First Palm Trees:

First Steps in Scientific Knowledge ,1887 The Palm Tree Sophy Moody,1864 Palm-oil Industry of Sumatra and West Africa Sydney B. Redecker, Frank Messenger, 1927 BMom Crissy Shreve, 2014-02 Rich and real BMom is one woman's mosaic of love, life and loss and of being found among the pieces. No one piece is a whole yet all are precious together a masterpiece and each a gem. It's God restoring the shattered pieces of my life and my soul. His fingerprints are all over it. The reader will laugh and the reader will cry and in that we will become friends. BMom begins with my relinquishing my infant son into the hands of parents I couldn't know. It moves through the intervening years until he found me on to our reunion and beyond. Not only was I reunited with my son I was reunited with myself. Interspersed are various interludes that speak of lessons learned, feelings finally understood and felt and poetry written as part of my journey. BMom is entertaining and engaging while occasionally making a point to be taken or not as the reader chooses. BMom is above all else a good read.

Gathering the Desert Gary Paul Nabhan, 2016-10-01 Winner of the John Burroughs Association's John Burroughs Medal for natural history writing and a Southwest Book Award from the Border Regional Library Association. To the untrained eye, a desert is a wasteland that defies civilization, yet the desert has been home to native cultures for centuries and offers sustenance in its surprisingly wide range of plant life. Gary Paul Nabhan has combed the desert in search of plants forgotten by all but a handful of American Indians and Mexican Americans. In Gathering the Desert, readers will discover that the bounty of the desert is much more than meets the eye, whether found in the luscious fruit of the stately organ pipe cactus or in the lowly tepary bean. Nabhan has chosen a dozen of the more than 425 edible wild species found in the Sonoran Desert to demonstrate just how bountiful the land can be. From the red hot chiltepinies of Mexico to the palms of Palm Springs, each plant exemplifies a symbolic or ecological relationship which people of this region have had with plants through history. Each chapter focuses on a particular plant and is accompanied by an original drawing by artist Paul Mirocha. Word and picture together create a total impression of plants and people as the book traces the turn of seasons in the desert.

Trees in Paradise Jared Farmer, 2013-10-28 Describes how the first settlers in California changed the brown landscape there by creating groves, wooded suburbs and landscaped cities through planting eucalypts in the lowlands, citrus colonies in the south and palms in Los Angeles.

Ingersoll,Daniel W. Ingersoll Jr.,Christopher M. Stevenson,2017-08-09 Rapa Nui one of the world's most isolated island societies and home to the notable moai has been at the centre of a tense debate for the past decade. Some see it as the site of a dramatic cultural collapse occurring before Western contact where a self-inflicted ecocide was brought on by the exhaustion of resources. Others argue that the introduction of Western pathogens and the slave raids of 1862 were to blame for the near extinction of the otherwise resilient Rapa Nui people. Cultural and Environmental Change on Rapa Nui brings together the latest studies by prominent Rapa Nui researchers from all over the world to explore the island's past and present from its discovery by Polynesians through the first documented contact with Western culture in 1722 to the 20th century. The exiting new volume looks beyond the moai to examine such questions as: was there a cultural collapse? how did the Rapa Nui react to Westerners and what responses did the Rapa Nui develop to adjust to naturally or humanly induced environmental change? This volume will appeal to scholars and professionals in the fields of history, archaeology and ecology as well as anyone with an interest in the challenges of sustainable resource management and the contentious history of Rapa Nui itself.
