European Business Systems Firms And Markets In Their National Contexts:

European Business Systems Professor Richard Whitley,1992-11-13 As Europe moves towards greater integration there is increasing recognition of national differences in European business because of significant diversity in national cultures and social institutions affecting business systems This book explores key characteristics of firms and markets in eight European countries Denmark Finland The Netherlands and Germany compared with Britain Sweden Italy and France Some contributors focus on overall business patterns in the countries concerned while others examine particular industries and sectors to consider the relationship between national influences and cross national sector developments To provide a European East Asian comparison one contribution looks at firms and strategies in Japan and Hong Kong

European Business Systems Richard Whitley,1992 Business Systems in East Asia Professor Richard Whitley,1992-07-27 In this major contribution to comparative international business Richard Whitley compares and contrasts the dominant characteristics of firms and markets in Japan South Korea Taiwan and Hong Kong relating these to their particular social political and economic contexts At the level of the firm he looks at such areas as management styles and structures decision making processes owner employee relations and patterns of company growth and development He also discusses market development customer supplier and inter firm relations and the roles of the financial sectors and the state in market and industry development The book also examines the ways in which key social institutions in each country have affected the evolution of business Finally the author makes a comparison of East Asian business systems with dominant Western practices

Globalisation and Work in Asia John Burgess,Julia Connell,2007-02-28 This book reviews employment conditions in Asian countries This is the hub of the strongest growth area in the world economy and while attention has focussed on job growth and industrial transformation there has been very little attention on employment characteristics and employment conditions In particular the book addresses the issue of whether globalisation taken to mean the growing international integration of economies is a factor that leads to a convergence of employment conditions and more importantly an improvement in employment conditions The book brings together contributions on many Asian economies where these core questions are considered at both the macro level and for specified industries Addresses fundamental questions regarding growth globalisation and working conditions Includes analysis of West East and North Asian countries Includes an overview chapter from researchers from the ILO Walking the Talk? Rob van Tulder, Birgitte Grøgaard, Randi Lunnan, 2024-05-16 Politicians and businesses alike agree that something must be done about the environment the question is what how when and by whom We ask are we actually walking the talk The Multinational Firm Glenn Morgan, Peer Hull Kristensen, Richard Whitley, 2003 In contrast to the traditional view of multinational firms as cohesive rational actors maximizing the use of resources across national boundaries the contributors to this volume argue that they are complex social arenas where competing groups draw on resources from their own socially embedded locations in developing new transnational social relationships As firms seek to manage across national and institutional boundaries they stretch their existing capacities and routines and develop new sets of transnational social relationships through different groups competing and cooperating These processes occur at a number of levels which are explored in different empirical settings Firstly at the level of governance multinational firms may develop conflicts between investors from different national contexts e g between the arms length orientation of Anglo Saxon institutional investors and the more committed orientation of investors in certain European and Asian contexts The tension between opening the firm up for foreign investors in order to have access to more and cheaper capital and the consequent effects on management strategy is explored in a number of chapters Secondly at the level of coordinating activities across different sites multinationals may encourage competition between plants in different countries as well as seeking to transfer best practices The result may be pressure on managers and employees in certain plants to give up traditional practices and employment rights Thirdly multinational firms operate in environments where other forms of coordinating international business activity may also occur e g cartels or the creation of international regulatory activity They therefore compete for the regulatory space in complex political environments that will enable them to prosper Institutional Dynamics and the Evolution of the Indian Economy R. Kumar, 2009-03-30 This edited volume highlights the interplay between the evolving institutions and the growing economic dynamism of the Indian economy The book provides a state of the art interdisciplinary review of the Indian political economy and cultural psychology and it draws upon the contribution of academic scholars who are intimately familiar with India Reading Economic Geography Trevor J. Barnes, Jamie Peck, Eric Sheppard, Adam Tickell, 2008-04-15 This reader introduces students to examples of the most important research in the field of economic geography Brings together the most important research contributions to economic geography Editorial commentary makes the material accessible for students The editors are highly respected in their field Coordination in Transition Jeroen (L.J.) Touwen, 2014-06-05 This book analyzes the evolution of the institutional structure of the Dutch political economy since 1950 It sketches in broad strokes the origin and economic role of coordination in the Netherlands The Dutch economy is compared with other OECD countries by using the varieties of capitalism theory and distinguishing between coordinated and liberal market economies The author focuses on the constant adaptation of deliberative institutions in the business system in labor relations and in welfare policy The complex institutional setting did not prevent the economy from participating in the globalization of markets and capital that took place since ca 1980 The book is located at the intersection of two quite different literatures modern economic history and the political science literature on varieties of capitalism Industrial Enterprise and European Integration Jack Ernest Shalom

Hayward,1995 For centuries states have attempted to increase their national wealth and power by protecting and promoting certain privileged enterprises Since the 1960s this phenomena has accelerated with the emergence of national champions firms socially selected and promoted by governments to carry the national flag into the internationally competitive arena This volume focuses on how European national champions have fared in an increasingly globalized industrial context After setting the four national policy contexts of France Germany Britain and Italy it considers four major industrial sectors comparatively electricity aerospace air transport and telecommunications It goes on to examine the binational collaboration involved in the Channel Tunnel project It concludes with an assessment of the increasing impact of the European Union on Europe s national champions as they lose their national identity and monopoly status and become Europeanized globalized and hybridized

