Superintendent of Documents, 1987 Revisiting the UK and Ireland's Transatlantic Economic Relationship with the United States in the 21st Century Anne Groutel, Marie-Christine Pauwels, Valérie Peyronel, 2016-10-25 This book revisits the economic relationship that ties the UK and Ireland to the United States in the aftermath of the greatest economic crisis of the past fifty years. When considering recent developments to these economic links it appears that oppositional forces are at work. On one hand globalization and the rise of new economic powers may undermine the ties. Besides Ireland's and the UK's European Union membership could also loosen their economic ties with the US. Conversely the future Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership agreement may well strengthen trade and investment links between the US and Europe. Are the economic bonds between the US, the UK and Ireland waning as some pundits purport? Or are those claims overstated? Could their economic relationship simply be going through a process of change? Although there may not be a single and straightforward answer to these questions the authors seek to address these issues and provide insight into the changing dynamics of this historic economic relationship.

Japan and the European Union Atsuko Abe, 1999-01-01 In Japan and the European Union Dr Abe sets out to answer a number of crucial questions on the effect of Japan's international relations upon its internal affairs in particular how international issues and Japan's growing relationship with the EU have come to penetrate the political economy and decision making structure in Japanese industry and legislation. Japan EU affairs have never been marked by any significant political relations and until the past twenty years characterised by a reserved indifference. However as a result of accelerated political and economic changes in the past decade the two economic giants have made considerable efforts to nurture bilateral relations largely initiated by trade concerns. The author examines the development of this relationship informed by International Relations perspectives and taking into account the growing dependence of successful bilateral relations on the international political economy. Furthermore Dr Abe explains the attempt that has been made to resolve Japanese EU disputes by way of a Joint Declaration. This includes an examination of the 1991 Automobile Agreement involving Japan, the EC Commission and the Japanese manufacturers and the Liquor Tax dispute which ran from 1986-1995. Throughout this account the concerns of the United States and its impact on this relationship are fully registered.
