Gallardo Fernandez, 2017-02-03 From Seascapes of extinction to seascapes of confidence Territorial Use Rights in Fisheries in Chile El Quisco and Puerto Oscuro by Gloria Gallardo Fernand s is an important contribution to our understanding of the multifaceted challenges underlying sustainable solutions to ecological fisheries the book describes how in Chile indiscriminate harvest of the edible shellfish Concholepas concholepas false abalone or Loco has been threatening not only the living of small scale artisan fishers but also the ecosystem In an attempt to strengthen the fishers livelihoods and at the same time recuperate the fish the Chilean government introduced the regulatory measure Management and Exploitation Areas for Benthic Resources MEABRs locally known as Management Areas MAs and internationally as Territorial Use Rights in Fisheries TURFs

World Small-scale Fisheries Ratana Chuenpagdee, 2011 The importance of fisheries is not lost in the global policy arena What is often overlooked in the general discourse however is the significant difference between small and large scale fisheries Major rethinking about all aspects of small scale fisheries is required including their contribution to catches employment livelihood food security and conservation This book is a collection of essays about the diverse complex and dynamic contexts that characterize small scale fisheries around the world The essays highlight the strengths capacity motivation and contributions associated with this fishing sector They remind us that solutions and opportunities for the viability and sustainability of small scale fisheries can be found once the issues are understood from a holistic perspective and possible options including inventive governance arrangements are fully explored The authors are scientists and practitioners who work in small scale fisheries in various parts of the world many of whom participated at the first World Small Scale Fisheries Congress WSFC held in Bangkok in October 2010 and are members of the global research network for the future of small scale fisheries Too Big To Ignore The editor Ratana Chuenpagdee the initiator of the WSFC is Canada Research Chair in Natural Resource

Sustainability and Community Development at Memorial University of Newfoundland Canada Book jacket The Fisheries Co-management Experience Douglas Clyde Wilson, Jesper Raakjaer Nielsen, Poul Degnbol, 2013-03-09 For two decades the idea of governments and fishers working together to manage fisheries has been advocated questioned disparaged and most importantly attempted in fisheries from North and South America through Europe Africa Asia and Oceania This book is the first time these experiences have been pulled together in a single volume summarized and explained The Fisheries Co management Experience begins with a review of the intellectual foundations of the co management idea from several professional perspectives Next fisheries researchers from six global regions describe what has been happening on the ground in their area Finally the volume offers a set of reflections by some of the best authors in the field The end result describes both the state of the art and emerging issues for one of the most important trends in natural resources management

Review of Fisheries in OECD Countries 2008: Policies and Summary Statistics OECD, 2009-07-10 This publication describes major developments affecting fisheries in OECD countries in 2004 2005 and some recent events of 2006 including changes in national and international policies trade and fisheries and aquaculture production Great Lakes Velma I. Grover, Gail Krantzberg, 2012-10-02 This edited volume while focusing on participatory governance in the Great Lakes basin of North America also gives a comparative perspective of the African Great Lakes The book describes the actions taken at degraded locations along the Great Lakes in North America through Remedial Action Plans RAP and other mechanisms with an aim to highlight Disintegrative Tendencies in Global Political Economy Gloria L. Gallardo Fernandez, 2017-02-03 From Seascapes of extinction to seascapes of confidence Territorial Use Rights in Fisheries in Chile El Quisco and Puerto Oscuro by Gloria Gallardo Fernandez is an important contribution to our understanding of the multifaceted challenges underlying sustainable solutions to ecological fisheries the book describes how in Chile indiscriminate harvest of the edible shellfish Concholepas concholepas false abalone or Loco has been threatening not only the living of small scale artisan fishers but also the ecosystem In an attempt to strengthen the fishers livelihoods and at the same time recuperate the fish the Chilean government introduced the regulatory measure Management and Exploitation Areas for Benthic Resources MEABRs locally known as Management Areas MAs and internationally as Territorial Use Rights in Fisheries TURFs Poverty Mosaics: Realities and Prospects in Small-Scale Fisheries Svein Jentoft, Arne Eide, 2011-07-15 Small scale fisheries are a major source of food and employment around the world Yet many small scale fishers work in conditions that are neither safe nor secure Millions of them are poor and often they are socially and politically marginalized Macro economic and institutional mechanisms are essential to address these poverty and vulnerability problems however interventions at the local community level are also necessary This requires deep understanding of what poverty means to the fishers their families and communities how they cope with it and the challenges they face to increase resiliency and improve their lives for the better This book provides a global perspective situating small scale fisheries within the broad academic discourse on poverty fisheries management and development In depth case studies from fifteen countries in Latin America Europe South and Southeast Asia and sub Saharan Africa demonstrate the enormously complex ecological economic social cultural and political contexts of this sector Conclusions for policy making formulated as a joint statement by the authors argue that fisheries development poverty alleviation and resource management must be integrated within a comprehensive governance approach that also looks beyond fisheries The scientific editors Svein Jentoft and Arne Eide are both with the Norwegian College of Fishery Science Faculty of Biosciences Fisheries and Economics University of Troms Norway Where Shrimp Eat Better than People Wilma Dunaway, Maria Cecilia Macabuac, 2022-10-31 East South and Southeast Asia are home to two thirds of the world s hungry people but they produce more than three quarters of the world s fish and nearly half of other foods Through integration into the world food system these Asian fisheries export their most nutritious foods and import less healthy substitutes Worldwide their exports sell cheap because women the hungriest Asians provide unpaid subsidies to production processes In the 21st century Asian peasants produce more than 60 percent of the regional food supply but their survival is threatened by hunger public depeasantization policies climate change land grabbing urbanization and debt bondage Where Shrimp Eat Better than People Globalized Fisheries Nutritional Unequal Exchange and Asian Hunger is now available in paperback for individual customers Human Dimensions of the Ecosystem Approach to Fisheries Cassandra De Young, Anthony Charles, Anthony Trevor Charles, Antonia Hjort, Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2008 This document aims to provide a better understanding of the role of the economic institutional and sociocultural components within the ecosystem approach to fisheries EAF process and to examine some potential methods and approaches that may facilitate the adoption of EAF management It explores both the human context for the ecosystem approach to fisheries and the human dimensions involved in implementing the EAF For the former the report provides background material essential to understand prior to embarking on EAF initiatives including an understanding of key concepts and issues of the valuation of aquatic ecosystems socially culturally and economically and of the many policy legal institutional social and economic considerations relevant to the EAF With respect to facilitating EAF implementation the report deals with a series of specific aspects 1 determining the boundaries scale and scope of the EAF 2 assessing the various benefits and costs involved seen from social economic ecological and management perspectives 3 utilizing appropriate decision making tools in EAF 4 creating and or adopting internal incentives and institutional arrangements to promote facilitate and fund the adoption of EAF management and 5 finding suitable external non fisheries approaches for financing EAF implementation Challenges in Tropical Coastal Zone Management Matthias Wolff, Sebastian C.A. Ferse, Hugh Govan, 2023-01-16 This book focuses on tropical coasts which are highly vulnerable due to a multitude of stressors Population growth is substantial habitats are lost and biodiversity is reduced at an alarming rate severely affecting many ecosystem services This situation calls for sound coastal management and the effective engagement of all relevant stakeholders About two decades ago the M Sc program ISATEC International Studies in Aquatic Tropical Ecology was created at Bremen University Germany to train young scientists for a professional engagement in the complex field of tropical coastal and resource management This book provides a platform for those Alumni to report on their work experiences and findings in their home countries and covers all regions of the tropical belt Part I of the book provides a short review of the state of the tropical ocean and its resources and of international attempts towards sustainable ocean management starting with the Rio Declaration on Environment and Development in 1992 Part II deals with country case studies and part III focuses on an evaluation synopsis of those contributions Emerging key issues for management and conservation of the tropical coastal environments are presented and critical challenges on the path towards reaching the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs are discussed as are the needs for enhancing research and capacity development

