European Difference:

Difference and Cultures in Europe Carmel Camilleri, Francis Affergan, Council of Europe. Council for Cultural Co-operation, 1995-01-01 On cover Education culture On title page Democracy human rights minorities The European Union and the accommodation of Basque difference in Spain Angela Bourne, 2013-07-19 How does the European Union affect devolution and nationalist conflict in member states Does the EU reduce the scope of regional self government or enhance it Does it promote conflict or cooperation among territorial entities These are pressing questions in Spanish politics where devolution has been an important tool for managing nationalist disputes and for the Basque Country where protracted and sometimes violent nationalist conflicts persist Addressing these issues this book explores prospects for an autonomous Basque role in EU politics institutional arrangements for autonomous community participation in EU decision making Basque government alliances with other regions and the EU's supranational bodies EU incentives for collaboration among Basque and central state authorities the impact of EU decisions on politically sensitive Basque competencies and the incidence of EU issues in nationalist disputes It presents a new theoretical framework for analysing the impact of the EU on regional power and will be of interest to students researchers and general observers of Basque Spanish and EU politics Making a Difference with Minority Youth in Europe Vaida Jasiukaitytė, Andy Furlong, 2003-01-01 Abridged version based on a full study carried out by Andy Furlong Vaida Jasiukaityte LTTC Long Term Training Course India, Europe and the Question of Cultural Difference D. Venkat Rao, 2021-07-29 This volume critically engages with the question of cultural difference and the idea of living with diversity in the context of India and Europe It looks at certain essential European categories of learning such as art nature the human literature relation philosophy and the humanities and analyses texts from Sanskrit language through Telugu resources to argue that categories like prakriti loka jati dharma karma sahitya kala etc cannot be conflated with conceptual formations such as nature world caste religion sanctioned action literature and art respectively The book questions and unravels the efficacy of European concepts theories and interpretive frames in understanding Indian reflective traditions and cultural forms It also lays the groundwork for reorienting teaching and research in universities in the humanities on the basis of key cultural differences By focusing on major themes in the humanities discourse and their limitations the work engages with the writings of Heidegger Derrida and Agamben among others from radically new vantage points of Sanskrit Indian reflective traditions and challenges prevailing ideas about Indian art literature and culture Part of the Critical Humanities Across Cultures series this book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of Indian languages and literature comparative literature art and aesthetics postcolonial studies cultural and heritage studies philosophy political philosophy comparative philosophy Sanskrit studies India studies South Asian studies Global South studies and for those working on education in the humanities human sciences Dress and Cultural Difference in Early Modern Europe Cornelia Aust, Denise Klein, Thomas Weller, 2019-10-08 Dress is a key marker of difference It is closely attached to the body part of the daily routine and an unavoidable means of communication The clothes people wear tell stories about their allegiances and identities but also about their exclusion and stigmatization They allow for the display of wealth and can mercilessly display poverty and indigence Clothes also enable people to play with identities and affinities for instance individuals can claim higher social status via their clothes In many ways dress is thus open to manipulation by the wearer and misinterpretation by the observer Authorities whether religious or secular local or regional have always aimed at imposing order on this potential muddle This is particularly true for the early modern era when the world became ever more complex In Europe the composition of societies diversified with the emergence of new social groups and increasing migration and travel Thanks to intensified long distance trade and technological developments new fashionable clothes and accessories entered the market With the emergence of a consumer culture it was now the case that not only the extremely wealthy could afford at least the occasional indulgence in luxury items and accessories Over recent years research has focused on a variety of areas related to dress and appearance in the context of early modern political socio economic and cultural transformations both within Europe and related to its entanglement with other parts of the world Nevertheless a significant compartmentalization in the research on dress and appearance remains research is often organized around particular cities and territories and much research is still framed by modern national boundaries This special issue looks at dress and its perception in Europe from a transcultural perspective and highlights the many differences that clothing can express The African American Male, Writing, and Difference W. Lawrence Hogue, 2012-02-01 In this wide ranging analysis W Lawrence Hogue argues that African American life and history is more diverse than even African American critics generally acknowledge Focusing on literary representations of African American males in particular Hogue examines works by James Weldon Johnson William Melvin Kelley Charles Wright Nathan Heard Clarence Major James Earl Hardy and Don Belton to see how they portray middle class Christian subaltern voodoo urban jazz blues postmodern and gay African American cultures Hogue shows that this polycentric perspective can move beyond a racial uplift approach to African American literature and history and help paint a clearer picture of the rich diversity of African American life and culture

