Eurasian Huchen Hucho Hucho Largest Salmon Of The World:

The Eurasian Huchen, Hucho hucho J. Holcík, K. Hensel, J. Nieslanik, L. Skácel, 2012-12-06 The need to gather available data on the Eurasian huchen an important salmonid species has been forced by a plain and unfortunately common fact of our times the numbers and distribution of this biggest of salmonids have begun to decline and its range has begun to shrink A seminar on the huchen the European form of the species Huchua huchua held in Zilina in February 1973 as a result of a suggestion of the Section for the Conservation of Fauna of the Slovak Zoological Society indicated very clearly the sad situation Data on the biology of the huchen are regrettably scarce despite several recent papers Ivaska 1951 Svetina 1962 Prawochenski and Kolder 1968 with the aim of filling this gap Supposing that without a thorough knowledge it is practically impossible to conserve any plant or animal species the participants of the seminar concluded that the existing knowledge on the huchen should be compiled in an exhaustive monograph The first such outline originated in 1977 under the authorship of J Holcik K Hensel and L Skacel and was submitted as a research report to some of the central authorities Even during the compilation of the report it became evident however that there is no difference between the huchen and its relative the taimen Consequently we immediately began revising our first report which took over three years

The Eurasian huchen, Hucho hucho : largest salmon of the world Juraj Holčík, 1988 Genetic Conservation of Salmonid Fishes Joseph G. Cloud, Gary H. Thorgaard, 2012-12-06 As the human population increases and nations become more industrialized the habitat and water quality required for the survival of fish continues to decline In addition to these environmental factors fish populations are directly or potentially affected by harvesting enhancement programs and introgression with hatchery propagated or transgenic fish To our knowledge no other scientific meeting has been assembled to consider the breadth of the problem to review the technology that is presently available for the preservation of the germ plasm of salmonid stocks and to identify the scientific advances that are required to overcome the problems Because many salmonids have spawning grounds within the confines of a specific region or county but will spend a large portion of their life cycle within the territorial waters of other countries or in the open ocean the preservation of unique genes or gene pools in these animals requires international cooperation This scientific meeting has provided a forum in which to discuss the problems evaluate the present methods or technology for addressing the problems and suggest new directions or innovations that need to be implemented During this meeting we limited our discussion to salmonid fishes However the general conclusions about the factors that affect the population dynamics of fish stocks and the technical aspects concerning the preservation of germ plasm will be applicable to other fish species Fishes of the World Joseph S. Nelson, Terry C. Grande, Mark V. H. Wilson, 2016-04-25 Take your knowledge of fishes to the next level Fishes of the World Fifth Edition is the only modern phylogenetically based classification of the world's fishes The updated text offers new phylogenetic diagrams that clarify the relationships among fish groups as well as cutting edge global knowledge that brings this classic reference up to date With

Conservation of Endangered Freshwater Fish in Europe Arthur Kirchhofer, Daniel Müller, 2012-12-06 Two events have recently improved the prospects of protecting fish and their environment in Switzerland the acceptance of a new Federal Water Protection Law in the plebiscite of May 17th 1992 and the new Federal Legislation on Fisheries in force since January 1st 1994 With this legal framework the possibilities for protection of nature and landscape have now considerably improved in Switzerland The most important aims of the Federal Law on Water Protection are to safeguard the natural habitats of the native flora and fauna and water as the habitat of aquatic organisms This includes not only the preservation or restoration of water quality in lakes and rivers but also in rivers used for hydroelectricity irrigation or as industrial or other water supplies the maintenance of sufficient water to fulfill the minimal requirements for fish However good quality water in sufficient quantities alone is not enough to guarantee the survival of fish Intact fish habitats comprise various physical structures including plenty of hiding places hunting grounds reproduction and nursery areas within suitable distances from each other This third aspect of conservation and restoration of aquatic habitats is a central point in the new Federal Law on Fisheries Whereas the former versions of this law were more concerned with fishery regulations the recent legislation defines new areas of responsibility for the federal and the cantonal governments

Ecological Sustainability of Fish Resources of Inland Waters of the Western Balkans Vladica Simić, Snežana Simić, Vladimir Pešić, 2023-12-31 This book provides a detailed evaluation of the hydro ecological characteristics of the Western Balkans an area characterized by still preserved inland waters and fish resources important for the European continent as well as the biodiversity of inland waters important for the planet Earth Freshwater ecosystems cover only 1% of the Earth's surface however they are a habitat for about 40% of fish species At the same time inland fisheries make less than 12% of the world's global fish catch with 43% coming from low income and food deficient countries Africa South America Southeast Asia In Europe the Western Balkans have significant fishing waters and fish resources including the Middle Danube drainage Sava Drina Velika Morava river systems large ancient lakes Skadar Shkodra Ohrid Prespa Dojran and the Adriatic basin characterized by endemic and commercially important species However in contrast to the high fishing potential in a significant part of the Western Balkans diverse and specific political economic and social factors largely had a negative impact on the state of fish resources This volume is multidisciplinary and provides a sound knowledge base for scientific and practical fisheries In addition it may be a valuable guide for managers and conservationists worldwide to adapt methods and procedures for the ecological sustainability of fish resources under specific local natural and socio economic conditions Finally the content is a good reference for natural sciences and agriculture students studying fish fish resources and fisheries sciences It would improve their knowledge and perspectives on the challenges of sustainable use and conservation of inland water resources
