Great Maya Droughts Water Life And Death:

The Great Maya Droughts Richardson B. Gill,2001-04-01 This innovative study argues that the collapse of Classic Maya civilization was driven by catastrophic drought Between A D 800 and 1000 unrelenting drought killed millions of Maya people with famine and thirst and initiated a cascade of internal collapses that destroyed their civilization Linking global regional and local climate change the author explores how atmospheric processes volcanism ocean currents and other natural forces combined to create the dry climate that pried apart the highly complex civilization in the tropical Maya Lowlands in the ninth and tenth centuries Drawing on knowledge of other prehistoric and historic droughts The Great Maya Droughts is a useful study of the relationship of humans to their natural and physical environment The author tries to understand why the Classic Maya failed to adjust their behavior and culture to the climatic conditions and why civilizations in general sometimes collapse in the face of radical environmental change

The Great Maya Droughts Richardson Benedict Gill,2000 The Winds of Change Eugene Linden,2006 Are we better prepared than our ancestors were to deal with climate change Explaining fast changing science Linden suggests that man must learn from the past to avoid a coming catastrophe Illustrations throughout

Disaster Writing Mark D. Anderson,2011 Annotation In the aftermath of disaster literary and other cultural representations of the event can play a role in the renegotiation of political power Here the author analyses four natural disasters in Latin America that acquired national significance and symbolism through literary mediation

People of the Earth Brian M. Fagan,Nadia Durrani,2018-09-18 People of the Earth is a narrative account of the prehistory of humankind from our origins over 3 million years ago to the first pre industrial civilizations beginning about 5 000 years ago This is a global prehistory which covers prehistoric times in every corner of the world in a jargon free style for newcomers to archaeology Many world histories begin with the first civilizations This book starts at the beginning of human history and summarizes the latest research into such major topics as human origins the emergence and spread of modern humans the first farming and the origins of civilization People of the Earth is unique in its even balance of the human past its readily accessible style and its flowing narrative that carries the reader through the long sweep of our past The book is highly illustrated and features boxes and sidebars describing key dating methods and important archaeological sites This classic world prehistory sets the standard for books on the subject and is the most widely used prehistory textbook in the world It is aimed at introductory students in archaeology and anthropology taking survey courses on the prehistoric past as well as more advanced readers It will also appeal to students of human responses to climatic and environmental change

