Eugène Dubois and the Ape-Man from Java L.T. Theunissen, 1988-12-31 Although the name Pithecanthropus is now seldom used there are few who study the origin of our species who will fail to recognise the historical place of the usage and its association with Eugene Dubois During the last thirty or forty years Australopithecus and its African context has tended to draw attention from the early work on our origins in Java It is now increasingly common to hear the term pithecanthropine used only to indicate the Asian or Far Eastern examples of Homo erectus which although probably derived from African ancestry have some features that in the opinion of some experts may justify their being considered distinctive This discussion is not within the pages that follow which deal extensively with the work of Eugene Dubois He was an extraordinary man who did as much as any person since to put the great antiquity of our ancestors firmly in the public domain Dubois became involved with the study of human origins from a medical and anatomical background as have many since The jealousies and professional pressures that we think of as a phenomenon of the post war years were clearly a major factor in deciding the future of his career

Dutch Culture Overseas Frances Gouda, 2008
European colonial expansion led to Dutch notions of civilised society or the Dutch s community s flexible and relatively charitable attitudes toward others being scattered as in the Greek word diaspeirein to the four corners of the earth In some cases the exportation of Dutch cultural values to places overseas like North America endowed Dutchness with subtle new meanings But in colonial Indonesia Dutch political customs and traditions were transformed in the process of migrating to exotic locales In this book Frances Gouda examines the ways in which the Netherlands portrayed its unique colonial style to the outside world Why were citizens of a small and politically insignificant European nation able to represent as natural and normal their dominance over ancient civilizations on islands such as Java and Bali How did Dutch colonial residents explain the cultural differences between themselves and the supposedly primitive peoples of the Indonesian archipelago In trying to understand the gendering practices of colonial governance in the Netherlands East Indies Gouda also explores the interactions of Dutch and Indonesian women with European men FRANCES GOUDA earned a Ph D in history from the University of Washington in Seattle in 1980 She is currently professor of history and gender studies in the Political Science Department of the University of Amsterdam

Bones of Contention Marvin L. Lubenow, 2004-10 While evolutionists point to every new discovery of humanlike fossils as further evidence to support the theory that people evolved from apelike creatures Marvin L Lubenow contends that the fossils do more to disprove evolutionary theory than otherwise In Bones of Contention Lubenow offers readers of all backgrounds a readable argument for the creationist view of the origins of humankind that addresses all angles of the issue In this new edition Lubenow has thoroughly updated and revised his original material to reflect a dozen years of evolutionist theory and modern paleoanthropology Scholars and laypeople alike will find solid answers grounded in research to all of their tough questions

Origins and Grand Finale Gary Haitel, 2014-05-15 Origins and Grand Finale presents an in depth study of how modern science and astronomy compare to the biblical narrative of the origin of the universe as well as the origin of life Distinguishing between scientific facts and fairy tales as well as biblical facts and poetry author Gary Haitel attempts to build a perfect harmony between science and theology In Origins and Grand Finale Haitel is not proposing new scientific theories Instead he merely examines current scientific theories however bizarre they may seem and explains how they relate to the biblical narrative The second part of this guide focuses primarily on biblical end times and the abuse of political authority In the third part Haitel reflects upon not only the finale of humanity as described in the Bible but also the finale of an individuals physical life here on earth and what to expect after the body returns to the dust of the earth Are we just complex biological accidents or are we immortal spiritual eternal beings Written in a straightforward down to earth fashion Origins and Grand Finale offers a unique opportunity to understand the perfect harmony between science and theology General Anthropology Franz Boas, 1944 Establishment of a Geologic Framework for Paleoanthropology Léo F.
