A Land of Sheltered Promise Jane Kirkpatrick, 2009-01-16 Follow three women from three eras in the Pacific Northwest as they discover a place where miracles really happen based on true stories. 1901 Plagued by loneliness on the Big Muddy Ranch, a shepherd's wife awaits the outcome of her husband's trial for murder. He is sentenced to life in prison and she to life without him. But a startling event could redeem their pasts and transform their future. 1984 Against a backdrop of attempted murder, federal indictments, and the first case of bio terrorism in the U.S., one woman seeks to rescue her granddaughter from within the elaborate compound of a cult that has claimed the land. 1997 On the much reviled abandoned cult site, one woman's skepticism turns to hope when she finds that what was meant to destroy can be used to rebuild and in the process realizes a long held dream. For three women seekers united across time, a remote and rugged stretch of land in the Pacific Northwest proves to be a place where miracles really happen and the gifts of faith, hope, and charity are as tangible as rocks, rivers, and earth.

The Jews of Wyoming, 2000 A visual and verbal study of 140 years and five generations of Jewish culture in Wyoming.

Race, Rights, and Recognition Dean Franco, 2012-06-15 In Race Rights and Recognition, Dean J. Franco explores the work of recent Jewish American writers, many of whom have taken unpopular stances on social issues, distancing themselves from the politics and public practice of multiculturalism. While these writers explore the same themes of group-based rights and recognition that preoccupy Latino, African American, and Native American writers, they are generally suspicious of group identities and are more likely to adopt postmodern distancing techniques than to presume to speak for their people. Ranging from Philip Roth's scandalous 1969 novel Portnoy's Complaint to Gary Shteyngart's Absurdistan in 2006, the literature Franco examines in this book is at once critical of and deeply invested in the problems of race and the rise of multicultural philosophies and policies in America. Franco argues that from the formative years of multiculturalism, 1965-1975, Jewish writers probed the ethics and not just the politics of civil rights and cultural recognition. This perspective arose from a stance of keen awareness of the limits and possibilities of consensus-based civil and human rights. Contemporary Jewish writers are now responding to global problems of cultural conflict and pluralism and thinking through the challenges and responsibilities of cosmopolitanism. Indeed, if the United States is now correctly and cautiously identifying itself as a post-ethnic nation, it may be said that Jewish writing has been well ahead of the curve in imagining what a post ethnic future might look like and in critiquing the social conventions of race and ethnicity Leaning Into the Wind Linda M. Hasselstrom, Gaydell M. Collier, Nancy Curtis, 1997 To witness the joy and authenticity a life can hold meet the women of today's High Plains West These true stories essays and poems tell of the glories and rigors of living close to the land depicting an American West that is blessed unromantic Kathleen Norris Reading Group Choices 1999 Mark Kaufman, 1999 Reading Group Choices 2006 Barbara Drummond Mead, 2005 Western States Jewish History, 2006
