Ethnicity Gender And The Subversion Of Nationalism:

Ethnicity, Gender and the Subversion of Nationalism Bodil Folke Frederiksen, Fiona Wilson, 2014-02-04 This volume explores the politics of identity by analysing the intersections between ethnicity gender and nationalism in developing societies These markers of identity are not understood as constituting essences but as springing from people's core experiences yearnings and strategic life plans in a context where resources are scarce As such identities may be and are contested The intersections are traced across three areas social and cultural reproduction ideologies stereotypes and practices and nationalist politics and discourse which has tended to remove women from the public arena and construct an ideal of women's domesticity

Rethinking Gender, Ethnicity and Religion in Iran Azadeh Kian, 2023-07-13 Winner of the Latifeh Yarshater book prize 2024 Covering the Pahlavi modern nation state as well as the Islamic regime this book examines the crucial shifts that affected Sunnite and subaltern women once Shi'ism became the state religion after the Iranian Revolution Focusing on women in the Baluchistan and Golestan provinces of Iran Azadeh Kian analyses and explores issues of cultural racialization ethno-centrism Shi'a-centrism and patriarchal and chauvinistic ideologies in Iranian society propagated by the state and sustained by its policies Based on quantitative and qualitative surveys taken throughout Iran comprised of over 7 000 married women and 100 interviews with a sample of Sunnite and subaltern Persian women Kian reveals how social hierarchy and power relations based on gender class ethnicity and religion operate She argues that women have been at the heart of the process of national and ethnic reconstruction as women as potential mothers are expected to reproduce national and ethnic boundaries Kian argues that by examining the family institution as a site of power analysing family dynamics as well as women's everyday lives the politics of ordinary Iranians and the relationship between state and society can be better understood Kian argues that the time is ripe to achieve a non-hegemonic definition of Iranian national identity through acknowledgement of gender class ethnic and religious diversity and plurality of experiences of oppression and injustice

Sexuality, Obscenity and Community C. Gupta, 2002-05-30 Through analysis of an impressive array of low and high Hindu literatures, particularly pamphlets, tracts, newspapers and archival data, Gupta explores the emerging discourse of gender and sexuality which was essential to the development of notions of Hindu communality and nationalism in the colonial period. The book offers an exceptionally nuanced account of Hindi gender politics. Religious Fundamentalism in the Contemporary World Santosh C. Saha, 2004-01-01 Today, new and ever more pernicious forms of terrorist violence threaten the world. Because these new forms of violence are so often linked to religious radicalism, modern terrorism has challenged the secular ethics of contemporary civil society. There is a pressing need to understand modern religious movements that have added militancy and belligerence as fundamental elements of religious practice. Contributors to this volume painstakingly tackle the question of how to define the contours of current religious fundamentalism as they examine the private and public postures of fundamentalist rhetoric, the importance of its regional variants and the damage it can do to regional and national education systems. Their analysis tracks trends in religious movements that aspire to radicalize reform and violently topple governments and nations while highlighting the difference between fundamentalist interpretations and other longstanding juridical, political and intellectual traditions.

Human Exhibitions Rikke Andreassen, 2016-03-09 From the 1870s to the second decade of the twentieth century, more than fifty exhibitions of so-called exotic people took place in Denmark. Here, large numbers of people of Asian and African origin were exhibited for the entertainment and education of a mass audience. Several of these exhibitions took place in Copenhagen Zoo, where different villages constructed in the middle of the zoo hosted men, women and children who sometimes stayed for months, performing their daily lives for thousands of curious Danes. This book draws on unique archival material newly discovered in Copenhagen, including photographs, documentary evidence and newspaper articles, to offer new insights and perspectives on the exhibitions both in Copenhagen and in other European cities. Employing post-colonial and feminist approaches to the material, the author sheds fresh light on the staging of exhibitions, the daily life of the exhibitees, the wider connections between shows across Europe and the thinking of the time on matters of race, science, gender and sexuality. A window onto contemporary racial understandings, Human Exhibitions presents interviews with the descendants of displayed people, connecting the attitudes and science of the past with both our continued modern fascination with the exotic and contemporary language and popular culture. As such, it will be of interest to scholars of sociology, anthropology and history working in the areas of gender and sexuality, race, whiteness and post-colonialism. Deleuze and Race Arun Saldanha, 2012-11-26 The first collection to theorise race and racism through the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze. In this volume, an international and multidisciplinary team of scholars inaugurates the Deleuzian study of race through a wide-ranging and evocative array of case studies Deleuze and Guattari provided new concepts of how humans are differentiated through processes of state formation capitalism madness and desire While sexual difference has received much attention in Deleuze studies racial difference is a thornier problematic As this collection of essays shows Deleuze and Guattari had extremely original things to say about race and the politics of phenotype and origin is never far from any engaged consideration of how the world works

Tipton, 1998-05-01 For many years Japan was seen as the peculiar exception in Asia a highly dynamic economy isolated in an otherwise moribund continent With the rise of the Southeast Asian and Chinese economies however it has now become clear that Asia as a whole is experiencing an extraordinary revolution which will result within a very few years in living standards for some countries being on a par with those in the West The results of this transformation can only be guessed at but The Rise of Asia adds a far greater sophistication to our understanding of how this process came about treating the key areas of Asian life economics society and politics as an integrated whole and avoiding the trap of most commentators who see the phenomenon as an exclusively postwar economic issue Balancing the uniquely Asian aspects with global developmental factors Dr Tipton creates a convincing picture of how this amazing change has occurred The Philistines and Aegean Migration at the End of the Late Bronze Age Assaf Yasur-Landau, 2014-06-16 In this study Assaf Yasur Landau examines the early history of the biblical Philistines who were among the Sea Peoples who migrated from the Aegean area to the Levant during the early twelfth century BC Creating an archaeological narrative of the migration of the Philistines he combines an innovative theoretical framework on the archaeology of migration with new data from excavations in Greece Turkey Cyprus Syria Lebanon and Israel and thereby reconstructs the social history of the Aegean migration to the southern Levant The author follows the story of the migrants from the conditions that caused the Philistines to leave their Aegean homes to their movement eastward along the sea and land routes to their formation of a migrant society in Philistia and their interaction with local populations in the Levant Based on the most up to date evidence this book offers a new and fresh understanding of the arrival of the Philistines in the Levant Women in Global Migration, 1945-2000 Eleanore O.
