Freedom's Progress? Gerard Casey,2021-10-04
 In Freedom s Progress Gerard Casey argues that the progress of freedom has largely consisted in an intermittent and imperfect transition from tribalism to individualism from the primacy of the collective to the fragile centrality of the individual person and of freedom Such a transition is he argues neither automatic nor complete nor are relapses to tribalism impossible The reason for the fragility of freedom is simple the importance of individual freedom is simply not obvious to everyone Most people want security in this world not liberty Libertarians writes Max Eastman used to tell us that the love of freedom is the strongest of political motives but recent events have taught us the extravagance of this opinion The herd instinct and the yearning for paternal authority are often as strong Indeed the tendency of men to gang up under a leader and submit to his will is of all political traits the best attested by history The charm of the collective exercises a perennial magnetic attraction for the human spirit In the 20th century Fascism Bolshevism and National Socialism were Casey argues each of them a return to tribalism in one form or another and many aspects of our current Western welfare states continue to embody tribalist impulses Thinkers you would expect to feature in a history of political thought feature in this book Plato Aristotle Machiavelli Locke Mill and Marx but you will also find thinkers treated in Freedom s Progress who don t usually show up in standard accounts Johannes Althusius Immanuel Kant William Godwin Max Stirner Joseph Proudhon Mikhail Bakunin Pyotr Kropotkin Josiah Warren Benjamin Tucker and Auberon Herbert Freedom s Progress also contains discussions of the broader social and cultural contexts in which politics takes its place with chapters on slavery Christianity the universities cities Feudalism law kingship the Reformation the English Revolution and what Casey calls Twentieth Century Tribalisms Bolshevism Fascism and National Socialism and an extensive chapter on human prehistory

From Castle Rackrent to Castle Dracula Paul E. H. Davis, 2011 Paul E H Davis and the Irish Land Question In his challenging new book Paul E H Davis offers an entirely new critique of how novelists in nineteenth century Ireland had to act both as writers and historians in their attempts to find a solution to what became the Irish Land Question Challenging the widely held nationalist view that Irish novelists of this period had little or nothing to offer Davis slots these castaway novelists into a new identifiable category the agrarian novelists The book is divided into three parts Part One considers novelists writing between the Union and the Famine Maria Edgeworth Gerald Griffin John and Michael Banim and William Carleton Part Two looks at how the agrarian novel emigrates with reference to the novels of Charles Kickham and to the Irish novels of Anthony Trollope Part Three considers how some agrarian novelists specifically Thomas Moore and Bram Stoker felt the solution lay not in the real world but in the world of fantasy An exceptional book on why the agrarian novelists deserve to be valued for their unique perception of Ireland in the nineteenth century
