Found in Translation J. Michael Walton, 2006-07-06 In considering the practice and theory of translating Classical Greek plays into English from a theatrical perspective Found in Translation first published in 2006 also addresses the wider issues of transferring any piece of theatre from a source into a target language The history of translating classical tragedy and comedy here fully investigated demonstrates how through the ages translators have wittingly or unwittingly appropriated Greek plays and made them reflect socio political concerns of their own era Chapters are devoted to topics including verse and prose mask and non verbal language stage directions and subtext and translating the comic Among the plays discussed as case studies are Aeschylus Agamemnon Sophocles Oedipus Tyrannus and Euripides Medea and Alcestis The book concludes with a consideration of the boundaries between translation and adaptation followed by an appendix of every translation of Greek tragedy and comedy into English from the 1550s to the present day

Texts and Their Worlds II K. Narayana Chandran, Watching War on the Twenty-First Century Stage Clare Finburgh Delijani, 2017-07-27 What do we watch when we watch war Who manages public perceptions of war and how Watching War on the Twenty First Century Stage Spectacles of Conflict is the first publication to examine how theatre in the UK has staged debated and challenged the ways in which spectacle is habitually weaponized in times of war The battle for hearts and minds and the war of images are fields of combat that can be as powerful as armed conflict And today spectacle and conflict the two concepts that frame the book have joined forces via audio visual technologies in ways that are more powerful than ever Clare Finburgh s original and interdisciplinary interrogation provides a richly provocative account of the structuring role that spectacle plays in warfare engaging with the works of philosopher Guy Debord cultural theorist Jean Baudrillard visual studies specialist Marie Jos Mondzain and performance scholar Hans Thies Lehmann She offers coherence to a large and expanding field of theatrical war representation by analysing in careful detail a spectrum of works as diverse as expressionist drama documentary theatre comedy musical satire and dance theatre She demonstrates how features unique to the theatrical art namely the construction of a fiction in the presence of the audience can present possibilities for a more informed engagement with how spectacles of war are produced and circulated If we watch with more resistance we may contribute in significant ways to the demilitarization of images And what if this were the first step towards a literal demilitarization

Other Others Steven Shankman, 2011-01-02 In literary and cultural studies today the term the Other appears to have largely lost its moorings in the primacy of the intersubjective encounter focusing rather on the social construction of the Other For Emmanuel Levinas in contrast the Other is precisely that which eludes construction and categorization In a study that ranges from literature of ancient China Greece and Israel to modern Egypt Italy West Africa and America Steven Shankman tests Levinas's ideas by reading literary works from outside the Judeo Christian orbit for figurations equivalent to Levinas's notion of the Other He also places ethics at the center of intercultural or in his words transcultural comparative literature In contemporary literary and cultural studies it is often assumed that culture has the last word However as Levinas insists and as Shankman argues throughout this book it is ethics that is the presupposition of all Culture that is situated before Culture
