

FIRST MICHIGAN COLORED REGIMENT

The First Michigan Colored Regiment was organized at Camp Ward, which originally stood on this location. Formed from August through October, 1863, a year of draft riots and protests against the war, this Negro regiment consisted entirely of volunteers. During training, a regimental band was formed and toured southern Michigan to recruit additional volunteers. Mustered here as the 102nd U.S. Colored Troops, February 17, 1864, the 900-man unit left Detroit March 28, 1864, for service in South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. More than 1,400 men served in the regiment during 19 months in the field; ten per cent of this number died in service. The regiment was disbanded in October, 1865, in Detroit.

Gottfried, 2012-01-12 Learn about the paper brigade and the battle of Gettysburg in this incredible book Includes Gettysburg maps maps of Antietam artillery at Gettysburg and more Based on first hand accounts Author Bradley M Gottfried painstakingly pieced together each brigade s experience at the Battle of Gettysburg This brutal battle lasted for days and left soldiers with boredom and dread of what was to come when the guns stopped firing Visual resources are also in Gottfried s book including Gettysburg National Military Park maps Savas Beatie military atlas and more Readers will experience every angle of this epic fight through stories of forced marches weary troops and the bitter and tragic end of the battle This collection is a fascinating and lively narrative that empowers the soldiers who fought fiercely and died honorably Every moment of the Battle of Gettysburg is in this comprehensive book      The Boy Generals Adolfo Ovies, 2021-06-11 First in a trilogy a study of the strategy tactics and rivalry between two leaders of the Army of the Potomac s cavalry during the American Civil War George Armstrong Custer s career has attracted its fair share of coverage but most Custer related studies focus on his decision making and actions to the exclusion of other important factors including his relationships with his fellow officers Custer developed his tactical philosophy within the politically ridden atmosphere of the Army of the Potomac s Cavalry Corps His relationship with his immediate superior Wesley Merritt was so acrimonious that even Custer s wife Libbie described him as her husband s enemy The Boy Generals examines in detail the steadily deteriorating relationship of two cavalymen with opposing tactical philosophies and how this relationship affected events in the field Custer was a hussar a firm believer in the shock power of the mounted saber charge while Merritt was a dragoon his tactics rooted in the belief that the purpose of the horse was to transport the trooper to the battlefield where he could fight dismounted with his carbine With these diametrically opposed belief systems it was inevitable that these officers would clash What has often been described as a spirited rivalry was in fact something much darker an association that moved from initial distaste to acrimony and finally outright insubordination on Custer s part Author Adolfo Ovies mined deeply official reports regimental histories and contemporary newspaper accounts together with unpublished and little used primary sources of men who fought in their commands This rich and satisfying study exposes the depths of one of the most dysfunctional and influential relationships in the Army of the Potomac and how it affected cavalry operations in the Eastern Theater The Boy Generals will change the way Civil War readers think of the premier Union army s mounted arm as well as George Custer s legacy Praise for The Boy Generals A grand effort a Must Read It will be a standard bearer a marvelous book that should remain among the very best It will certainly grace my library Frederic C Wagner III author of The Strategy of Defeat at the Little Big Horn Well written thoroughly researched and entertaining This is one you cannot miss Eric J Wittenberg award winning author of The Devil s to Pay John Buford at Gettysburg A History and Walking Tour      The Maps of Spotsylvania

Through Cold Harbor Bradley M. Gottfried, 2023-01-04 The Maps of Spotsylvania through Cold Harbor continues Bradley M Gottfried's efforts to study and illustrate the major campaigns of the Civil War's Eastern Theater. This is the ninth book in the ongoing Savas Beatie Military Atlas Series. After three years of bloody combat in Virginia, President Abraham Lincoln promoted Ulysses S. Grant to general in chief in early 1864. Grant immediately went to work planning a comprehensive strategy to bring an end to the war. He hungered to remain with the Western armies but realized his place was in Washington. Unwilling to be stuck in an office, Grant joined George Meade's Army of the Potomac. His presence complicated Meade's ability to direct his army, but Grant promised to stay out of his way and give only strategic directives. This arrangement lasted through the Wilderness Campaign, the first action in what is now referred to as the Overland Campaign. This book continues the actions of both armies through the completion of the Overland Campaign. After the Wilderness fighting, the Army of the Potomac attempted to swing around the right flank of Gen. Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia and shoot straight for Richmond. The Confederate capital was never the goal; the move was intended to force Lee out into the open where the larger and well-stocked Union army could destroy it. The head of Lee's army blunted the enemy at Spotsylvania Court House, where both sides dug in. Days and men were wasted on fruitless attacks until Col. Emory Upton designed an audacious strike that temporarily penetrated Lee's works. A much larger offensive against the Mule Shoe two days later tore the line open, destroyed a Rebel division, and triggered a long day of fighting. More fighting convinced Grant of the folly of further attempts to crush Lee at Spotsylvania, and again he swung around the Rebel right flank. The march ignited almost continuous fighting at the North Anna, Bethesda Church, and Cold Harbor, where this volume ends. This study includes the various cavalry actions, including those at Spotsylvania Court House, Yellow Tavern, Haw's Tavern, and Matadequin Creek. The Maps of Spotsylvania through Cold Harbor breaks down the entire operation into thirty-five map sets or action sections, enriched with 134 detailed full-page color maps. These cartographic originals bore down to the regimental and battery level and include the march to and from the battlefields and virtually every significant event in between. At least two and as many as ten maps accompany each map set. Keyed to each piece of cartography is a full-facing page of detailed footnoted text describing the units, personalities, movements, and combat, including quotes from eyewitnesses depicted on the accompanying map, all of which make the Spotsylvania story come alive. This unique presentation allows readers to easily and quickly find a map and text on any portion of the campaign, from the march to Spotsylvania to Cold Harbor. Serious students will appreciate the extensive and authoritative endnotes and complete order of battle. Everyone will want to take the book along on trips to these battlefields. Perfect for the easy chair or for stomping the hallowed ground, The Maps of Spotsylvania through Cold Harbor is a seminal work that belongs on the bookshelf of every serious student of the battle.

