European Asiapacific Political Security And Economic Perspectives:

European and Asia-Pacific Integration Yu-ming Shaw,1998 Emerging Capitalism in Central Europe and Southeast Asia F. Bafoil,2015-12-24 This book examines the emergence of different forms of capitalism in Central Eastern states in Europe and Mekong states within the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN All of them but Thailand have historically disappeared from the regional maps for long periods of time due to colonial or imperial rule Most of them were previously members of a soviet type economy and they all joined ASEAN or the European Union in the 1990s or in the 2000s These states are characterized by a strong urge toward feelings of national sovereignty due to their experiences with colonialism and imperialism But due to the regional economic pressures and the globalization dynamic these states cannot articulate protectionist policies They are forced to open their economies in order to attract Foreign Direct Investments This results in less regulated and more political forms of capitalism than in some more developed capitalist countries This book analyzes forms of capitalism as the arising from a combination of three conditions the legacy of the foreign occupations the national construction process of the sovereign state and lastly the dynamics of regional integration These states claims to national sovereignty and the manner in which they developed suggests a causative link between the forms of political domination that have presided over these transformations and the forms of capitalism that have resulted Chinese (Taiwan) Yearbook of International Law and Affairs, Volume 27 (2009) ,2020-02-03 The Chinese Taiwan Yearbook of International Law and Affairs commenced publication in 1981 under the auspices of the Chinese Taiwan Society of International Law The Yearbook publishes on multi disciplinary topics with a focus on international and comparative law issues regarding Taiwan Mainland China and the Asia Pacific region The Yearbook is one of the foremost publications in the world concentrating on issues of greater China China's Quiet Rise Baogang Guo,Chung-chian Teng,2011-05-12 Despite China s desire to make its rapid ascendance in the 21st century as non provocative as possible the key to ensure China s peaceful rise lies in two way integration and engagement A closely integrated China with the rest of the world and China s acceptance of existing international norms and rules may compel China to behave in a more predictable and responsive way This co edited book examines China s rising military capacity and the complex feelings its neighbors such as Taiwan South Korea and India have toward the increasingly powerful China The focus of this book is on the efforts made by China to brand her non aggressive image through promoting public diplomacy and expanding regional free trade and cooperation in Asia and Latin America It uses the cross Taiwan strait relations as a testing ground for the prospect of peace between the two former adversaries China s Quiet Rise will help readers understand why integration instead of isolation and containment may be the most effective way to facilitate China s peaceful rise Europe and the Asia-Pacific Hanns Maull,Gerald Segal,Jusuf Wanandi,2005-08-04 Europe and the Asia Pacific is the most wide ranging and accessible book currently available on the increasingly important relationship between these two regions Compiled by leading experts it covers the

