The Elements and Patterns of Being Donald C. Williams, 2018-03-09 The Harvard philosopher Donald C Williams 1899 1983 was a key figure in the history of analytic philosophy He played a crucial role in reviving metaphysics at a time when other philosophers ridiculed criticized and committed it to the flames He constructed an explanatorily powerful and parsimonious ontology and cosmology founded on logic science and common sense His most influential articles were on the metaphysics of properties The Elements of Being and the metaphysics of time The Sea Fight Tomorrow The Myth of Passage His ontology of abstract particulars or tropes and his four dimensional manifold theory of time remain leading hypotheses in metaphysics Because of his novel contributions and his defense of metaphysics he made a lasting impact on philosophers of the next generation who in turn believed in the substance of metaphysical inquiry A R J Fisher brings together Williams s seminal articles in metaphysics along with previously unpublished essays that shed new light on his philosophical outlook and complete his metaphysical vision This volume with its comprehensive Introduction is set to be the definitive source for Williams s work both for historians of analytic philosophy and for contemporary metaphysicians

"The" London and Westminster Review, 1840 The Life and Work of Martin Johnson Heade Theodore E.

Stebbins, Janet L. Comey, Martin Johnson Heade, Karen E. Quinn, 2000-01-01 Martin Johnson Heade was one of the most significant American painters of the nineteenth century creator of portraits history and genre pictures still lifes ornithological studies landscapes and marines and his own unique orchid and hummingbird compositions This book brings a perspective to Heade and his works presenting him as one of the most original and productive painters of his time Theodore Stebbins builds on his acclaimed 1975 study of Heade drawing on several newly discovered collections of Heade s letters and the painter s own Brazilian journal Stebbins tells of Heade s training and early career as an itinerant portraitist and discusses his move to New York where under the influence of Frederic E Church he began painting landscapes and seascapes He examines Heade s relationships with patrons and dealers writers and scientists and he sheds new light on Heade s trips to Brazil to the Central American tropics and to London And he describes Heade s move to Florida in 1883 which marked not his retirement but a final period of creativity that lasted until his death in 1904 The book includes not only an examination of Heade s life and works but also reproductions of all his 620 known paintings including nearly 250 that have been discovered since 1975

The Westminster Review ,1840 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Dance and Philosophy ,2021-01-28 An innovative examination of the ways in which dance and philosophy inform each other Dance and Philosophy brings together authorities from a variety of disciplines to expand our understanding of dance and dance scholarship Featuring an eclectic mix of materials from exposes to dance therapy sessions to demonstrations Dance and Philosophy addresses centuries of scholarship dance practice the impacts of technological and social change politics cultural diversity and performance Structured thematically to draw out the connection between different perspectives this books covers Philosophy practice and how it corresponds to dance Movement embodiment and temporality Philosophy and dance traditions in everyday life The intersection between dance and technology Critical reflections on dance Offering important contributions to our understanding of dance as well as expanding the study of philosophy this book is key to sparking new conversations concerning the philosophy of dance Appleton's Library Manual Daniel APPLETON (AND CO.),1847 Animating the Antique Sarah Betzer,2022-01-28 Framed by tensions between figural sculpture experienced in the round and its translation into two dimensional representations Animating the Antique explores enthralling episodes in a history of artistic and aesthetic encounters Moving across varied locations among them Rome Florence Naples London Dresden and Paris Sarah Betzer explores a history that has yet to be written that of the Janus faced nature of interactions with the antique by which sculptures and beholders alike were caught between the promise of animation and the threat of mortification Examining the traces of affective and transformative sculptural encounters the book takes off from the decades marked by the archaeological art historical and art philosophical developments of the mid eighteenth century and culminantes in fin de si cle anthropological psychological and empathic frameworks It turns on two fundamental and interconnected arguments that an eighteenth century ontology of ancient sculpture continued to inform encounters with the antique well into the nineteenth century and that by attending to the enduring power of this model we can newly appreciate the distinctively modern terms of antique sculpture s allure As Betzer shows these eighteenth century developments had far reaching ramifications for the making and beholding of modern art the articulations of art theory the writing of art history and a significantly queer Nachleben of the antique Bold and wide ranging Animating the Antique sheds light upon the work of myriad artists in addition to that of writers ranging from Goethe and Winckelmann to Hegel Walter Pater and Vernon Lee It will be especially welcomed by scholars and students working in eighteenth and nineteenth century art history art writing and art historiography

The Visual Culture Reader Nicholas Mirzoeff, 2002 This thoroughly revised and updated second edition of The Visual Culture Reader brings together key writings as well as specially commissioned articles covering a wealth of visual forms including photography painting sculpture fashion advertising television cinema and digital culture The Reader features an introductory section tracing the development of visual culture studies in response to globalization and digital culture and articles grouped into thematic sections each prefaced by an introduction by the editor and conclude with suggestions for further reading

The New Monuments and the End of Man Robert Slifkin, 2019-11-05 How leading American artists reflected on the fate of humanity in the nuclear era through monumental sculpture In the wake of the atomic bombings of Japan in 1945 artists in the United States began to question what it meant to create a work of art in a world where humanity could be rendered extinct by its own hand The New Monuments and the End of Man examines how some of the most important artists of postwar America revived the neglected tradition of the sculptural monument as a way to grapple with the cultural and existential anxieties surrounding the threat of nuclear annihilation Robert Slifkin looks at such iconic works as the industrially evocative welded steel sculptures of David Smith the austere structures of Donald Judd and the desolate yet picturesque earthworks of Robert Smithson Transforming how we understand this crucial moment in American art he traces the intersections of postwar sculptural practice with cybernetic theory science fiction cinema and literature and the political debates surrounding nuclear warfare Slifkin identifies previously unrecognized affinities of the sculpture of the 1940s and 1950s with the minimalism and land art of the 1960s and 1970s and acknowledges the important contributions of postwar artists who have been marginalized until now such as Raoul Hague Peter Gripppe and Robert Mallary Strikingly illustrated throughout The New Monuments and the End of Man spans the decades from Hiroshima to the Fall of Saigon when the atomic bomb cast its shadow over American art
