Regenerative-Adaptive Design for Sustainable Development Phillip B. Roös, 2020-09-15 In this book the author tests a regenerative adaptive pattern language theory towards investigating the possibilities of a holistic integrated design and planning method for sustainable development that incorporates the principles of regenerative design as well as an adaptive pattern language that re-establishes our wholeness with nature and considers the vulnerabilities of a changing landscape The book examines an integral approach to contemporary theories of planning and design that explores the human nature relationship patterns in social and spatial interconnections between people and their natural environments The interconnectedness of human and natural systems is used to scaffold possible solutions to address key environmental and sustainability issues that specifically address the need for patterns of behaviour that acknowledge the duality of man and nature In 12 chapters the book presents a holistic regenerative adaptive pattern language that encapsulates how communities can better appreciate landscape change under future climate effects and acknowledges the importance to adapt to patterns of change of place and the environment and therefore inform the communities responses for sustainable development The application of the regenerative adaptive pattern language was tested along the Great Ocean Road region of the Victorian coast in Australia The concluding chapters argues that for human settlements and cities to be resilient and sustainable we must understand the interconnected patterns of human built environments and natural systems and how we function in a social spatial dimension with these The book is intended for practitioners and academic scholars with interest in sustainable development regenerative design pattern languages biophilia settlement planning and climate change adaptation

Bonza Voyage John Watters, 2008-08-21 Life seemed quite straight forward for John Watters finish school do a degree and get a job Then one day he read about a country with so much space that nuclear explosions occasionally take place in the middle of it and nobody really notices Immediately his adventurous soul had been released Obtaining a job deep in the isolated Australian Bush John attempts to explore the country from the inside out first as a native then as a tourist From this perspective he is able to portray the real Australia with truly hilarious consequences before joining his fellow backpackers on a bus journey pilgrimage along the country's eastern coast With a heart stopping skydive over The Great Barrier Reef a close encounter with a crocodile a humorous day out in the bizarre world of Aussie Rules football and some of the most extravagantly exuberant characters on the planet providing a magnificent stage Bonza Voyage truly captures the enchanting spirit of the long distant traveller

Urban Landscape Management James Hitchmough, 1994 This book has been written for use by students and practitioners of the wide range of disciplines involved in some way in the landscape Some of the content is descriptive and addresses the means by which various aspects of landscape management can be carried out most effectively This is supplemented by a more philosophical discussion on why certain courses of action are or are not undertaken Whilst the book is concerned primarily with landscape management rather than design wherever possible management is set in a context of consideration for the aesthetic values of the urban landscape Jacket
