Ethnographies Of Law And Social Control:

Ethnographies of Law and Social Control Stacy Lee Burns, 2005-04-28 This is a comprehensive insightful and state of the art overview of the everyday work and activities of legal and social control professionals functionaries and participants highlighting the distinctive contributions that ethnographic and ethnomethodologically informed studies have to offer research on law and social control

The Anthropology of Law Fernanda Pirie, 2013-10-31 Questions about the nature of law its relationship with custom and the form of legal rules categories and claims are placed at the centre of this challenging yet accessible introduction Anthropology of law is presented as a distinctive subject within the broader field of legal anthropology suggesting new avenues of inquiry for the anthropologist while also bringing empirical studies within the ambit of legal scholarship The Anthropology of Law considers contemporary debates on human rights international laws and new forms of property alongside ethnographic studies of order and conflict resolution It also delves into the rich corpus of texts and codes studied by legal historians classicists and orientalist the great legal systems of ancient China India and the Islamic world unjustly neglected by anthropologists are examined alongside forms of law created on their peripheries Ancient codes medieval coutumes village constitutions and tribal laws provide rich empirical detail for the authors analysis of the cross cultural importance of the form of law as text or rule and carefully selected examples shed new light upon the interrelations and distinctions between laws custom and justice Legalism is taken as the starting point for inquiry into the nature and functions of law and its roles as an instrument of government a subject of scholarship and an assertion of moral order An argument unfolds concerning the tensions between legalistic thought and argument and the ideological or aspirational claims to embody justice morality and religious truth which lie at the heart of what we think of as law

The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology Marie-Claire Foblets, Mark Goodale, Maria Sapiñoli, Olaf Zenker, 2022 Represents a comprehensive and interdisciplinary treatment to the field of law and anthropology Decenters the standard Anglo Euro centric bias that prevails in both law and anthropology Gives unique perspectives on issues of contemporary relevance Provides the historical background but focuses on the future of the field Book jacket

The anthropology of power, agency, and morality Victor de Munck, Elisa J. Sobo, 2022-06-07 The works of F G Bailey 1924 2020 provide a seminal template for good ethnography Central to this is Bailey s ability to conceptually connect the well described micro contexts of individual interactions to the macro context of culture Bailey s core concerns the tension between individual and collective interests the will to power and the dialectics of social forces which foster both collective solidarity as well as divisiveness and discontent are themes of universal interest the beauty of his work lies in his analyses of how these play out in local arenas between real people His models provide nuanced yet explicit road maps to analysing the different leadership styles of everyday people and contemporary leaders This volume seeks to inspire new generations of anthropologists to revisit Bailey s seminal texts to help them navigate their way through the ethnographic thicket of their own research

Anthropology A.L. Epstein, 2017-07-05 In social anthropology as in other branches of science there is a close relationship between research methods and theoretical problems Advancing theory and shifts in orientation go hand in hand with the development of techniques and mutually influence one another If the development of modern social anthropology owes much to its established tradition of fieldwork it is also clear that the procedures that anthropological fieldwork should follow in the laboratory can never be prescribed in absolute terms nor become wholly standardized Yet as anthropological analysis is refined it becomes increasingly important that students in the field be aware of the need to collect basic kinds of data and know how to set about doing so In this volume anthropologists who have worked closely together for many years at the Rhodes Livingstone Institute for Social Research Lusaka and or in the Department of Social Anthropology University of Manchester discuss within a common framework modern fieldwork methods as tools for examining a number of problems of current anthropological interest Elizabeth Colson J Clyde Mitchell and J A Barnes stress aspects of the role of quantification in social anthropology and indicate a range of problems that can be illuminated by the use of quantitative techniques Equal importance is attached by all contributors to the collection and analysis of detailed case material a topic explored in J van Velsen's essay A L and T S Epstein V W Turner and M G Marwick consider the kinds of data relevant to anthropological discussion in the fields of economics law ritual and witchcraft and the methods by which such material may be collected The volume is introduced by Max Gluckman former director of the Rhodes Livingstone Institute and former head of the department of social anthropology and sociology University of Manchester Anthropology of Law in Muslim Sudan, 2018-04-03 Anthropology of Law in Muslim Sudan analyses the hybridity of law systems and the plurality of legal practices in rural and urban contexts of contemporary Sudan shedding light on the complex relation between Islam and society It is the outcome of the international research program ANDROMAQUE Anthropologie du Droit dans les Mondes Musulmans Africains et Asiatiques funded by the French ANR Agence National de la Recherche between 2011 and 2014 Crossing two disciplinary perspectives anthropology and law the present volume contains original fieldwork data on contemporary urban and rural Sudan Focusing on two major domains land property and courts several case studies demonstrate the relevance of an approach based on legal practices to underline first the plurality and hybridity of law systems and the relative role of the Islamic reference in Sudanese society and secondly the reshaping of legal behaviors and norms after the breaking point of South Sudan's independence in 2011 Contributors are Zahir M Abdal Kareem Azza A Abdel Aziz Musa A Abdul Jalil Munzoul M A Assal Mohamed A Babiker Yazid Ben Hounet Barbara Casciarri Baudoin Dupret Philippe Gout Enrico Ille
