Ethnicity And Power In The Contemporary World:

Ethnicity and Power in the Contemporary World Kumar Rupesinghe, V. A. Tishkov, Valeriĭ Aleksandrovich Tishkov, 1996
Violent internal conflicts are the predominant form of warfare in the world today and there is an urgent need to understand their causes and find ways for their prevention and resolution The book presents a variety of perspectives, conceptions, arguments and conclusions regarding ethnicity, power and conflict in the contemporary world Power, Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World Athina Karatzogianni, Andrew Robinson, 2009-10-16 This book examines issues of organisation in resistance movements discussing topics including the integration of the world system, the intersection of networks with discourses of identity and the possibility of social transformation Drawing on a number of theorists including Deleuze and Guattari, authors Athina Karatzogianni and Andrew Robinson seek to reinterpret World Systems Theory in order to engage with issues of power, resistance and conflict in the contemporary world Discussing contemporary scholarship in global politics, the authors consider new and developing concepts including global cities, bifurcations, hegemonic transitions, the relationship between capitalism and the state, the position of East Asia and active and reactive network movements Their analysis includes a very rich pool of empirical examples covering more than fifty countries and thirty resistance groups Power, Resistance and Conflict in the Contemporary World will be of interest to students and scholars looking for a comprehensive new theorization of the forces at work in global politics The book provides a framework which crosses the boundaries between international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, conflict studies, social movement studies and critical theory producing a study of a highly interdisciplinary scope The Power of Urban Ethnic Places Jan Lin, 2010-10-18 The Power of Ethnic Places discusses the growing visibility of ethnic heritage places in U.S. society The book examines a spectrum of case studies of Chinese, Latino and African American communities in the U.S. disagreeing with any perceptions that the rise of ethnic enclaves and heritage places are harbingers of separatism or balkanization Instead, the text argues that by better understanding the power and dynamics of ethnic enclaves and heritage places in our society, we as a society will be better prepared to harness the economic and cultural changes related to globalization rather than be hurt or divided by these same forces of economic and cultural restructuring Race and Power Gargi Bhattacharyya, John Gabriel, Stephen Small, 2016-04-29 Reviewing cutting edge debates around racial politics and the culture and economy of globalization, this book draws together a wide range of important contemporary debates in a clear and concise way for undergraduate students Far from concluding that racism is over, the authors contend that the forces of globalization inhabit older cultures of racial division in order to safeguard the economic interests of the privileged Arguing that the unspoken culture of whiteness informs much that passes in the name of globalization, the book suggests that we are witnessing a reformulation of economic relations around global racism Alongside these shifts in economic relations, racialized identities evolve to encompass mixed heritages and mixed cultures both in personal identities and in lifestyle choices This is one of the few texts that concentrates on the theory of race rather than politics It looks at race in global terms and at whiteness as a part of ethnic studies Tibetan Medicine in the Contemporary World Laurent Pordié, 2012-08-21 The popularity of Tibetan medicine plays a central role in the international market for alternative medicine and has been increasing and extending far beyond its original cultural area becoming a global phenomenon This book analyses Tibetan medicine in the 21st century by considering the contemporary reasons that have led to its diversity and by bringing out the common orientations of this medical system Using case studies that examine of the social political and identity dynamics of Tibetan medicine in Nepal India the PRC Mongolia the UK and the US the contributors to this book answer the following three fundamental questions What are the modalities and issues involved in the social and therapeutic transformations of Tibetan medicine How are national policies and health reforms connected to the processes of contemporary redefinition of this medicine How does Tibetan medicine fit into the present globalized context of the medical world Written by experts in the field from the US France Canada China and the UK this book will be invaluable to students and scholars interested in contemporary medicine Tibetan studies health studies and the anthropology of Asia Winner of the ICAS Colleagues Choice Award 2009 Emotion, Race, and Space in Contemporary African American Literature Marijana Mikić, 2025-05-13 This open access book examines how selected African American authors Colson Whitehead Edward P Jones Toni Morrison Brit Bennett Percival Everett Maurice Carlos Ruffin Sherri L Smith and N K Jemisin narrate relationships between emotion race and space On the one hand they bear witness to the structural production of Black emotional pain at the confluence of racial and spatial discrimination On the other hand they reveal meaningful and subversive interlinkages between Black emotional experiences and Black spatial practices Weaving together insights from psychology narrative theory African American studies affect theory and Black Geographies Marijana Miki interrogates fear hope shame guilt anger and grief in relation to the racial geographic projects of slavery Jim Crow segregation and their continued legacies Miki draws attention to the narrative strategies contemporary African American authors employ to prompt their readers engagement with both the pain and the possibility that continues to shape Black lives in the twenty first century Race, Class, and Power Leo Kuper, 2017-07-05 Examining in detail the apparently inexorable polarization of society in such countries as Rwanda Algeria and South Africa the author questions whether current theories correctly explain the past or offer adequate guides for the future In their place he puts forward an alternative neo Durkheimian view of the possibility of non violent revolutionary change based on the development of such social and cultural continuities as already exist within each plural society But he warns that this is an age of passionate commitment to violence in which vicarious killers abound in search of a Vietnam of their own The aim of this groundbreaking and challenging book is to create theoretical perspectives in which to view the racial conflict of plural societies Written in the turbulent early 1970s the book demonstrates the inadequacy of then prevailing views such as Marxist interpretations of racial conflict as class struggle and the Fanon a priori rejection of non violent techniques of change which Kuper holds responsible for the acceptance of what he calls the platitudes of violence The book concludes with more personal sections focusing on the author's struggles with the then prevailing South African society critiques of that and censorship of his attempts to make these public In the light of subsequent changes in South Africa many decades later this book serves not only as an important work of political sociology but as a personal testament to the fight against racism in South Africa Leo Kuper was professor of sociology and director of the African Studies Center at the University of California Los Angeles A South African by birth he was one of the first writers on genocide as well as other aspects of African studies and urban sociology His major book Genocide Penguin 1981 remains in print The Leo Kuper Foundation is a non governmental organization dedicated to the eradication of genocide through research advice and education It was created in Washington DC in 1994 following the death of Leo Kuper with the aim of improving measures to prevent genocide The main area of work for the past five years has been in support of the creation of an International Criminal Court Troy Duster is director at the Institute for the History of the Production of Knowledge New York University

