Ethnography And Development The Work Of Richard F Salisbury:

Ethnography and Development Richard Frank Salisbury, Harvey A. Feit, 2004 This volume commemorates and explores the life and work of anthropologist Richard F Salisbury 1926 1989 who had immense influence in the areas of economic anthropology development ethnographic practice New Guinea northern Canada and policy formation Ethnography and Development Marilyn Silverman, 2004-11-04 Richard Salisbury 1926 1989 was a pioneer in development anthropology and one of the founders of McGill University's anthropology department His work had immense influence in the areas of economic anthropology ethnographic practice New Guinea northern Canada and policy formation This volume commemorates and explores his life and work Ethnography and Development presents eighteen articles written by Salisbury between 1954 and 1988 framed by seven original essays that explore his basic ideas as well as the intellectual and personal contexts in which he worked The articles and essays highlight many of the issues that informed those of his generation who worked in economic and political anthropology the anthropology of development public anthropology advocacy and applied anthropology and in developing the organisational vehicles on which the profession currently depends Salisbury's broad socio economic vision conceptual ideas and socio cultural ethnographic theories continue to exert a powerful influence on the discipline Contributors include Harvey A Feit McMaster University Henry J Rutz Hamilton College and Colin H Scott McGill University Exchange and Markets in Early Economic Development John D. Conroy, 2023-05-12 The idea of an informal economy emerged from and is a critique of the ideology of economic development It originated from Keith Hart's recognition of informal economic activity in 1960s Ghana In the context of four colonialisms German British Australian and Dutch this book recounts Hart's effort in 1972 to introduce the informal sector into development planning in Papua New Guinea This was problematic because the market was scarcely institutionalized and traditional modes of exchange persisted stubbornly Rather than conforming with post colonial economic ideology the subjected people pushed back against imposed bureaucracy to practice informal and hybrid modes of economic activity Historicizing Canadian Anthropology Julia Harrison, Regna Darnell, 2011-11-01 Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is the first significant examination of the historical development of anthropological study in this country It addresses key issues in the evolution of the discipline the shaping influence of Aboriginal anthropological encounters the challenge of compiling a history for the Canadian context and the place of international and institutional relations The contributors to this collection reflect on the definition and scope of the discipline and explore the degree to which a uniquely Canadian tradition affects anthropological theory practice and reflexivity Historicizing Canadian Anthropology is a watershed that will revitalize critical reflexivity within the field With contributions from a broad cross section of anthropologists from senior scholars to doctoral students this book is essential reading for practising Canadian anthropologists their students and others who seek to understand the historical contours of the field Social Anthropology Edward Hedican, 2012-01-15 This is the first introductory text that focuses on social anthropological research using Canadian examples and perspectives In this groundbreaking new book Edward Hedican provides undergraduate students with a solid background on the theoretical and applied aspects of anthropology while exploring the rich history of the discipline in a Canadian context In ten concise chapters readers are introduced to the basic conceptual building blocks of introductory anthropology in a refreshingly succinct and engaging way With a strong focus on Canadian theory this book includes discussion of evolutionism feminist anthropology marriage and the family and political economy Applied Anthropology in Canada Edward J. Hedican, 2008-01-01 Anthropologists are often reluctant to present their work relating to matters of a broad social context to the wider public even though many have much to say about a range of contemporary issues In this second edition of a classic work in the field Edward J Hedican takes stock of Anthropology's research on current indigenous affairs and offers an up to date assessment of Aboriginal issues in Canada from the perspective of applied Anthropology In his central thesis Hedican underlines Anthropology's opportunity to make a significant impact on the way Aboriginal issues are studied perceived and interpreted in Canada He contends that anthropologists must quit lingering on the periphery of debates concerning land claims and race relations and become more actively committed to the public good His study ranges over such challenging topics as advocacy roles in Aboriginal studies the ethics of applied research policy issues in community development the political context of the self government debate and the dilemma of Aboriginal status and identity in Canada Applied Anthropology in Canada is an impassioned call for a revitalized Anthropology one more directly attuned to the practical problems faced by First Nations peoples Hedican's focus on Aboriginal issues gives his work a strong contemporary relevance that bridges the gap between scholarly and public spheres Caring for Eeyou Istchee Monica E. Mulrennan, Colin H. Scott, Katherine Scott, 2019-11-15 How do Indigenous communities in Canada balance the development needs of a growing population with cultural commitments and responsibilities as stewards of their lands and waters Caring for Eeyou Istchee recounts the extraordinary experience of the James Bay Cree community of Wemindji Quebec who partnered with a multi disciplinary research team to protect territory of great cultural significance in ways that respect community values and circumstances This volume tackles fundamental questions What is environmental protection What should be protected What factors inform community goals How does the natural and cultural history of an area inform protected area design How can the authority and autonomy of Indigenous institutions of land and sea stewardship and the knowledge integral to them be respected and reinforced In answering these questions Indigenous and non Indigenous contributors present a comprehensive account of one of the world's most dynamic coastal environments More particularly they demonstrate how protected area creation is a powerful process for supporting Indigenous environmental stewardship and cultural heritage Stanley's Dream Jacalyn Duffin, 2019-08-30 In 1964-65 an international team of thirty eight scientists and assistants led by Montreal physician Stanley Skoryna sailed to the mysterious Rapa Nui Easter Island to conduct an unprecedented survey of its biosphere Born of Cold War concerns about pollution overpopulation and conflict and initially conceived as the first of two trips the project was designed to document the island's status before a proposed airport would link the one thousand people living in humanity's remotest community to the rest of the world its germs genes culture and economy Based on archival papers diaries photographs and interviews with nearly twenty members of the original team Stanley's Dream sets the expedition in its global context within the early days of ecological research and the understudied International Biological Program Jacalyn Duffin traces the origins the voyage the often complicated life within the constructed camp the scientific preoccupations the role of women the resultant reports films and publications and the previously unrecognized accomplishments of the project including a goodwill tour of South America the delivery of vaccines and the discovery of a wonder drug For Rapa Nui the expedition coincided with its rebellion against the colonizing Chilean military resulting in its first democratic election For Canada it reflected national optimism as the country prepared for its centennial and adopted its own flag Ending with Duffin's own journey to the island to uncover the legacy of the study and the impact of the airport and to elicit local memories Stanley's Dream is an entertaining and poignant account of a long forgotten but important Canadian led international expedition Beyond the Beaten Path Edward