Institutions, Economic Performance and Sustainable Development Biman C. Prasad, Clement Allan Tisdell, 2006 Fiji has distinct institutional features that make it an ideal case for examining and discussing the consequences of institutional arrangements particularly the nature of property rights for national economic performance development prospects and the state of the environment which in turn reflects a nation's ability to achieve sustainable development Furthermore the nature of institutional arrangements in Fiji can be used to illustrate aspects of both the new and the old institutional economics Apart from the fact that Fiji provides considerable scope for the exploration of institutional economics and its applications Fiji is a comparatively important island nation in the south west Pacific that is an important member of the Pacific Island Forum grouping of 14 island nations The recent development of Fiji has been much influenced by its social history particularly by its institutional structures established or codified during British colonial rule Its present racial composition is largely a product of British colonisation of Indians brought to Fiji by the British to produce sugar cane as a contribution to the economic development of the former British Empire In many respects the type of global imperialism that was well established during the nineteenth century was a forerunner to modern economic globalisation which involves a mixture of free trading blocs and multilateralism The current population mixture of Fiji consisting of about equal numbers of Indian Fijians and Indigenous Fijians has its roots in Fiji's colonial history Furthermore the codified systems of property rights which largely excludes Indian Fijians from the ownership of land was established by the British It has been a major source of ethnic tension and of social and political conflict in Fiji We show that this system of property rights has had important negative consequences for economic growth in Fiji for the economic performance of its industries and for the conservation of its natural resources natural resources which may not be equitable and which also does not appear to be efficient administratively This adds to social and political tension in Fiji

Journal of Economic Literature ,2005 Global Challenges and the Law of the Sea Marta Chantal Ribeiro, Fernando Loureiro Bastos, Tore Henriksen, 2020-05-23 This book analyses a selection of challenges in the implementation and application of the 1982 UN Convention on the Law of the Sea UNCLOS focusing on several areas international organizations fisheries security preserving marine biodiversity dispute settlement and interaction with other areas of international law UNCLOS has been described as the Constitution for the Oceans It sets out the fundamental rights obligations and jurisdictions of States regarding the access to uses and management of the oceans and seas and their resources It balances States diverse and sometimes conflicting interests such as conflicting uses of space against navigational interests and the protection of the marine environment UNCLOS is the first global treaty to include comprehensive obligations on the protection and preservation of the marine environment including the conservation of living marine resources These are often common or cross border challenges which can only be addressed through international cooperation The book is divided into three thematic parts The first concerns the role of international organizations in ocean governance It includes twelve chapters covering a very diverse set of issues both materially and geographically that demonstrate the importance of coordinated actions on the part of multiple States for obtaining harmonized solutions regarding the pursuit of activities in maritime spaces in connection with e g navigation fisheries or maritime security The second part concerns the relevance of dispute settlement mechanisms for understanding the international law of the sea and the international legal framework within which the actions of the great maritime powers take place It is composed of three chapters examining stakeholders role in dispute settlement the position taken by China and the Russian Federation regarding international litigation in maritime spaces and how the South China Sea Award may be relevant to the debate on the international legal concepts of rock and island In turn the third part addresses current discussions on the conservation and sustainable use of marine biological diversity of areas beyond national jurisdiction Its seven chapters report on the status quo of the ongoing negotiations for a new international legal regime of the high seas and the establishment and operationalization of environmental regimes for international maritime spaces
