive record of economic growth under the leadership of President Nursultan Nazarbaev and has ambitions to project itself as a modern, wealthy, civic state with a developed market economy. At the same time, Kazakhstan is one of the most ethnically diverse countries in the region, with very substantial non-Kazakh and non-Muslim minorities. Its political regime has used elements of political clientelism and neo-traditional practices to bolster its rule. Drawing from extensive ethnographic research, interviews, and archival materials, this book traces the development of national identity and statehood in Kazakhstan, focusing in particular on the attempts to build a national state. It argues that Russification and Sovietization were not simply top-down processes; that they provide considerable scope for local initiatives; and that Soviet ethnically based affirmative action policies have had a lasting impact on ethnic identity formation and the rise of a distinct brand of national consciousness.