Ethnic Politics and Democratic Transition in Rwanda David E. Kiwuwa, 2012 This book offers an examination of how a deeply divided post conflict society embarks on democratic transition Using Rwanda as the case study it combines analysis of democratic transition and ethnopolitical debate asking why deeply divided ethnic societies have a tendency to fail Though marginalised in existing literature on democratic transition this path breaking book shows how ethnicity has a significant impact on the direction and success of democratic process The initial failure of democratic transition in Rwanda shows that the current regime will need to be sensitive to ethnicity ethnopolitical consciousness and mobility in order to be successful in its second transition attempt Based on key informant interviews participant observation and primary resources this book develops beyond the case study of Rwanda to posit a new framework that integrates variables of unity equality trust and institutional engineering in an integrative model to study and evaluate democratic transition in divided or post conflict society Ethnic Politics and Democratic Transition in Rwanda will be of interest to students and scholars of democratization democracy and ethnic politics and conflict

Power And Prejudice Paul Gordon Lauren, 2018-02-21 Since it first appeared Power and Prejudice has been hailed as a bold pioneering work dealing with one of the central and most controversial issues of our time the relationship between racial prejudice and global conflict Powerfully written and based on documents from archives on several continents this award winning book convincingly demonstrates that the racial issue or what W E B Du Bois called the problem of the twentieth century has profoundly influenced most major developments in international politics and diplomacy Lauren begins with a thought provoking discussion of the heavy burden of history's pattern of conquest and slavery wherein skin color identified master and slave conqueror and conquered He then examines bitter twentieth century conflicts over race including immigration exclusion and the Yellow Peril the Final Solution of the Holocaust decolonization the impact of the Cold War on the civil rights movement and the global struggle against racial prejudice In this new edition