Hedican, 2023-10-13 Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be an anthropologist There is a certain mystery about the profession since anthropologists often travel to out of the way parts of the world that might be considered exotic dangerous or otherwise mysterious to most people Of course there are many misconceptions such as the view of the anthropologist in khaki coloured shorts wearing a pith hat and accompanied by a string of baggage carriers trailing behind him as depicted in a Far Side cartoon This book describes my own life in anthropology carried on over five decades My career was not necessarily typical in terms of specific details but it does involve extensive field research as well as various other activities such as appearing as an expert witness in a Supreme Court land claims case which were unique in certain ways Resources in Education ,1986-02 Politik Transaksional Dr. H. Ashar Pagala, S.H.I., M.H.I, Bibliographic Index ,2009 Forced to Flee Peter W. Van Arsdale, 2006-08-04 The Modern Refugee Era began with the end of World War II An extensive literature has been created on the issue of refugees and other forcibly displaced persons during this period While much of this has focused on refugee flight and post flight Forced to Flee uniquely looks at the pre flight environment and the factors contributing to human rights violations therein It is due to these abuses that many people flee their homelands Author Peter W Van Arsdale presents first hand fieldwork conducted over a 30 year span in six refugee homelands ranging from Sudan to Bosnia This expert research bridges the emergent refugee and human rights regimes while addressing theories of obligation justice and structural inequality Van Arsdale also deftly tackles the difficult ideas of compassion suffering and evil and introduces the concept of pragmatic humanitarianism Forced to Flee is a comprehensive study that should be of great interest to scholars and practitioners of anthropology sociology social work political science and environmental studies Resources in Education ,1986 Anthropologie et sociétés ,2005 Applied Anthropology

Alexander M. Ervin, 2005 The most up to date and accessible text on the subject Applied Anthropology provides the skills perspectives and methodologies needed when working in today's communities and organizations An invaluable resource this practical book answers the question What can I do with a degree in Anthropology In addition to a focus on method this book provides a solid foundation in the history activities and ethical concerns of applied anthropology The book stresses decision making and the need to understand policy through anthropological analysis Because an anthropologist must communicate effectively with the general non anthropological public the text employs an accessible jargon free writing style More than twenty case studies plus many real world examples of anthropological practice reinforce the usefulness of anthropology in the real world New material includes a summary of Elizabeth Guillet's research a case study summarizing the work of Kendall Thu on intensive livestock operations an analysis of Rapid Assessment Procedures and a summarization of the work and ideas of Robert Chambers

Man in the Pacific, 1963 Gifts and Commodities C. A. Gregory, 2015-03-15

Christopher A Gregory's Gifts and Commodities is one of the undisputed classics of economic anthropology On its publication in 1982 it spurred intense ongoing debates about gifts and gifting value exchange and the place of political economy in anthropology Gifts and Commodities is at once a critique of neoclassical economics and development theory a critical history of colonial Papua New Guinea and a comparative ethnography of exchange in Melanesian societies This new edition includes a foreword by anthropologist Marilyn Strathern and a new preface by the author that discusses the ongoing response to the book and the debates it has engendered debates that have become more salient in our evermore neoliberal and globalized era
