Ethnohistory A Researchers Guide Third W:

Studies in Third World Societies, 1986 Ethnohistory, 1986 Resources in Education, 1998 The Emperor's Mirror Russell J. Barber, Frances Berdan, 1998-10 Russell J Barber and Frances F Berdan have created the ultimate guide for anyone doing cross cultural and or document driven research Presenting the essentials of primary source methodology The Emperor s Mirror includes nine chapters on paleography calendrics source and quantitative analysis and the visual interpretation of artifacts such as pictographs illustrations and maps As an introduction to ethnohistory this book clearly defines terminology and provides practical and accessible examples effectively integrating the concerns of historians and anthropologists as well as addressing the needs of anyone using primary sources for research in any academic field A leading theme throughout the book is the importance of a researcher s awareness of the inherent biases of documents while doing research on another culture Documents are the result of people interpreting reality through the filter of their own experience personality and culture Barber and Berdan s reality mediation model shows students how to analyze documents to detect the implicit biases or subtexts inherent in primary source materials Students and scholars working with primary sources will particularly appreciate the case studies that Barber and Berdan use to illustrate the practical implications of using each methodology These case studies not only apply method to actual research but also are fascinating in their own right they range from a discussion of the debate over Tupinamba cannibalism to the illustration of Nahuatl Spanish and hybrid place names of Tlaxcala Mexico The Ways of the People: Alan R. Tippett, Doug Priest, 2013-06-19 Alan Tippett s publications played a significant role in the development of missiology The volumes in this series augment his distinguished reputation by bringing to light his many unpublished materials and hard to locate printed articles These books encompassing theology anthropology history area studies religion and ethnohistory broaden the contours of the discipline Missionaries and anthropologists have a tenuous relationship While often critical of missionaries anthropologists are indebted to missionaries for linguistic and cultural data as well as hospitality and introductions into the local community In The Ways of the People Alan Tippett provides a critical history of missionary anthropology and brings together a superb reader of seminal anthropological contributions from missionaries Edwin Smith R H Codrington Lorimer Fison Diedrich Westermann Henri Junod and many more Twenty years as a missionary in Fiji following pastoral ministry in Australia and graduate degrees in history and anthropology provide the rich database that made Alan R Tippett a leading missiologist of the twentieth century Tippett served as Professor of Anthropology and Oceanic Studies at Fuller Theological Seminary Collected Ethnographic Objects as Cultural Representations Barbara Lawson, 1990 International Handbook of Historical Archaeology Teresita Majewski, David Gaimster, 2009-06-07 In studying the past archaeologists have focused on the material remains of our ancestors Prehistorians generally have only artifacts to study and rely on the diverse material record for their understanding of past societies and their behavior Those involved in studying historically documented cultures not only have extensive material remains but also contemporary texts images and a range of investigative technologies to enable them to build a broader and more reflexive picture of how past societies communities and individuals operated and behaved Increasingly historical archaeology refers not to a particular period place or a method but rather an approach that interrogates the tensions between artifacts and texts irrespective of context In short historical archaeology provides direct evidence for how humans have shaped the world we live in today Historical archaeology is a branch of global archaeology that has grown in the last 40 years from its North American base into an increasingly global community of archaeologists each studying their area of the world in a historical context Where historical archaeology started as part of the study of the post Columbian societies of the United States and Canada it has now expanded to interface with the post medieval archaeologies of Europe and the diverse post imperial experiences of Africa Latin America and Australasia The 36 essays in the International Handbook of Historical Archaeology have been specially commissioned from the leading researchers in their fields creating a wide ranging digest of the increasingly global field of historical archaeology The volume is divided into two sections the first reviewing the key themes issues and approaches of historical archaeology today and the second containing a series of case studies charting the development and current state of historical archaeological practice around the world This key reference work captures the energy and diversity of this global discipline today

Envisioning Landscape Dan Hicks, Laura McAtackney, Graham Fairclough, 2016-06-03 The common feature of landscape archaeology is its diversity of method field location disciplinary influences and contemporary voices The contributors to this volume take advantage of these many strands to investigate landscape archaeology in its multiple forms focusing primarily on the link to heritage the impact on our understanding of temporality and the situated theory that arises out of landscape studies Using examples from New York to Northern Ireland Africa to the Argolid these pieces capture the human significance of material objects in support of a more comprehensive nuanced archaeology

The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Sarah K. Croucher,Lindsay Weiss,2011-08-10 The Archaeology of Capitalism in Colonial Contexts Postcolonial Historical Archaeologies explores the complex interplay of colonial and capital formations throughout the modern world The authors present a critical approach to this topic trying to shift discourses in the theoretical framework of historical archaeology of capitalism and colonialism through the use of postcolonial theory This work does not suggest a new theoretical framework as such but rather suggests the importance of revising key theoretical terms employed within historical archaeology arguing for new engagements with postcolonial theory of relevance to all historical archaeologists as the field de centers from its traditional locations Examining case studies from North America South America the Caribbean Africa Australia the Middle East and Europe the chapters offer an unusually broad ranging geography of historical archaeology with each focused on the interplay between the particularisms of colonial structures and the development of capitalism and wider theoretical discussions Every author also draws attention to the ramifications of their case studies in the contemporary world With its cohesive theoretical framework this volume is a key resource for those interested in decolonizing historical archaeology in theory and praxis and for those interested in the development of modern global dynamics Africa and the African Diaspora E. Kofi Agorsah and G. Tucker Childs,2005-12-29 Africa and the African Diaspora is the outcome of a symposium held atPortland State University in Portland Oregon February 2002 entitled Symposium on Freedom in Black History designed to celebrate Black History Month The major themes of the conference were how Africans both at home on the continent and dispersed abroad often by forces beyond their control reacted to oppression and subjugation in seeking freedom from slavery colonialism and discrimination The volume documents the many forms that oppression has taken the many forms that resistance has taken and the cultural developments that have allowed Africans to adapt to the new and changing economic social and environmental conditions to win back their freedom Oppressive strategies as divide and rule could be based on any one of a number of features such as skin color place of origin culture or social or economic status People drawn into the vortex of the Atlantic trade and funneled into the sugar fields the swampy rice lands or the cotton coffee or tobacco plantations of the new world and elsewhere had no alternative but to risk their lives for freedom The plantation provided the context for the dehumanization of disadvantaged groups subjected to exhausting work frequent punishment and personal injustice of every kind This book demonstrates that the history and interpretation of these struggles of the oppressed peoples to free themselves have not received proportionate attention and analysis as have other aspects of that history At the Wood's Edge Jon William Parmenter, 1999
