Eulogy For A Private Man:

Transformations of Late Antiquity Manolis Papoutsakis, 2016-12-05 This book focuses on a simple dynamic the taking in hand of a heritage the variety of changes induced within it and the handing on of that legacy to new generations Our contributors suggest from different standpoints that this dynamic represented the essence of late antiquity As Roman society and the societies by which it was immediately bounded continued to develop through to the late sixth and early seventh centuries the interplay between what needed to be treasured and what needed to be explored became increasingly self conscious versatile and enriched By the time formerly alien peoples had established their post classical polities and Islam began to stir in the East the novelties were more clearly seen if not always welcomed and one witnesses a stronger will to maintain the momentum of change of a forward reach At the same time those in a position to play now the role of heirs were well able to appreciate how suited to their needs the Roman past might be but how by taking it up in their turn they were more securely defined and yet more creatively advantaged Transformation is a notion apposite to essays in honour of Peter Brown The transformation of the classical heritage is a theme to which he has devoted and continues to devote much energy All the essays here in some way explore this notion of transformation the late antique ability to turn the past to new uses and to set its wealth of principle and insight to work in new settings To begin there is the very notion of what it meant to be Roman and how that notion changed Subsequent chapters suggest ways in which fundamental characteristics of Roman society were given new form not least under the impact of a Christian polity Augustine naturally finds his place and here the emphasis is on the unfettered stance that he took in the face of more broadly held convictions on miracles for example and the errors of the pagan past The discussion then moves on to Eulogy for a Private Man Fred Dings, 1999 In poems both intimate and public meditative and musical Dings seeks to enrich the present by evoking both the future and the past Urgent and carefully formed his poems seek and awareness and expression that are responsible intellectually and emotionally to the most private and most communal moments of human experience Speaking Jewish - Jewish Speak Shlomo Berger, 2003 As the world of Jewish studies continues to expand Studia Rosenthaliana enters a new phase with this 36th volume the first in a series of yearbooks In this edition an international panel of authors takes an innovative look at the theme of Jewish multilingualism from various multidisciplinary perspectives Several research projects on various aspects of Dutch Jewish history and culture are currently under way at academic institutions in Amsterdam and elsewhere while Dutch academics are regularly involved in extensive international research projects The research that resulted in the articles presented in this volume of Studia Rosenthaliana was carried out by the Menasseh ben Israel Institute and the University of Amsterdam in collaboration with the Solomon Ludwig Steinheim Institute in Duisburg and forms part of a larger programme on Yiddish in the Netherlands currently being conducted together with the Abteilung für Jiddische Sprache Kultur und Literatur at Heinrich Heine Universität Düsseldorf Dying to Teach Jeffrey Berman, 2012-02-01 In Dying to Teach Jeffrey Berman confronts the most wrenching loss imaginable the death of his beloved wife Barbara Through four interrelated narratives how Barbara wrote about her illness in a cancer diary how he cared for her throughout her illness how his students reacted to his disclosure that she was dying and how he responded to her death Berman explores his efforts to hold on to Barbara precisely as she was letting go of life Intensely personal Dying to Teach affirms the power of writing to memorialize loss and work through grief and demonstrates the importance of death education teachers and students writing and talking about a subject that until now has often been deemed too personal for the classroom The Rays Collection Said Nursi, 2015
