Ethical Patterns In Early Christian Thought:

Ethical Patterns in Early Christian Thought Eric Osborn, 1976-01-08 In so called Christian countries an increasing number of people openly reject Christian morality It is a commonplace that they do this for values that can be shown to be Christian How did this state of affairs come about An examination of the beginning of Christian ethical thought shows that within great personal variety certain patterns or concepts remain constant Righteousness discipleship faith and love are traced in this book from the New Testament through to Augustine There is a necessary tension between high ideals and practical performance or between perfection and contingency When this tension is lost Christian ethics can easily go wrong The amoral perfectionism of second century Gnostics is remarkably similar to the mysticism of communal movements the opposite threat of legalism has always been present in conservative forms of Christianity Dr Osborn is concerned to explain rather than to defend to look at the way conclusions are reached and to show the rich diversity of early Christian thought Successive chapters deal with the New Testament Clement of Alexandria Basil the Great John Chrysostom and Augustine

Ethical Patterns in Early Christian Thought Eric Francis Osborn, 1978 The Routledge Handbook of Early Christian Philosophy Mark Edwards, 2020-11-29 This volume offers the most comprehensive survey available of the philosophical background to the works of early Christian writers and the development of early Christian doctrine It examines how the same philosophical questions were approached by Christian and pagan thinkers the philosophical element in Christian doctrines the interaction of particular philosophies with Christian thought and the constructive use of existing philosophies by all Christian thinkers of late antiquity While most studies of ancient Christian writers and the development of early Christian doctrine make some reference to the philosophic background this is often of an anecdotal character and does not enable the reader to determine whether the likenesses are deep or superficial or how pervasively one particular philosopher may have influenced Christian thought This volume is designed to provide not only a body of facts more compendious than can be found elsewhere but the contextual information which will enable readers to judge or clarify the statements that they encounter in works of more limited scope With contributions by an international group of experts in both philosophy and Christian thought this is an invaluable resource for scholars of early Christianity Late Antiquity and ancient philosophy alike

