Congress. House. Committee on Military Affairs,1928 Dyslexia in Children Christopher B. Hayes,2006 Dyslexia is a brain based type of learning disability that specifically impairs a person s ability to read Although the disorder varies from person to person common characteristics among people with dyslexia are difficulty with phonological processing the manipulation of sounds and or rapid visual verbal responding The syndrome of dyslexia does not imply low intelligence or poor educational potential and is independent of race and social background Although dyslexia seems to be more prevalent among males than females the exact ratio is unknown the most commonly quoted figures are between 3 1 and 5 1 The evidence suggests that in at least two thirds of cases dyslexia has a genetic cause but in some cases birth difficulties may play a role Dyslexia may overlap with related conditions such as dyspraxia attention deficit disorder with or without hyperactivity and dysphasia In childhood its effects can be misattributed to emotional or behavioural disorders By adulthood many dyslexics will have developed sophisticated compensating strategies that may mask their difficulties This new book presents state of the art research in this dynamic field Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization G. Gregory Haff,2024-02-26 The concept of periodization is not new with the precursors of periodized training dating back more than 2 000 years ago But it is now obvious that the holistic development of an athlete encompasses more than their physical and tactical training Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization is the first book of its kind designed to optimize sport performance by integrating both classic and modern periodization theories with recovery methodologies nutritional interventions and athlete monitoring guidelines Written by G Gregory Haff a world leading expert on periodization Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization incorporates the latest scientific evidence to provide a comprehensive understanding of how to implement planning and programming strategies to enhance physiological adaptations While other periodization books may discuss training theory few provide information on how to integrate various training models into the periodization process Here are just some of the approaches incorporated into Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization Employing and blending parallel sequential and emphasis periodization models to develop athletes Syncing recovery strategies with various phases and periods of training to enhance the adaptational process Manipulating nutritional strategies to magnify performance Using and interpreting monitoring data to adjust an athlete s program in accordance with the periodized plan Applicable for athletes at all levels and in any sport Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization translates the latest research into usable information that directly enhances programming You will have access to real world practical examples and discussions of how to make scientifically sound programming decisions A glossary of over 400 terms will help you digest the content Plus you will find periodization templates and directions on how to use them to create annual training mesocycle and microcycle plans Templates are provided online via HKPropel to help you easily design periodized programs Get the most comprehensive resource about periodization ever written and use scientific evidence to take your periodization programming to the next level with Scientific Foundations and Practical Applications of Periodization Earn continuing education credits units A continuing education exam that uses this book is also available It may be purchased separately or as part of a package that includes both the book and exam Note A code for accessing HKPropel is not included with this ebook but may be purchased separately

Fang,Xiaoping He,Chuan Wei,2023-02-03 This book systematically and integrally introduces the new security management theories and methods in the e commerce environment Based on the perspective of dynamic governance of the whole process starting from the theoretical framework this book analyzes the gap between the current situation and requirements of security management defines its nature function object and system and designs and constructs the whole process security management organization and operation system of e commerce It focuses on the core and most prominent risk control links i e security impact factors in e commerce security including e commerce information and network security risk e commerce transaction risk e commerce credit risk e commerce personnel risk etc Then the tools and methods for identifying and controlling various risks are described in detail at the same time management decision making and coordination are integrated into the risk management Finally a closed loop of self optimization is established by a continuous optimization evolution path of e commerce security management Construction Safety Management Systems Steve Rowlinson,2004-04-29 The construction industry has a distressingly poor safety record whether measured in absolute terms or alongside other industries The level of construction safety in a country is influenced by factors such as variations in the labour forces shifting economies insurance rates legal ramifications and the stage of technological development Yet the problem is a world wide one and many of the ways of tackling it can be applied across countries Effective tools include designing preplanning training management commitment and the development of a safety culture The introduction and operation of effective safety management systems represents a viable way forwards but these systems are all too rarely implemented How can this be done Should we go back to prescriptive legislation This book considers these questions by drawing together leading edge research papers from the proceedings of an international conference conducted by a commission W099 on Safety and Health on Construction Sites of CIB the international council of building research organisations Technical Report ,1997 The Chemical Warfare Service Leo P.
