Philosophy of the Brain Georg Northoff, 2004 What is the mind What is the relationship between brain and mind These are common questions But What is the brain is a rare question in both the neurosciences and philosophy The reason for this may lie in the brain itself Is there a brain problem In this fresh and innovative book Georg Northoff demonstrates that there is in fact a brain problem He argues that our brain can only be understood when its empirical functions are directly related to the modes of acquiring knowledge our epistemic abilities and inabilities Drawing on the latest neuroscientific data and philosophical theories he provides an empirical epistemic definition of the brain Northoff reveals the basic conceptual confusion about the relationship between mind and brain that has so obstinately been lingering in both neuroscience and philosophy He subsequently develops an alternative framework where the integration of the brain within body and environment is central This novel approach plunges the reader into the depths of our own brain The Philosophy of the Brain that emerges opens the door to a fascinating world of new findings that explore journalistic excitement of the hunt are content printing public relations releases and carrying on their business in a joyless manner But it doesn't have to be this way Indeed as Christians it must not be this way We are called to excellence to do our work in such a way that it glorifies the Creator Himself This incisive book not only urges journalists to grasp the significance of their purpose but also shows them how to more effectively accomplish it As Olasky says If even fifty new talented biblically directed journalists were to emerge in America during the next few years the revitalization of Christian journalism would be well under way autobiographical practice as the essay film the video confession and the personal Web page Unique in its attention to diverse expressions of personal nonfiction filmmaking The Subject of Documentary forges a new understanding of the heightened role and function of subjectivity in contemporary documentary practice Michael Renov is professor of critical studies at the USC School of Cinema Television He is the editor of Theorizing Documentary and the coeditor of Resolutions Contemporary Video Practices Minnesota 1996 and Collecting Visible Evidence Minnesota 1999
