Ethnicity And Political Integration:

Political Integration in Indian Diaspora Societies Ruben Gowricharn, 2020-09-17 This book studies the political integration of Indian diaspora communities into their host societies. It argues that insertion occurs on an ethnic basis which enables these groups to utilise their clout and at the same time exert collective rights in matters like freedom of religion, organisation and lifestyle. Drawing on case studies from South Africa, America and the Caribbean, the volume analyses different forms, levels and patterns of groupist political integration. It examines various instances of integration such as anti-Indian apartheid laws, the life and times of Dr. Sudhindra Bose, one of the early Bengali intellectuals in the US, Hindutva organisations in the US and UK, as well as the introduction of the Overseas Citizen of India (OCI) Scheme by the Indian government. An important intervention in the study of ethnic groups and their integration, the book will be of interest to students and researchers of diaspora studies, globalization and transnational migration, cultural studies, minority studies, sociology, political studies, international relations and South Asian studies.

Making Of Southeast Asian Nations, The: State, Ethnicity, Indigenism And Citizenship Leo Suryadinata, 2014-11-21 The idea of the nation is a Western concept which has been applied to Southeast Asia. It is a project which has been in progress since the last century but is still incomplete. Various theoretical frameworks which are associated with nation and nation building in the Southeast Asian region have been briefly dealt with. The book aims to examine the making of the nations in Southeast Asia using both historical and political science approaches. Concepts related to nation such as ethnicity, state, indigenism and citizenship have also been analysed in the Southeast Asian context. Specific examples of nation building in five major Southeast Asian countries are presented. Problems and prospects of Southeast Asia's nation building and citizenship building in the era of globalisation are also discussed.

Ethnicity, Citizenship and State in Eastern Africa S.J. Tarimo, 2011-01-24 This volume from an Africa perspective examines the relationship between ethnicity and citizenship within the framework of nation state. Its objective and scope engage relational aspects of political integration, awaken public conscience and motivate civic engagement. It provides a platform that could be considered prerequisite for political transformation. Such a framework is indispensable not only for challenging the politics of exclusion and marginalization but also for reconstructing fractured social relationships. The test of its validity and relevancy is not whether it accounts for particular traditions but whether it provides a framework through which we can comprehend the dynamics of ethnic identities as an avenue for promoting participatory governance and democratic accountability. An interdisciplinary study of this kind brings forth practical and theoretical contributions to the evolving concepts of ethnicity and citizenship.

Multiple Homemaking Ruben Gowricharn, 2020-11-11 This book develops a theoretical perspective on homemaking as the ethnic condition of Indian diaspora communities. It draws on empirical case studies to elucidate the multiple homemaking practices of two overseas Indian groups and their relations to their homeland, namely the Surinami Hindustanis and the Dutch Hindustanis. In doing so, it provides a new perspective on homemaking that captures ethnogenesis.

integration and diasporic bonding at once As opposed to the extant discourse on homemaking which overlooks institutional and cultural requirements the author makes a point to scrutinise such concepts as douglarisation groupism citizenship institutions ethnification social networks and technology and transnational flows Unique and compelling the book will be highly useful in studies of diaspora globalisation and transnational migration multiculturalism cultural studies ethnic minority studies sociology politics and international relations and South Asian studies The Foundations of Ethnic Politics