Industrial Transformation in Eastern Europe in the Light of the East Asian Experience Jeffrey Henderson,Karoly Balaton,Gyorgy Lengyel,2016-07-27 Since 1989 the postcommunist societies of Eastern Europe have been subject to policy advice and political and economic pressure which assumes that the development of free market economies is the best route to economic growth and prosperity The contributors to this volume take issue with this proposition Though working from different theoretical perspectives with different interests they collectively argue that there are better ways to build dynamic and prosperous industrial economies in Eastern Europe than encouraging the respective societies of the region to ape the contents and swallow the myths of the Anglo American form of capitalism The contributors to this volume are among the leading authorities on economic transformation in Eastern Europe The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Institutional Analysis Glenn Morgan,John Campbell,Colin Crouch,Ove Kaj Pedersen,Richard Whitley,2010-04-09 It is increasingly accepted that institutions matter for economic organization and outcomes The last decade has seen significant expansion in research examining how institutional contexts affect the nature and behaviour of firms the operation of markets and economic outcomes Yet institutions conceal a multitude of issues and perspectives Much of this research has been comparative and followed different models such as varieties of capitalism national business systems and social systems of production This Handbook explores these issues perspectives and models with the leading scholars in the area contributing chapters to provide a central reference point for academics scholars and students Small Firms and Network Economies Martin Perry,2012-12-06 Recent development experience points to the way business can be the key to a dynamic small business sector especially where those links are built on high trust co operative relations This book reviews different types of small business network illustrated by an international selection of case studies including Chinese family business networks ethnic minority business networks Japanese and South Korean business group networks Taiwan's subcontracting networks European industrial districts Network promotion initiatives in Singapore New Zealand Scandinavia and the UK are each discussed to provide a comprehensive comparative assessment of small business networks

Remaking Management Chris Smith, Brendan McSweeney, Robert Fitzgerald, 2008-05-08 Debates about the consequences for work practices posed by the rapidly growing transnationalisation of business have become increasingly central to management studies sociology political science geography and other disciplines Remaking Management brings together a range of international contributors from different sub disciplines in management to examine current theories of change or continuity of work practices in the context of fashionable claims about unstoppable globalisation or unmoveable national business systems It provides theoretical and empirical challenges to both of these explanations Rejecting an overemphasis on inevitable convergence or enduring divergence the book reveals a mix of international national and organisational level influences on workplace practice This is a rich and wide ranging resource for graduate students and academics concerned with how organisations are responding to an increasingly complex commercial environment

Multinational Companies from Japan Robert Fitzgerald, Chris Rowley, 2017-10-02 Since the bursting of Japan's bubble economy from 1990 onwards its multinational companies MNCs have faced new competitive challenges and questions about the management practices on which they had built their initial success in global markets Japanese engagement in the international economy has undergone a number of phases Historically Japanese MNCs learnt from foreign companies frequently through strategic alliances After the post war economic miracle Japanese manufacturers in particular converted themselves into MNCs transferred their home grown capabilities to overseas subsidiaries and made an impact on the world economy But the period after 1990 marked declining Japanese competitiveness and asked questions about the ability of Japanese MNCs to be more responsive and global in their strategies organization and capabilities It has been argued that the established management practices of Japanese MNCs inhibited adaptation to recent demands of global competition This volume presents new case evidence on how Japanese MNCs have responded to the new challenges of the global market place and it provides examples of how they have transformed strategies and competitive capabilities This book was originally published as a special issue of Asia Pacific Business Review

National Capitalisms, Global Competition, and Economic Performance Sigrid Quack, Glenn Morgan, Richard Whitley, 2000 Why are some firms successful on global markets whilst others are not In this collection of papers a group of distinguished international researchers examine the inter relationship between national context firm performance and global competitiveness In a series of empirical studies covering major industries such as banking telecommunications construction automobiles and airlines in a number of European countries Great Britain France Germany Holland Finland Slovenia the studies show how distinctive patterns of firm competences and capabilities arise from national contexts These influence the way in which firms perform in response to changing technologies and competitive pressures Thus the impact of the globalisation of economic activity may be to reinforce existing national differences in firm performance rather than producing a homogenisation and standardisation This book will be of interest to researchers in business and management sociology economics and political science for its comparative organizational approach to problems of economic performance

Institutions and Organizations W. Richard Scott, 2013-07-24 Creating a clear analytical framework this comprehensive exploration of the relationship between institutional theory and the study of organizations continues to reflect the richness and diversity of institutional thought viewed both historically and as a contemporary ongoing field of study Drawing on the insights of cultural and organizational sociologists institutional economists social and cognitive psychologists political scientists and management theorists the book reviews and integrates the most important recent developments in this rapidly evolving field and strengthens and elaborates the author's widely accepted pillars framework which supports research and theory construction By exploring the differences as well as the underlying commonalities of institutional theories the book presents a cohesive view of the many flavors and colors of institutionalism Finally the book evaluates and clarifies developments in both theory and research while identifying future research directions

Emergent Globalization C. Choi, B. Hilton, 2004-03-31 The world and humanity are changing at an unprecedented rate This book explores the processes that underlie this changing but coherent canvas What is fuelling them What is driving them Can we control them Mankind has always found ways to order life so as to reduce uncertainty and has sought to enhance the wellbeing of individuals peoples and nations In the modern and postmodern world business and enterprise play a big role Their tendency towards globalization needs to be understood and harnessed not opposed out of hand or wished away particularly because the tendency has not yet fully worked itself out For sound understanding it is necessary to avoid seeing the issues through the eyes of one particular discipline Hence this book also draws on material from history anthropology development economics ICT sociology and political science to help the reader gain insight into the processes that are occurring It provides a signpost towards a new dynamic in an increasingly integrated world in which we observe an emergent form of globalization affecting the planet as a whole and the future of the people on it