Geographies of Difference, Indifference and Mis-difference Antonio Augusto Rossotto Ioris, 2024-10-17 World renowned scholar of human geography development and environmental change Antonio Ioris presents an original reconceptualisation of the notions of difference and indifference and their impacts on social structures Drawing on a wide range of philosophical debates and offering groundbreaking new insights into geographically specific trends through the lens of indigenous geographies Ioris explores how political actors use notions of difference to foster indifference for the purposes of domination which ultimately crystallizes in what he terms mis difference a calcified difficult to overcome obstacle to concord and fairness that underpins capitalist relations of property and production At the same time Ioris shows how some social actors use the concept of difference for reconciliation for overcoming indifference and mis difference and suggests how these moves can help to fight against ideologies that produce our unequal world and facilitate land grabs Ioris elucidates all of this in concrete terms through a study of the Guarani Kaiowa people in Brazil of how they have been oppressed by state sanctioned indifference and misdifference and of how they are resisting through a contestation of what difference can mean and how it can function in the contemporary world Myths of Europe ,2007-01-01 Myths of Europe focuses on the identity of Europe seeking to re assess its cultural literary and political traditions in the context of the 21st century Over 20 authors historians political scientists literary scholars art and cultural historians from five countries here enter into a debate How far are the myths by which Europe has defined itself for centuries relevant to its role in global politics after 9 11 Can Old Europe maintain its traditional identity now that the European Union includes countries previously supposed to be on its periphery How has Europe handled relations with the non European Other in the past and how is it reacting now to an influx of immigrants and asylum seekers It becomes clear that founding myths such as Hamlet and St Nicholas have helped construct the European consciousness but also that these and other European myths have disturbing Eurocentric implications Are these myths still viable today and if so to what extent and for what purpose This volume sits on the interface between culture and politics and is important reading for all those interested in the transmission of myth and in both the past and the future of Europe The European Union and the Rise of Regionalist Parties Seth Kincaid Jolly,2015-08-27 Using a cross national quantitative study and a detailed case study of the pro independence Scottish National Party demonstrates that supranational integration and subnational fragmentation are related in theoretical and predictable ways Posits that the EU makes smaller states more viable and politically attractive by diminishing the relative economic and political advantages of larger sized states Values and Principles in European Union Foreign Policy Sonia Lucarelli,Ian Manners,2006-08-21 This book examines the values and principles that inform EU Foreign Policy conveying an understanding of the EU as an international actor This volume explores the implications of these values and principles on the process of the construction of the European Union identity Religion and the Conceptual Boundary in Central and Eastern Europe T. Bremer,2015-12-11 This volume concentrates on the conceptual boundary through Europe which is determined by Western and Eastern Christianity The chapters show that the boundary has never been a stable and defined division but that it was also subject to change and development and a place of encounter and exchange between religions and cultures Democratic Constitutionalism in India and the European Union Philipp Dann,2021-02-26 Comparing the structures and challenges of democratic constitutionalism in India and the European Union this book explores how democracy is possible within vastly diverse societies of continental scale and why a constitutional framework is best able to secure the ideals of collective autonomy and individual dignity It contributes to an emerging comparative discussion on structures of power separation of powers and a comparative law of democracy which has long been neglected in comparative constitutional studies Parliamentary Debates New Zealand. Parliament,1983 Socioeconomic Inequality in Central and Eastern Europe Ewa

Wędrowska, Michał Goliński, Tymoteusz Doligalski, Aranka Ignasiak-Szulc, 2025-07-18 This book is a multifaceted examination of the nature of inequalities in CEE countries While progress has been made significant inequalities persist and a deeper understanding of these challenges is essential to fostering meaningful action towards a more inclusive and prosperous future Written by scholars from two leading higher education institutions in Poland the Nicolaus Copernicus University in Toru and the SGH Warsaw School of Economics this comprehensive research monograph examines the disparities that shape the region and offers a nuanced understanding of their origins manifestations and consequences Moving beyond simplistic narratives of post communist transformation the book analyses the contemporary realities of CEE exploring socioeconomic technological and infrastructural disparities It investigates inequalities in income healthcare education energy access public transport innovation and digital inclusion revealing the vast differences within and between countries The book is an essential resource for anyone who wants to understand the complex realities of Central and Eastern Europe and explore the root causes of inequality in the region It also includes policy recommendations on how to bridge inequalities to promote equal opportunities for various stakeholders Combining rigorous research with accessible language the book provides an overview of the challenges and opportunities ahead and will appeal to those interested in the future of the region from researchers academics and students to policymakers