Ian H. McDonald, 2016-04-29 The Crucible of Christian Morality explores the notion of Christian ethics and discusses its roots in the teachings of Jesus and also Hellenistic philosophy Its significance in developing moral standards throughout the world and its stability in the modern world The Crucible of Christian Morality uses new critical perspectives including the sociology of knowledge and discourse analysis J Ian H McDonald challenges conventional approaches by focusing on the behaviour of early Christian communities rather than their texts to shed new light on the nature of Christian morality in its earliest and most formative years Tertullian, First Theologian of the West Eric Osborn, 2003-12-04 Tertullian was the first western Christian to write theology defending Christians against the hostility of the Roman state as well as arguing against Marcion Praxeas and theosophical fantasy A complex thinker Tertullian has in the modern era been rejected by both liberal Christianity and its secular critics But his ideas have become more accessible in our century which has seen the destruction of Enlightenment beliefs that reason should lead to a quasi mathematical system The work of G del Wittgenstein Rorty and so many others has opened up the way for an understanding of Tertullian's passion for opposites contingency and rational argument For a long time misquoted and misused Tertullian now calls for sustained analysis and interpretation This book offers a major reappraisal of his theology and its influence on the shape of the western Christian tradition Moral Formation and the Virtuous Life Paul M. Blowers, 2019-07-02 In Moral Formation and the Virtuous Life volume editor Paul M Blowers has translated and gathered several key texts from early Christian sources to explore the broad themes of moral conscience and ethics Readers will gain a sense of how moral formation was part of a process sustained by pastoral instruction and admonition based on ritual practice baptism eucharist and liturgy as well as learned ethical behaviors related to moral issues such as sexual ethics marriage and celibacy wealth and poverty pagan entertainment military service and more Moral Formation and the Virtuous Life is part of Ad Fontes Early Christian Sources a series designed to present ancient Christian texts essential to an understanding of Christian theology ecclesiology and practice The books in the series will make the wealth of early Christian thought available to new generations of students of theology and provide a valuable resource for the Church Developed in light of recent Patristic scholarship the volumes will provide a representative sampling of theological contributions from both East and West The series aims to provide volumes that are relevant for a variety of courses from introduction to theology to classes on doctrine and the development of Christian thought The goal of each volume is not to be exhaustive but rather representative enough to denote for a non specialist audience the multivalent character of early Christian thought allowing readers to see how and why early Christian doctrine and practice developed the way it did A Bibliographic Guide to the Comparative Study of Ethics John Braisted Carman, Mark Juergensmeyer, William Darrow, 1991-04-26 This bibliography is the culmination of four years work by a team of noted scholars its annotated entries are organised by religious tradition and cover each tradition s central concepts offering a judicious selection of primary and secondary works as well as recommendations of cross cultural topics to be explored Specialists in the history and literature of religions and comparative religion will find this bibliography a valuable research tool Social Justice and the Legitimacy of Slavery Ilaria L. E. Ramelli, 2016-11-17 Were slavery and social injustice leading to dire poverty in antiquity and late antiquity only regarded as normal natural Aristotle or at best something morally indifferent the Stoics or in the Christian milieu a sad but inevitable consequence of the Fall or even an expression of God s unquestionable will Social Justice and the Legitimacy of Slavery shows that there were also definitive condemnations of slavery and social injustice as iniquitous and even impious and that these came especially from ascetics both in Judaism and in Christianity and occasionally also in Greco Roman pagan philosophy Ilaria L E Ramelli argues that this depends on a link not only between asceticism and renunciation but also between asceticism and justice at least in ancient and late antique philosophical asceticism Ramelli provides a careful investigation through all of Ancient Philosophy not only Aristotle and the Stoics but also the Sophists Socrates Plato the Neoplatonists and much more Ancient to Rabbinic Judaism Hellenistic Jewish ascetic groups such as the Essenes and the Therapeutae all of the New Testament with special focus on Paul and Jesus and Greek Latin and Syriac Patristic from Clement and Origen to the Cappadocians from John Chrysostom to Theodoret to Byzantine monastics from Ambrose to Augustine from Bardaisan to Aphrahat without neglecting the Christianized Sentences of Sextus In particular Ramelli considers Gregory of Nyssa and the interrelation between theory and practice in all of these ancient and patristic philosophers as well as to the parallels that emerge in their arguments against slavery and against social injustice The Sentences of Sextus and the Origins of Christian Asceticism Daniele Pevarello, 2013-11-19 Daniele Pevarello analyzes the Sentences of Sextus a second century collection of Greek aphorisms compiled by Sextus an otherwise unknown Christian author The specific character of Sextus collection lies in the fact that the Sentences are a Christian rewriting of Hellenistic sayings some of which are still preserved in pagan gnomologies and in Porphyry Pevarello investigates the problem of continuity and discontinuity between the ascetic tendencies of the Christian compiler and aphorisms promoting self control in his pagan sources In particular he shows how some aspects of the Stoic Cynic Platonic and Pythagorean moral traditions such as sexual restraint voluntary poverty the practice of silence and of a secluded life were creatively combined with Sextus ascetic agenda against the background of the biblical tradition Drawing on this adoption of Hellenistic moral traditions Pevarello shows how great a part the moral tradition of Greek paideia played in the shaping and development of self restraint among early Christian ascetics The Spirit of God Michael A.G.

Haykin,2015-12-22 The Spirit of God examines the use of 1 and 2 Corinthians by two fourth century Greek Christian authors Athanasius and Basil of Caesarea especially as it relates to the doctrine of the Holy Spirit The controversy over the nature and status of the Spirit during the latter half of the fourth century is detailed in order to place in context the examination of the way in which the theological concerns of Athanasius and Basil shaped their pneumatological interpretation of the Corinthian correspondence This examination will be of value to patristic scholars interested in the way that Scripture was employed in the fourth century to hammer out doctrine
