Fiscal Equalization For State And Local Government Finance:

Fiscal Equalization for State and Local Government Finance John E. Anderson, 1994-10-26 This volume examines the public policy challenges of fiscal disparities their sources and how states are addressing them States have spent considerable effort and money to reduce fiscal disparities among local governments particularly in the area of education finance Several options to reduce inequalities including local option taxes tax base sharing and shared tax systems have met with varying degrees of success Here public finance experts discuss the implementation of creative public policies for dealing with fiscal disparities Particular attention is paid to school equalization including the division of fiscal responsibilities between state and local governments potential funding sources and what is necessary to achieve school equity The Oxford Handbook of State and Local Government Finance Robert D. Ebel, John E. Petersen, 2012-03-21 This handbook evaluates the persistent problems in the fiscal systems of state and local governments and what can be done to solve them Each chapter provides a description of the discipline area examines major developments in policy practices and research and opines on future prospects

State and Local Public Finance Ronald C. Fisher, 2018-09-03 Now in its 4th edition State and Local Public Finance provides a comprehensive and sophisticated analysis of state and local government public finance practices and issues using the basic tools of economics For this new edition there is a focus on the most important services provided in the state local sector education health and welfare public safety and transportation This textbook provides an examination and analysis of public finance practices and problems in a federal fiscal system focusing on the fiscal behaviour and policies of state and local governments The author presents detailed descriptions of significant institutions Modern economic theory is applied to examine the way these institutions are used to produce and finance services and to provide evaluation of alternative policies Although the emphasis is on U S institutions and issues much of the economic analysis can be applied to any federal system or to fiscal decentralization This fully revised new edition sees updates throughout to data topics and applications The Headlines and Applications sections reflect the most current policy issues affecting state and local governments These include the effects of the Great Recession on state and local governments changes in the tax treatment of internet purchases the Affordable Care Act and implications for Medicaid spending by state governments demographic changes and the implications for state local finances the implications of changes in automobile technology for transportation financing and the potential for increased gambling activity This text will continue to be invaluable reading for those who study public finance local government finance urban economics and public policy and public administration

Intergovernmental Fiscal Transfers Robin W. Boadway, Anwar Shah, 2007 The design of intergovernmental fiscal transfers has a strong bearing on efficiency and equity of public service provision and accountable local governance This book provides a comprehensive one stop window source of materials to guide practitioners and scholars on design and worldwide practices in intergovernmental fiscal transfers and their implications for efficiency and equity in public services provision as well as

accountable governance      Statistical Issues in Allocating Funds by Formula National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Formula Allocations, 2003-02-24 In 2000 the federal government distributed over 260 billion of funding to state and local governments via 180 formula programs These programs promote a wide spectrum of economic and social objectives such as improving educational outcomes and increasing accessibility to medical care and many are designed to compensate for differences in fiscal capacity that affect governments abilities to address identified needs Large amounts of state revenues are also distributed through formula allocation programs to counties cities and other jurisdictions Statistical Issues in Allocating Funds by Formula identifies key issues concerning the design and use of these formulas and advances recommendations for improving the process In addition to the more narrow issues relating to formula design and input data the book discusses broader issues created by the interaction of the political process and the use of formulas to allocate funds Statistical Issues in Allocating Funds by Formula is only up to date guide for policymakers who design fund allocation programs Congress members who are crafting legislation for these programs and federal employees who are in charge of distributing the funds will find this book indispensable      Intergovernmental Fiscal Relations Ronald C. Fisher, 2012-12-06 The main objective of this book is to restate the important theories and evidence from economic analysis concerning intergovernmental fiscal issues More importantly the second objective of the book is to identify gaps in knowledge empirical uncertainties and missing theoretical structures and then to establish a preliminary agenda for new research on this topic The book is organized in two sections The first covers the core body of intergovernmental fiscal relations including optimal size for jurisdictions and assignment of public sector functions the formulation and execution of tax policy in an intergovernmental setting and the appropriate structure and use of intergovernmental transfers In the second section the core knowledge is applied to four major policy areas education welfare fiscal interaction in urban areas and economic development In thinking about a new research agenda the authors call for more current and authoritative estimates of fiscal incidence including interjurisdictional spillovers for more fundamental research about the federation process and effects of consolidation for new evidence about the long run general equilibrium effects of interjurisdictional competition and for basic research about the choice process and establishment of intergovernmental fiscal institutions and policies by federal and subnational governments