Lauren adds dimensions about Asia Latin America and the Pacific exploring the racial dimensions of immigration exclusion and warfare He contributes significant new material about international issues regarding indigenous peoples around the world including self determination sovereignty and discrimination And finally he examines the dramatic events surrounding the end of apartheid in South Africa Eloquent provocative and informed by first rate scholarship the insights of this highly original work will appeal to general readers as well as to students and scholars from a broad range of disciplines Toward a Global Idea of Race Denise Ferreira Da Silva, In this far ranging and penetrating work Denise Ferreira da Silva asks why after more than five hundred years of violence perpetrated by Europeans against people of color is there no ethical outrage Rejecting the prevailing view that social categories of difference such as race and culture operate solely as principles of exclusion Silva presents a critique of modern thought that shows how racial knowledge and power produce global space Looking at the United States and Brazil she argues that modern subjects are formed in philosophical accounts that presume two ontological moments historicity and globality which are refigured in the concepts of the nation and the racial respectively By displacing historicity s ontological prerogative Silva proposes that the notion of racial difference governs the present global power configuration because it institutes moral regions not covered by the leading post Enlightenment ethical ideals namely universality and self determination By introducing a view of the racial as the signifier of globalit y Toward a Global Idea of Race provides a new basis for the investigation of past and present modern social processes and contexts of subjection Denise Ferreira da Silva is associate professor of ethnic studies at University of California San Diego Culture, Ethnicity and Migration After Communism Anton Popov, 2016-06-10 This book addresses the issue of emerging transnationalism in the conditions of post socialism through focusing on migrants identity as a social construction resulting from their experience of the transnational circuit of culture as well as from post Soviet shifts in political and economic conditions in their home regions Anton Popov draws upon ethnographic research conducted among Greek transnational migrants living on the Black Sea coast and in the North Caucasus regions of Russia who have become involved in extensive cross border migration between the former Soviet Union the Russian Federation Kazakhstan and Georgia and Greece as well as Cyprus It is estimated that more than 150 000 former Soviet citizens of Greek origin have resettled in Greece since the late 1980s Yet many of those who emigrate do not cut their connections with the home communities in Russia but instead establish their own transnational circuit of travel between Greece and Russia This study demonstrates how migrants employ their ethnicity as symbolic capital available for investment in transnational migration Simultaneously they rework their practices of family networking property relations and political participation in a way which strengthens their attachment to the local territory The findings presented in the book imply that the social identities economic strategies political practices and cultural representation of the Russia s Pontic Greeks are all deeply embedded in the shifting social and cultural landscape of post Soviet Russia and extensively influenced by the global movement of ideas goods and people The Social Science Encyclopedia Adam Kuper, Jessica Kuper, 2004-10-14 The Social Science Encyclopedia first published in 1985 to acclaim from social scientists librarians and students was thoroughly revised in 1996 when reviewers began to describe it as a classic This third edition has been radically recast Over half the entries are new or have been entirely rewritten and most of the balance have been substantially revised Written by an international team of contributors the Encyclopedia offers a global perspective on key issues within the social sciences Some 500 entries cover a variety of enduring and newly vital areas of study and research methods Experts review theoretical debates from neo evolutionism and rational choice theory to poststructuralism and address the great questions that cut across the social sciences What is the influence of genes on behaviour What is the nature of consciousness and cognition What are the causes of poverty and wealth What are the roots of conflict wars revolutions and genocidal violence This authoritative reference work is aimed at anyone with a serious interest in contemporary academic thinking about the individual in society

