Fischer / Spassky Report on the Chess Match of the Century Richard Roberts, Harold C. Schonberg, 2013-05 This book tells the story and the drama of the Chess Match of the Century There have been many books on the 1972 Match between Fischer and Spassky for the World Chess Championship However this book is different from the others in that it was written by professional writers who wrote regularly for The New York Times The quality of the writing is superior It also does not bore the non chess players who are likely to be reading this book It does not contain technical variations that were not played in the actual games It was only because his results showed that he was clearly the strongest player in the world that Lt Col Edmondson President of the United States Chess Federation and Max Euwe President of the World Chess Federation FIDE went to extraordinary lengths to get him to play Meanwhile the rest of us who knew Fischer watched from the sidelines feeling almost certain that Fischer would not sit down to play or if he did start the match he would never complete the schedule We were proven wrong and they were proven right Included in this reprint is a new introduction and all moves of