People of the Earth Brian Fagan,Nadia Durrani,2023-06-21 People of the Earth is a narrative account of the prehistory of humankind from our origins over 6 million years ago to the first pre industrial states beginning about 5 000 years ago This is a global prehistory which covers prehistoric times in every corner of the world in a jargon free style for newcomers to archaeology Many world histories begin with the first pre industrial states This book starts at the beginning of human history and summarizes the latest research into such major topics as human origins the emergence and spread of modern humans the first farming and the origins of civilization People of the Earth is unique in its even balance of the human past its readily accessible style and its flowing narrative that carries the reader through the long sweep of our past The book is highly illustrated and features boxes and sidebars describing key dating methods and important archaeological sites This classic world prehistory sets the standard for books on the subject and is the most widely used such textbook in the world It is aimed at introductory students in archaeology and anthropology taking survey courses on the prehistoric past as well as more advanced readers It will also appeal to students of human responses to climatic and environmental change Soils, Climate and Society John D. Wingard,Sue Eileen Hayes,2013-03-15 Much recent archaeological research focuses on social forces as the impetus for cultural change Soils Climate and Society however focuses on the complex relationship between human populations and the physical environment particularly the land the foundation of agricultural production and by extension of agricultural peoples The volume traces the origins of agriculture the transition to agrarian societies the sociocultural implications of agriculture agriculture s effects on population and the theory of carrying capacity considering the relation of agriculture to the profound social changes that it wrought in the New World Soil science plays a significant though varied role in each case study and is the common component of each analysis Soil chemistry is also of particular importance to several of the studies as it determines the amount of food that can be produced in a particular soil and the effects of occupation or cultivation on that soil thus having consequences for future cultivators Soils Climate and Society demonstrates that renewed investigation of agricultural production and demography can answer questions about the past as well as stimulate further research It will be of interest to scholars of archaeology historical ecology and geography and agricultural history The Solutions are Already Here Peter Gelderloos,2022-02-20 Are alternative energies and Green New Deals enough to deliver environmental justice Peter Gelderloos argues that international governmental responses to the climate emergency are structurally incapable of solving the crisis But there is hope Across the world grassroots networks of local communities are working to realise their visions of an alternative revolutionary response to planetary destruction often pitted against the new megaprojects promoted by greenwashed alternative energy infrastructures and the neocolonialist technocratic policies that are the forerunners of the Green New Deal Gelderloos interviews food sovereignty activists in Venezuela Indigenous communities reforesting their lands in Brazil and anarchists fighting biofuel plantations in Indonesia looking at the battles that have cancelled airports stopped pipelines and helped the most marginalised to fight borders and environmental racism to transform their cities to win a dignified survival Weather's Greatest Mysteries Solved! Randy Cervený,2009-06-23 In a lively narrative full of intriguing facts an award winning and internationally known climatologist takes the reader on a fascinating tour of some of the world's most perplexing and provocative climate mysteries past and present The Ecotechnic Future John Michael Greer, 2009-10-01 How to survive and thrive in the post industrial age In response to the coming impact of peak oil John Michael Greer helps us envision the transition from an industrial society to a sustainable ecotechnic world not returning to the past but creating a society that supports relatively advanced technology on a sustainable resource base Fusing human ecology and history this book challenges assumptions held by mainstream and alternative thinkers about the evolution of human societies Human societies like ecosystems evolve in complex and unpredictable ways making it futile to try to impose rigid ideological forms on the patterns of evolutionary change Instead social change must explore many pathways over which we have no control The troubling and exhilarating prospect of an open ended future he proposes requires dissensus a deliberate acceptance of radical diversity that widens the range of potential approaches to infinity Written in three parts the book places the present crisis of the industrial world in its historical and ecological context in part one part two explores the toolkit for Ecotechnic Age and part three opens a door to the complexity of future visions For anyone concerned about peak oil and the future of the industrial society this book provides a solid analysis of how we got to where we are and a practical toolkit to prepare for the future Prehistoric Mesoamerica Richard E. W. Adams, 2005 An up to date overview of Mesoamerican cultures from early prehistoric times through the fall of the Aztec Empire Prehistoric Mesoamerica Third Edition will be useful and appealing to readers interested in Mesoamerican art society politics and intellectual achievement Different Times? Archaeological and Environmental Data from Intra-Site and Off-Site Sequences Zoï Tsirtsoni, Catherine Kuzucuoğlu, Philippe Nondédéo, Olivier Weller, 2020-06-18 Proceedings from Session II 8 of the XVIII UISPP Congress Paris 2018 questioning temporal correlations between intra site and off site data in archaeology related contexts The word site describes here archaeological sites usually settlements where recent research has produced information on the duration and timing of human presence Climate Change and Cultural Heritage Peter F. Smith, 2013-08-15 History reveals how civilisations can be decimated by changes in climate More recently modern methods of warfare have exposed the vulnerability of the artefacts of civilisation Bringing together a range of subjects from science energy and sustainability to aesthetics theory and civilization theory this book uniquely deals with climate change and the ensuing catastrophes in relation to cultural factors urbanism and architecture It links the evolution of civilisation with special emphasis on the dynamics of beauty as displayed in architecture and urbanism to climate change It then considers both the historic and predicted impacts of climate change and the threat it poses to the continued viability of human civilisation when survival is the top priority This book gives students researchers and professionals in architecture and sustainable design as well as anyone interested in the threat of global warming to civilisation new insights as to what could be lost if action is not taken at a global level Atrocities: The 100 Deadliest Episodes in Human History Matthew White, 2011-11-07 An amusing really account of the murderous ways of despots slave traders blundering royals gladiators and assorted hordes New York Times Evangelists of human progress meet their opposite in Matthew White s epic examination of history s one hundred most violent events or in White s piquant phrasing the numbers that people want to argue about Reaching back to the Second Persian War in 480 BCE and moving chronologically through history White surrounds hard facts time and place and succinct takeaways who usually gets the blame with lively military social and political histories Palaces and Power in the Americas Jessica Joyce Christie, Patricia Joan Sarro, 2010-01-01 Ancient American palaces still captivate those who stand before them Even in their fallen and ruined condition the palaces project such power that according to the editors of this new collection it must have been deliberately drawn into their formal designs spatial layouts and choice of locations Such messages separated palaces from other elite architecture and reinforced the power and privilege of those residing in them Indeed as Christie and Sarro write the relation between political power and architecture is a pervasive and intriguing theme in the Americas Given the variety of cultures time periods and geographical locations examined within the editors of this book have grouped the articles into four sections The first looks at palaces in cultures where they have not previously been identified including the Huaca of Moche Site the Wari of Peru and Chaco Canyon in the U S Southwest The second section discusses palaces as stage sets that express power such as those found among the Maya among the Coast Salish of the Pacific Northwest and at El Tajín on the Mexican Gulf Coast The third part of the volume presents cases in which differences in elite residences imply differences in social status with examples from Pasado de la Amada the Valley of Oaxaca Teotihuacan and the Aztecs The final section compares architectural strategies between cultures the models here are Farf n Peru under both the Chim and the Inka and the separate states of the Maya and the Inka Such scope and the quality of the scholarship make Palaces and Power in the Americas a must have work on the subject Climate Change Bruce E. Johansen, 2017-09-15 This three volume set presents entries and primary sources that will impress on readers that what we do or don t do today regarding climate change will dramatically influence what life on this planet will be like for untold numbers of generations How are the behaviors of birds butterflies and other migratory animals connected to climate change What does the term thermal inertia mean and what does this geophysical effect have on predicting what the planet s future will be like What is the context for the effects we are seeing on various forms of animal life from migrating birds to polar bears to mosquitoes that transmit Zika and other diseases Climate Change An Encyclopedia of Science Society and Solutions combines entries describing Earth s variable climatic history references to scientific literature weather record data and selected primary documents to present readers with a comprehensive account of global warming s effects worldwide By examining verifiable quantitative information such as the frequency and intensity of hurricanes and changes in the hydrological cycle as well as clear patterns and trends of alternating droughts and deluges and wildfires melting ice and rising seas readers will be able to understand why scientists are so concerned about the future of our climate Researchers will benefit from detailed explanations of scientific topics such as thermal inertia feedbacks and tipping points and receive invaluable context on the role of energy use in climate change including automobiles and air travel Readers will learn about the role of China in the current global climate and in the future the widespread effects of climate change on agriculture and how indigenous peoples lives are being impacted from drought and the Navajos to hunters lives in the Arctic The work concludes with thought provoking debates regarding potential solutions from wind power and solar power to geo engineering
