Komárek, 2012-02-29 Constitutional pluralism has become immensely popular among scholars who study European integration and issues of global governance Some of them believe that constitutionalism traditionally thought to be bound to a nation state can emerge beyond state borders most importantly in the process of European integration but also beyond that for example in international regulatory regimes such as the WTO or international systems of fundamental rights protection such as the European Convention At the same time the idea of constitutional pluralism has not gone unchallenged Some have questioned its compatibility with the very nature of law and the values which law brings to constitutionalism The critiques have come from both sides from those who believe in the traditional European constitutionalism based on a hierarchically superior authority of the European Union as well as from scholars focusing on constitutions of particular states The book collects contributions taking opposing perspectives on constitutional pluralism some defending and promoting the concept of constitutional pluralism some criticising and opposing it While some authors can be called the founding fathers of constitutional pluralism others are young academics who have recently entered the field Together they offer fresh perspectives on both theoretical and practical aspects of constitutional pluralism enriching our existing understanding of the concept in current scholarship The Health Sector in the European Community 1992 and Beyond European

Foundation for the Improvement of Living and Working Conditions, 1992 Beyond Open Skies Brian F. Havel, 2009-01-01 Beyond Open Skies offers a systematic comparative analysis of the legal and policy dimensions of airline deregulation by federal fiat in the United States and by supranational collaboration in the European Union The book draws upon a variety of sources including very recent developments in U S and EC international aviation law policy and diplomacy to propose a genuine multilateral air transport system It examines the potential of the open skies initiative in the aftermath of the new U S EC air transport agreement to inspire a genuine globalization of the world's air transport industry in such crucial aspects as the following cabotage ownership and citizenship requirements route selection airline identity capacity pricing regimes competition and public aid regulatory harmonization labor laws provisions for charter and or cargo transportation fair operation of and access to computer reservations systems authorization of code sharing arrangements alliances and antitrust immunity and dispute resolution The European Union beyond the Crisis Boyka M Stefanova, 2014-11-14 This volume explores institutional and policy developments in the EU and its member states in a parallel examination of citizens' views of the effectiveness of crisis response reflected in public trust output legitimacy and satisfaction with democracy Our approach to understanding the crisis posits EU level governance and institutional change national level policymaking and domestic politics as interrelated interdependent domains of political action and public spheres that collectively shape the political landscape of post crisis Europe The volume sheds new light on the relationship among the institutional policy and polity consequences of the crisis The book has two fundamental aims The first is to demonstrate the interconnected nature of European governance domestic reform and democratic politics The unprecedented complexity of the financial sovereign debt economic and social crises in Europe has led to a political crisis that reflects the struggle to effectively address its various causes and effects The second objective is to present a theoretically informed assessment of the consequences of the European crises for state society relations and democratic legitimacy Our analysis of the crisis in a variety of national contexts and European governance highlights the difficulties faced by political decision makers We find that the domestic policy process is selectively affected or disconnected from the process of rule making at the EU level that public opinion still matters in the process of policy formation and EU crisis response and that the salience of the EU agenda in the domestic public sphere increasingly depends on the preferences of political actors Public response to the crisis has become increasingly complex as well ranging from declining trust in the political institutions emerging national stereotypes changing expectations of the EU level of crisis response growing disconnect between political parties and voters and evolving intra regional distinctions across the EU s east west divide
