Teaching Academic Writing in European Higher Education Lennart Björk, Gerd Bräuer, L. Rienecker, Peter Stray Jørgensen, 2005-12-30 DAVID R RUSSELL English Department of Iowa State University U S A I was fortunate to attend as a visitor from the U S the first European Association for the Teaching of Academic Writing EATAW conference in 2001 at Groningen I was struck by the similarities in the challenges higher education faces on both sides of the Atlantic in terms of developing students academic writing and students learning through writing It is indeed an international problem But I was equally struck by the profound differences in responding to these challenges among nations institutions disciplines and even within disciplines The essays in this extraordinary volume address a growing demand for help with academic writing on the part of students and academic staff alike And they do so in ways that bring fresh approaches not only to Europeans who have only recently begun to study academic writing but also to researchers and academic staff in the U S where we have a century old tradition of attention to the problem but are much in need of these fresh approaches Academic writing has become a problem in higher education all around the world because higher education sits smack between two contradictory pressures On one end far more students and far more diverse students come streaming into higher education bringing in a far greater diversity of linguistic resources often interpreted as standards are falling as Frank Haacke Tente point out Theories and Methods of Writing Center Studies Jo Mackiewicz, Rebecca Babcock, 2019-11-01 This collection helps students and researchers understand the foundations of writing center studies in order to make sound decisions about the types of methods and theoretical lenses that will help them formulate and answer their research questions In the collection accomplished writing center researchers discuss the theories and methods that have enabled their work providing readers with a useful and accessible guide to developing research projects that interest them and make a positive contribution It introduces an array of theories including genre theory second language acquisition theory transfer theory and disability theory and guides novice and experienced researchers through the finer points of methods such as ethnography corpus analysis and mixed methods research Ideal for courses on writing center studies and pedagogy it is essential reading for researchers and administrators in writing centers and writing across the curriculum or writing in the disciplines programs

Writing Spaces: Readings on Writings, Vol. 2 Charles Lowe, Pavel Zemliansky, Volumes in Writing Spaces Readings on Writing offer multiple perspectives on a wide range of topics about writing In each chapter authors present their unique views insights and strategies for writing by addressing the undergraduate reader directly Drawing on their own experiences these teachers as writers invite students to join in the larger conversation about the craft of writing Consequently each essay functions as a standalone text that can easily complement other selected readings in writing or writing intensive courses across the disciplines at any level

Focus on Writing Laurie McMillan, 2018-10-30 This first year composition rhetoric reader uses a Writing about Writing WAW approach and a conversational style to help students engage in threshold concepts and transfer what they know about writing to new situations Each chapter asks a key question such as Why Write or What Is the Rhetorical Situation and Why Should I Care about It Preliminary answers to the chapter question are provided in accessible prose and these initial ideas are supplemented with a selection of three or four readings and a list of recommended online texts Prompts for informal and formal writing projects keep the focus on writing and help students apply writing studies scholarship to their own lives in meaningful ways A companion website includes recommended WAW resources assignment supports and links to additional readings sites broadviewpress.com/focusonwriting

Ethnography Unbound Stephen Gilbert Brown, Sidney I. Dobrin, 2012-02-01 These provocative new essays redefine the goals methods and assumptions of qualitative and ethnographic research in composition studies making evident not only the crucial importance of ethnographic research but also its resilience As Ethnography Unbound makes evident critical ethnographers are retheorizing their methodologies in ways that both redefine ethnographic practices and values and at the same time have begun to liberate ethnographic practices from the often disabling stronghold of postmodern critique Showing how ethnography works through dialogic processes and moves toward political ends this collection opens the doors to rethinking ethnographic research in composition studies

James A. Inman, 2004-04-13 In this book James A Inman explores the landscape of the contemporary computers and writing community Its six chapters engage critical issues including redefining the community s generally accepted history connecting its contemporary innovators with its long standing spirit of innovation advocating for increased access and diversity and more Between chapters readers will find Community Voices sections which provide a snapshot of the contemporary computers and writing community and introduce in a non hierarchical form more than 100 of its members from around the world in their own voices Computers and Writing The Cyborg Era features a simultaneous emphasis on individuals communities and contexts they share a creative rethinking of the character and values of the computers and writing community a holistic exploration of meaning making and an activist approach to pedagogy It is a must read book for anyone interested in rhetoric technology and pedagogy including faculty graduate students and colleagues in professions outside the academy Institutional Ethnography Michelle LaFrance, 2019-06-15 A form of critical ethnography introduced to the social sciences in the late 1990s institutional ethnography uncovers how things happen within institutional sites providing a new and flexible tool for the study of how work is co constituted within sites of writing and writing instruction The study of work and work processes reveals how institutional discourse social relations and norms of professional practice coordinate what people do across time and sites of writing Adoption of IE offers finely grained understandings of how our participation in the work of writing writing instruction and sites of writing gives material face to the institutions that govern the social world In this book Michelle LaFrance introduces the theories rhetorical frames and methods that ground and animate institutional ethnography Three case studies illustrate key aspects of the methodology in action tracing the work of writing assignment design in a linked gateway course the ways annual reviews coordinate the work of faculty and writing center administrators and staff and how the key term information literacy socially organizes teaching in a first year English program Through these explorations of the practice of ethnography within sites of writing and writing instruction LaFrance shows that IE is a methodology keenly attuned to the material relations and conditions of work in twenty first century writing studies contexts ideal for both practiced and novice ethnographers who seek to understand the actualities of social organization and lived experience in the sites they study Institutional Ethnography expands the field s repertoire of research methodologies and offers the grounding necessary for work with the IE framework It will be invaluable to writing researchers and students and scholars of writing studies across the spectrum composition and rhetoric literacy studies and education as well as those working in fields such as sociology and cultural studies Whistlin' and Crowin' Women of Appalachia Katherine Kelleher Sohn, 2006-03-02 Whistlin and Crowin Women of Appalachia turns what everybody knows and takes for granted into explicit facts of the experiences and lives of these women The discourse of the everyday person is transformed changed by being written into self aware discourse both empowered and empowering Katherine Kelleher Sohn's descriptions of the difficulties of balancing work job classes and marriage ring true and will resonate with women in many different environments Exploring Composition Studies Kelly Ritter, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2012-04-30 Kelly Ritter and Paul Kei Matsuda have created an essential introduction to the field of composition studies for graduate students and instructors new to the study of writing The book offers a careful exploration of this diverse field focusing specifically on scholarship of writing and composing Within this territory the authors draw the boundaries broadly to include allied sites of research such as professional and technical writing writing across the curriculum programs writing centers and writing program administration Importantly they represent composition as a dynamic eclectic field influenced by factors both within the academy and without The editors and their sixteen seasoned contributors have created a comprehensive and thoughtful exploration of composition studies as it stands in the early twenty first century Given the rapid growth of this field and the evolution of its research and pedagogical agendas over even the last ten years this multi vocal introduction is long overdue

