Foucault and Educational Ethics Bruce Moghtader, 2015-10-29 In his works on ethics Foucault turned towards an examination of one's relationship with oneself and others This differs from the modern approaches that explore the relationship between and the responsibilities of actors to each other by adopting criteria Ethical criteria engender assumptions about the actors by focusing on their responsibilities Instead of relying on criteria Foucault's writing and lectures contributed to an awareness of the activities we take upon ourselves as ethical subjects His reconstruction of the Greco Roman ethics seeks to examine the possibilities of the reconstitution and transformation of subjectivity Through this he offers an avenue of understanding the formation of ethical subjects in their educational interrelationships

Towards Professional Wisdom Cecelia Clegg, 2016-02-24 People professions such as social work teaching nursing ministry and counselling are at heart ethical or moral enterprises Much recent theorizing has been concerned to show that effective professional deliberation and judgement cannot be reduced either to technical rationality or to simple obedience to general occupational procedures or prescriptions Professional judgement would seem to require the development of a distinctive mode of practical ethical reflection or wisdom perhaps along the lines of Aristotle's phronesis or practical wisdom Reflection is required to address such key professional concerns as What is the impact of official prescription and regulation on professional judgement How should conflicts of professional judgement and public political accountability be resolved How might one reconcile tensions between universal justice and equality and particular client need What is the role of emotion and or affect in people professional practice This ground breaking work addresses in a thoroughly multidisciplinary way the central question of the nature of professional judgement and deliberation that has recently come to the fore in the academic literature of profession and professionalism It proposes a marked shift in theory practice and policy making away from technical rational approaches to professional decision making in favour of reflection and deliberation informed by responsible moral judgement This reflects a significant progressive trend in this literature by taking practical wisdom rather than technical rationality to lie at the heart of professional judgement It is unique in bringing together key authors from different professional fields to address the issue of professional wisdom in a cross professional and multidisciplinary way

Social Justice, Peace, and Environmental Education

Julie Andrzejewski, Marta Baltodano, Linda Symcox, 2009-04-01 The concept of standards seems antithetical to the ways critical educators are dedicated to teaching but what would standards look like if they were generated from social justice perspectives and through collaborative and inclusive processes Such is the central question posed by the contributors of this groundbreaking collection on the interconnectivity of social justice peace and environmental preservation Challenging education that promotes consumerism careerism and corporate profiteering they boldly offer examples of a new paradigm for practicing a transformative critical pedagogy Rather than just talking about coalition building within and across educational communities they demonstrate how we might communicate from different vantage points and disciplinary boundaries to create a broader picture of social and eco justice Social Justice Peace and Environmental Education will be required reading for educators and students who want to envision and practice living acting and teaching for a better world