send Thomas Stonewall Jackson's wing of the Army of Northern Virginia to confront Pope. A bloody battle at Cedar Mountain on August 9 halted Pope's move south and Jackson's raid on the vast stores at Manassas Junction triggered another confrontation this time at Kettle Run. When McClellan's troops abandoned the Peninsula, Lee moved his other wing under James Longstreet rapidly north. Pope missed an opportunity to prevent the junction of Lee's wings by not stopping Longstreet at Thoroughfare Gap. The battle of Second Bull Run began on the evening of August 28 when Jackson tangled with Union troops at the Brawner Farm. Pope spent much of the next day hammering Jackson's front with no idea that Longstreet was arriving on the field. The Union assaults continued on August 30 until Longstreet launched a massive assault that rolled up the Union left flank and collapsed Pope's army. The retreat was briefly interrupted by some of Jackson's units at Chantilly which ended the campaign. The Maps of Second Bull Run plows new ground by breaking down the entire campaign into 24 map sets or action sections enriched with 122 detailed full page color maps. These cartographic originals bore down to the regimental and battery level. They include the march to and from the battlefields and virtually every significant event in between including cavalry actions. At least two and as many as ten maps accompany each map set. Keyed to each piece of cartography is a full facing page of detailed text describing the units' personalities, movements and combat including quotes from eyewitnesses depicted on the accompanying map, all of which make the cavalry actions come alive. This presentation allows readers to easily find a map and text on any portion of the sprawling campaign. Serious students will appreciate the extensive endnotes and complete orders of battle and take the book with them to the battlefields. A final bonus is that the maps unlock every other book or article written on any aspect of the campaign. Perfect for the easy chair or for stomping the hallowed grounds. The Maps of Second Bull Run is a seminal work that belongs on the bookshelf of every serious and casual student of the battle.

The 22nd Michigan Infantry and the Road to Chickamauga John Cohassey, 2019-01-14. Called upon to take a hill at the 1863 Battle of Chickamauga, the untested 22nd Michigan Infantry helped to save General George H. Thomas' right flank. Formed in 1862, the regiment witnessed slavery and encountered runaways in the border state of Kentucky, faced near starvation during the siege of Chattanooga and marched to Atlanta as General Thomas' provost guard. This history explores the 22nd's day to day experiences in Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia. The author describes the challenges faced by volunteer farm boys, shopkeepers, school teachers and lawyers as they faced death, disease and starvation on battlefields and in Confederate prisons.

Trevilian Station, June 11-12, 1864 Joseph W. McKinney, 2016-03-02. In June 1864, General Ulysses Grant ordered his cavalry commander Philip Sheridan to conduct a raid to destroy the Virginia Central Railroad between Charlottesville and Richmond. Sheridan fell short of his objective when he was defeated by General Wade Hampton's cavalry in a two day battle at Trevilian Station. The first day's fighting saw dismounted Yankees and Rebels engaged at close range in dense forest. By day's end, Hampton had withdrawn to the west. Advancing the next morning, Sheridan found Hampton dug in behind hastily built fortifications and launched seven dismounted assaults each repulsed with heavy casualties As darkness fell the Confederates counterattacked driving the Union forces from the field Sheridan began his withdrawal that night an ordeal for his men the Union wounded and Confederate prisoners brought off the field and the hundreds of starved and exhausted horses that marked his retreat killed to prevent their falling into Confederate hands

The Nashville Campaign culminating with the last major battle of the Civil War is one of the most compelling and controversial campaigns of the conflict The campaign pitted the young and energetic James Harrison Wilson and his Union cavalry against the cunning and experienced Nathan Bedford Forrest with his Confederate cavalry This book is an analysis of contributions made by the two opposing cavalry forces and provides new insights and details into the actions of the cavalry during the battle This campaign highlighted important changes in cavalry tactics and never in the Civil War was there closer support by the cavalry for infantry actions than for the Union forces in the Battle of Nashville The retreat by Cheatham's corps and the Battle of the Barricade receive a more in depth discussion than in previous works on this battle The importance of this campaign cannot be overstated as a different outcome of this battle could have altered history The Nashville Campaign reflected the stark realities of the war across the country in December 1864 and would mark an important part of the death knell for the Confederacy