Disrupting the Center Rebecca Hallman Martini, 2022-04-15 Strategic partnership offers writing centers a framework for responding to disruptive innovations in higher education Through partnership writing centers can simultaneously secure resources and support the practice of tutoring writing in ways that enable moments of resistance where writing consultants and students can tactically challenge the corporate university through their methods of practice Disrupting the Center explicates analyzes and critiques one particular writing center's partnership approach to collaboration with disciplinary faculty and upper administrators across the curriculum Using on site research and critical ethnographic study from one university writing center Rebecca Hallman Martini establishes an innovative cross disciplinary partnership approach to writing instruction in which peer tutoring plays an integral curricular role Case studies detail three partnerships that respond directly to existing or potential disruptive innovations in higher education and showcase important concepts mapping mutual benefit and stakeholder engagement in an online studio hybrid first year writing program partnership in response to online education creating negotiated space to work through ethical issues involved when working with a public private partnership to develop a required extracurricular portfolio project in a business school and building transformational partnerships through establishing a writing in the professions curriculum in the College of Engineering in response to career readiness initiatives Disrupting the Center uses interviews observations focus groups analysis of consultations meetings and shared documents such as annual reports budgets assessment data assignments and syllabi to generate a wide view of how systems work Writing centers are flexible university wide service spaces where students go for one on one and group writing support that can become dynamic spaces for writing pedagogy by disrupting revitalizing and reinventing the epistemic foundations of current rhetoric and composition landscapes and traditional approaches to writing Writing Power

Dorothy A. Winsor, 2003-07-02 Adds to our understanding of the powerful nature of texts and writing Composing Media Composing Embodiment Kristin L Arola, Anne Wysocki, 2012-03-31 What any body is and is able to do cannot be disentangled from the media we use to consume and produce texts from the Introduction Kristin Arola and Anne Wysocki argue that composing in new media is composing the body is embodiment In Composing Media Composing Embodiment they have brought together a powerful set of essays that agree on the need for compositionists and their students to engage with a wide range of new media texts These chapters explore how texts of all varieties mediate and thereby contribute to the human experiences of communication of self the body and composing Sample assignments and activities exemplify how this exploration might proceed in the writing classroom Contributors here articulate ways to understand how writing enables the experience of our bodies as selves and at the same time to see the work of our writing in mediating selves to make them accessible to institutional perceptions and constraints These writers argue that what a body does and can do cannot be disentangled from the media we use nor from the times and cultures and technologies with which we engage To the discipline of composition this is an important discussion because it clarifies the impact s of literacy on citizens freedoms and societies To the classroom it is important because it helps compositionists to support their students as they enact learn and reflect upon their own embodied and embodying writing Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard, 2014-07-15 In Upsetting Composition Commonplaces Ian Barnard argues that composition still retains the bulk of instructional practices that were used in the decades before poststructuralist theory discredited them While acknowledging that some of the foundational insights of poststructuralist theory can be difficult to translate to the classroom Barnard upends several especially intransigent tenets that continue to influence the teaching of writing and how students are encouraged to understand writing Using six major principles of writing classrooms and textbooks clarity intent voice ethnography audience and objectivity Barnard looks at the implications of poststructuralist theory for pedagogy While suggesting some evocative poststructuralist pedagogical practices the author focuses on diagnosing the fault lines of composition s refusal of poststructuralism rather than on providing solutions in the form of teaching templates Upsetting Composition Commonplaces addresses the need to more effectively engage in poststructuralist concepts in composition in an accessible and engaging voice that will advance the conversation about relations between the theory and teaching of writing Qualitative Research Methods Sarah J. Tracy, 2012-11-05 Qualitative Research Methods is a comprehensive all inclusive resource for the theory and practice of qualitative ethnographic research methodology Serves as a how to guide for qualitative ethnographic research detailing how to design a project conduct interviews and focus groups interpret and analyze data and represent it in a compelling manner Demonstrates how qualitative data can be systematically utilized to address pressing personal organizational and social problems Written in an engaging style with in depth examples from the author s own practice Comprehensive companion website includes sample syllabi lesson plans a list of helpful website links test bank and exam
