First Audition:

The Art of Auditioning Rob Decina, 2004-06-01 A network daytime casting director highlights the difference between the craft of acting and the business of auditioning and how those two worlds meet in television Included are proven effective preparation techniques including asking the right questions making specific acting choices sitting versus standing finding beats and beat changes using spontaneity and much more Also included are interviews with top daytime casting directors and actors advice on headshots and resumes and an examination of the difference between audition preparation and theatrical preparation Pierre Key's Music Year Book, 1925 Staging Shakespeare Brian Kulick, 2021-07-29 This book begins with a phone call You answer it and learn that you got the job Several months from now you re going to stage a Shakespeare play Now what do you do I mean what do you do after that initial burst of adrenalin has passed through your body and you realize you haven't a clue as to what the play is really about or what you might want to do with it How exactly do you prepare for such an equally wonderful and daunting task This is the central question of this book It grows out of decades of preparing for Shakespeare productions and watching others do the same It will save you some of the panic wasted time and fruitless paths experienced It guides you through the crucial period of preparation and helps focus on such issues as What Shakespeare's life work and world can tell us What patterns to look for in the text What techniques might help unpack Shakespeare's verse What approaches might unlock certain hidden meanings What literary lenses might bring things into sharper focus What secondary sources might lead to a broader contextual understanding What thought experiments might aid in visualizing the play Ultimately this book draws back the curtain and shows how the antique machinery of Shakespeare's theatre works The imaginative time span begins from the moment you learn that on such and such date you will begin rehearsing such and such Shakespeare play Our narrative clock starts ticking the moment you put down the phone and stops when you arrive at the rehearsal hall and begin your first table read So much of what will be the success or failure of a director's project rests on this work that is done before rehearsals even begin Directing Michael Rabiger, Mick Hurbis-Cherrier, 2013-02-11 This comprehensive manual has inspired tens of thousands of readers worldwide to realize their artistic vision and produce well constructed films Filled with practical advice on every stage of production this is the book you will return to throughout your career Directing covers the methods technologies thought processes and judgments that a director must use throughout the fascinating process of making a film The core of the book is the human psychological and technical knowledge that every director needs the enduring elements of the craft that remain vital Directing also provides an unusually clear view of the artistic process particularly in working with actors and principle crew to achieve personally expressive storytelling and professionalism on any budget Directing explores in detailed and applicable terms how to engage with the conceptual and authorial sides of filmmaking Its eminently practical tools and exercises show how to discover your artistic identity develop credible and compelling stories with your cast and crew and become a storyteller with a distinctive