Ethnicity and Nationalism in Post-Imperial Britain Harry Goulbourne, 1991-08-30 An examination of how post imperial Britain has come to define the national community in terms of ethnic affinity

Race and Racism in International Relations Alexander Anievas, Nivi Manchanda, Robbie Shilliam, 2014-10-30 International Relations as a discipline does not grant race and racism explanatory agency in its conventional analyses despite such issues being integral to the birth of the discipline Race and Racism in International Relations seeks to remedy this oversight by acting as a catalyst for remembering exposing and critically re articulating the central importance of race and racism in International Relations Focusing especially on the theoretical and political legacy of W E B Du Bois s concept of the colour line the cutting edge contributions in this text provide an accessible entry point for both International Relations students and scholars into the literature and debates on race and racism by borrowing insights from disciplines such as history anthropology and sociology where race and race theory figures more prominently yet they also suggest that the field of IR is itself an intellectually and strategic field through which to further confront the global colour line Drawing together a wide range of contributors this much needed text will be essential reading for students and scholars in a range of areas including Postcolonial studies race racism in world politics and international relations theory

Trites Race in Young Adult Speculative Fiction offers a sustained analysis of race and representation in young adult speculative fiction YASF The collection considers how characters of color are represented in YASF how they contribute to and participate in speculative worlds how race affects or influences the structures of speculative worlds and how race and racial ideologies are implicated in YASF This collection also examines how race and racism are discussed in YASF or if indeed race and racism are discussed at all Essays explore such notable and popular works as the Divergent series The Red Queen The Lunar Chronicles and the Infernal Devices trilogy They consider the effects of colorblind ideology and postracialism on YASF a genre that is often seen as progressive in its representation of adolescent protagonists Simply put colorblindness silences those who believe and whose experiences demonstrate that race and racism do continue to matter In examining how some YASF texts normalize many of our social structures and hierarchies this collection examines how race and racism are represented in the genre and considers how hierarchies of race are reinscribed in some texts and transgressed in others Contributors point toward the potential of YASF to address and interrogate racial inequities in the contemporary West and beyond They critique texts that fall short of this possibility and they articulate ways in which readers and critics alike might nonetheless locate diversity within narratives This is a collection troubled by the lingering emphasis on colorblindness in YASF but it is also the work of scholars who love the genre and celebrate its progress toward inclusivity and who further see in it an enduring future for intersectional identity

Ethnicity and Islamic Revivalism in Tajikistan and Uzbekistan Nirbhaya Nath Mishra, 2007 This book is about the regional problems in Central Asian region ever since the disintegration of the Soviet Union This study analyses the development of Tajikistan and Uzbekistan in the Context of Central Asia This has tried to examine the critical factors like ethnic nationality minority problems drug trafficking and Muslim fundamentalism in the quest of all round development for this region Moreover areas where possible cooperation can be explored have also been covered in this writing Since there are few studies available on this topic therefore this will endeavour to fulfil the gap and contribute to understand the emerging issues of Central Asia

Rethinking Ethnicity Richard Jenkins, 2008-01-18 A welcome and brilliantly crafted overview of this field It represents a major advance in our understanding of how ethnicity works in specific social and cultural contexts The second edition will be an invaluable resource for both students and researchers alike John Solomos City University London The first edition of Rethinking Ethnicity quickly established itself as a popular text for students of ethnicity and ethnic relations This fully revised and updated second edition adds new material on globalization and the recent debates about whether ethnicity matters and ethnic groups actually exist While ethnicity as a social construct is imagined its effects are far from imaginary Jenkins draws on specific examples to demonstrate the social mechanisms that construct ethnicity and the consequences for people's experience Drawing upon rich case study material the book discusses such issues as the myth of the plural society postmodern notions of difference the relationship between ethnicity race and nationalism ideology language violence and religion and the everyday construction of national identity

Perspectives on Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B.