China's Strategic Opportunity Yong Deng, 2022-08-11 This book offers a systematic study of China's great power diplomacy under President Xi Jinping It critically applies the Chinese concept of strategic opportunity which is defined by the national ambitions as set by the ruling communist party leadership the opportunities and risks presented in the international environment and the policy instruments at the nation's disposal Applying the dynamic concept the book identifies key Chinese beliefs that seek to best match its resources with its policy ends and investigates policy patterns in China's management of competition with the United States the Belt and Road Initiative economic statecraft regional and global institutional orders and its multipolar diplomacy Taking seriously China's choice Yong Deng challenges the mainstream structural analysis in International Relations that focuses merely on rising powers insecurity and discontent in the international system His study shows how the world's leading contender to and major stakeholder in the world order actually evaluates and actively seeks to control its international environment The European Union in the Asia-Pacific Weiqing Song, Jianwei Wang, 2019-02-20 Since the mid 1990s the European Union has defined the Asia Pacific as one of its key strategic targets on its ambitious road towards a global power Over the past decades big changes have taken place on both sides and the wider world It's high time to evaluate the EU's performance in its Asian policy In fact the EU is at crossroads with its Asia Pacific policy On several aspects the EU is compelled to redefine its interests and roles and rethink its strategies and policies towards the dynamic and ever important Asia Pacific region This volume addresses this theme by elaborating the general context major issues and countries in the EU's Asia Pacific policy It covers issue areas of traditional security economy and trade public diplomacy and human security and focuses on the EU's relations with China Japan the ASEAN countries and Australasia The EU-Thailand Relations Chaiyakorn Kiatpongsan, 2011 Een studie over het nieuw bilateralisme aan de hand van de ontwikkeling van de relatie tussen de EU en Thailand Asian-European Relations Jurgen Ruland, Gunter Schubert, Gunter Schucher, Cornelia Storz, 2008-02-29 Applying established theories to concrete phenomena Asian European Relations provides a comprehensive understanding of inter regionalism and how co operation between Asia and Europe should be fashioned in the new millennium It contributes to the most recent developments in research by providing impressively rich studies to test existing theoretical frameworks Symposia on Transatlantic Perspectives on Economic and Security Relations with China , 2004 Globalistics and Globalization Studies: Aspects & Dimensions of Global Views Arkadi D. Ursul, Endre Kiss, Alexander N. Chumakov, Olga G. Leonova, Tu Weiming, Peter G. Kirchsclaeger, Anthony Howell, Hae Kim, Jim Sheffield, 2014-04-30 Nowadays globalization processes have become all embracing But at the same time despite the ever increasing flow of publications on globalization our understanding and knowledge of it still leaves much to be desired Especially it concerns the global processes in general of which globalization is a part We also need to systematize our ideas about globalization and Global Studies to somehow fit the realities In particular this concerns the education process because the current state of education will determine the way people will perceive reality in the forthcoming decades This yearbook aims at contributing to the solution of these important tasks It is the third in the series of yearbooks titled Globalistics and Globalization Studies This year it has the following subtitle Aspects Dimensions of Global Views Its authors consider globalization and Global Studies in different dimensions and aspects philosophical methodological and pedagogical in terms of various processes problems and perspectives Of course to some extent this means that this yearbook presents rather diverse materials But globalization itself is very diverse And its comprehension may proceed in the framework of different theoretical approaches and points of view In the present yearbook one can find perceptions of globalization and Global Studies by a number of scholars from different countries of the world and learn rather peculiar visions of globalization by the Russian scientists and educators The yearbook will be interesting to a wide range of researchers teachers students and all those who pay attention to global issues Linking Trade and Security Vinod K. Aggarwal, Kristi Govella, 2012-10-10 The connections between trade and security are hardly new Analysts and practitioners have clearly recognized this interrelationship since the mercantilist arguments of the 16th and 17th centuries Despite wishful economic liberal thinking that might prefer to separate the political from the economic it is widely recognized that trade and security are fundamentally interconnected in the foreign policy of states Over time as new forms of trade policy have come into being and the international security environment has evolved the nexus of these two spheres has grown more complex and scholars have struggled to understand their interconnection This edited volume addresses linkages between trade and security by examining the influence of security factors in driving trade policy measures and the corresponding implications of different types of trade arrangements for international security Ultimately the project shows that several elements traditional economic factors traditional security factors and human security factors can affect the development of trade agreements and unilateral policies and that trade policies may have both a direct and an indirect effect on traditional and human security The project focuses on Asia a region where economics is increasingly important but many security issues still linger unresolved as a primary setting to test trade linkage theories It also provides a comparative perspective through examination of how the EU and US have used their trade policies to achieve non economic goals and how these policies have influenced their security environment Case studies in this project cover key trade institutions and agreements including the World Trade Organization the Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN Plus Three the East Asia Summit the Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation forum the Shanghai Cooperation Organization and bilateral preferential trade agreements

A Global Security Triangle Valeria Bello, Belachew Gebrewold, 2009-10-16 This book considers the interactions between Africa Asia and Europe analysing the short and long term strategies various states have adopted to external relations The urgency attached to the agenda of international terrorism and human and drugs trafficking has forced the European Union into new cooperation with Africa and Asia. These inter regional relations have taken on new dimensions in the context of contemporary international politics framed by new security challenges and new competitive forces particularly from Asia. This book provides both conceptual and empirical arguments to offer an innovative perspective on the EU as a global actor. It demonstrates how these three regions interact politically and economically to address global challenges as well as global opportunities and thus provides an assessment of the multilateralism which the EU clearly stated in its Security Strategy paper. Addressing a broad range of topical issues, the book features chapters on European Security, European Migration Policy, African Union and its peace and security policy, Terrorism and international security, China and its fast growing global role, India the biggest democracy in the world and the impact of the Asian economic growth on the global economy. Further, it compares the different backgrounds, forms and priorities of regional integrations. A Global Security Triangle will be of interest to all scholars of European politics, security studies, African and Asian studies and International Relations.

The European Union's Security Relations with Asian Partners Thomas Christiansen, Emil Kirchner, See Seng Tan, 2021-05-11. The contributions assess similarities and differences between the EU and its Asian partners with respect to levels of threat perception, policy response and security cooperation in the context of historical, institutional and external factors such as the influence of the United States. The book presents original empirical research organised in four parts: a number of contributions providing discussions of the global context in which EU Asia security relations develop; a series of chapters covering the range of dimensions of EU Asian security including both traditional and non military aspects of security; chapters addressing the specific issues touching on bilateral relations between the EU and its partners in the Asia Pacific region; and a final part presenting the overall findings across the various contributions together with the future outlook for EU Asia security relations.