Black France, White Europe Emily Marker, 2022-10-15 Winner of the George Louis Beer Prize Black France White Europe illuminates the deeply entangled history of European integration and African decolonization Emily Marker maps the horizons of belonging in postwar France as leaders contemplated the inclusion of France's old African empire in the new Europe in the making European integration intensified longstanding structural contradictions of French colonial rule in Africa Would Black Africans and Black African Muslims be French If so would they then also be European What would that mean for republican France and united Europe more broadly Marker examines these questions through the lens of youth amid a surprising array of youth and education initiatives to stimulate imperial renewal and European integration from the ground up She explores how education reforms and programs promoting solidarity between French and African youth collided with transnational efforts to make young people in Western Europe feel more European She connects a particular postwar vision for European unity which coded Europe as both white and raceless Christian and secular to crucial decisions about what should be taught in African classrooms and how many scholarships to provide young Africans to study and train in France That vision of Europe also informed French responses to African student activism for racial and religious equality which ultimately turned many young francophone Africans away from France irrevocably Black France White Europe shows that the interconnected history of colonial and European youth initiatives is key to explaining why despite efforts to strengthen ties with its African colonies in the 1940s and 1950s France became more European during those years

Education Pack "All different - All equal" 4th edition Rui Gomes, Anca-Ruxandra Pande, Patricia Brander, Laure de Witte, Gavan Titley, 2024-10-01 An invaluable education pack proposing resources and activities for education and action with young people against racism and discrimination It is easy to say I have no prejudices or I m not racist so it has nothing to do with me It is much harder to say I may not be to blame for what happened in the past but I want to take responsibility for making sure it doesn t continue in the future Many young people in Europe and beyond defied the pandemic and took to the streets in 2020 to express their sorrow and their anger in the aftermath of George Floyd s death in Minneapolis at the hands of a white policeman This also served as a wake up call to the daily systemic and sometimes structural forms of racial discrimination which are visible across Europe expressed in hate speech or outright physical violence and which target people on the basis of their characteristics or identity including age colour of skin disability ethnicity gender legal status nationality origin race religion and belief sex and sexual orientation Youth leaders and human rights activists turned to the Council of Europe the guardian of human rights in Europe for responses support and in particular what the youth sector could propose A consultation with youth workers and specialists in human rights education concluded that part of the response has to be educational The rise of populist nationalist and xenophobic ideas and discourse must also be countered through democratic citizenship and human rights education including anti racism education and intercultural learning Education remains an important antidote to racism and prejudice This manual was originally produced in 1995 for the European youth campaign against racism antisemitism xenophobia and intolerance It has been updated and extended to reflect the kaleidoscope of racial discrimination in Europe today and the mutations of racist discourses and ideologies It contains basic information and hands on non formal education methodologies for supporting young people in learning about and addressing prejudice and its impact on people and societies Pressures for Reform in the East European Economies ,1989 Saving Energy in U.S. Transportation ,1994 This report assesses an array of transportation policies designed to reduce energy use and describes the intersection of these policies with general transportation problems such as congestion and air pollution The report describes the U S transportation system and its energy use presents and evaluates forecasts of energy use to 2010 compares and contrasts U S and European travel and energy use patterns discusses reasons governments may choose to intervene in transportation markets and describes and evaluates a range of policy options to reduce U S transport energy use from gasoline taxes to urban planning Its objective is to provide a balanced qualitative perspective of issues and problems rather than a highly quantified analysis Confronting Capital Punishment in Asia Roger Hood,Surya Deva,2013-11-07 With the strengthening focus worldwide on human rights there has been a rapid increase in recent years in the number of countries that have completely abolished the death penalty This is in recognition that it is a violation of the right to life and the right to be free from cruel inhuman and degrading punishment There has simultaneously been pressure on countries that still retain capital punishment to ensure that they at least apply the United Nations minimum human rights safeguards established to protect the rights of those facing the death penalty This book shows that the majority of Asian countries have been particularly resistant to the abolitionist movement and tardy in accepting their responsibility to uphold the safeguards The essays contained in this volume provide an in depth analysis of changes in the scope and application of the death penalty in Asia with a focus on China India Japan and Singapore They explain the extent to which these nations still fail to accept capital punishment as a human rights issue identify impediments to reform and explore the prospects that Asian countries will eventually embrace the goal of worldwide abolition of capital punishment
