Great Swivel Link Canadas Welland Canals:

This Colossal Project Roberta M. Styran, Robert R. Taylor, 2016-12-01 This Colossal Project presents an absorbing epic on the building of the fourth Welland Canal which connects Lake Ontario and Lake Erie and allows ships to bypass Niagara Falls. An immense undertaking, the canal is a vital part of North America's infrastructure and still functions as an essential part of the St. Lawrence Seaway. Emphasizing the role that vivid personalities including engineers John Laing Weller and Alex Grant, as well as contractors and labourers played in the construction of the canal, Roberta Styran and Robert Taylor use archival sources, government documents, newspapers, maps, and original plans to describe a saga of technological, financial, geographical, and social obstacles met and overcome in an accomplishment akin to the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A story of Canadian skill, courage, vision, and hardship, This Colossal Project details the twenty-year excavation of the giant channel and the creation of huge concrete locks amidst war, the Great Depression, political change, and labour unrest. Building on the work presented in Styran and Taylor's This Great National Object, which told the story of the first three Welland canals built in the nineteenth century, This Colossal Project chronicles an impressive milestone in the history of Canadian technological achievement and nation building.

This Great National Object Roberta M. Styran, Robert Taylor, 2012-03-22 Making extensive use of the National Archives and the Archives of Ontario, Styran and Taylor unveil previously unpublished information about the construction of the canals, including technical plans and drawings from a wide variety of sources. They illustrate the technical and management intricacies of building a navigational trade and commerce lifeline while also revealing the vivid characters from businessman William Hamilton Merritt to engineer John Page who inspired the project and drove it to completion. The history of the Welland Canals is a gripping tale of epic proportions. Given the ongoing importance of the Great Lakes in the North American economy, interest in the St. Lawrence Seaway, of which the Welland is the Great Swivel Link, and the relevance of labour history, This Great National Object will be of interest to enthusiasts and historians alike.

Overcoming Niagara Janet Dorothy Larkin, 2018-02-15 In Overcoming Niagara, Janet Dorothy Larkin analyzes the canal age from the perspective of the Niagara Great Lakes borderland between 1792 and 1837. She shows what drove the transportation revolution, not the conventional story of westward expansion and the international metropolitan rivalry between Great Britain and the United States, but a dynamic connection, cooperation, and healthy competition in a transnational borderland region. Larkin focuses on North America's three most vital waterways: the Erie, Oswego, and Welland Canals. Canadian and American transportation leaders and promoters mutually sought to overcome the natural and artificial barriers presented by Niagara Falls by building an integrated, interconnected canal system, thus strengthening the borderland economy and propelling westward expansion, market development, and the Niagara tourist industry. On the heels of the Erie Canal's bicentennial in 2017, Overcoming Niagara explores the transnational nature of the canal age within the Niagara Great Lakes borderland and its impact on the commercial and cultural landscape of this porous

The World of Niagara Wine is a transdisciplinary exploration of the Niagara wine industry In the first section contributors explore the history and regulation of wine production as well as its contemporary economic significance The second section focuses on the entrepreneurship behind and the promotion and marketing of Niagara wines The third introduces readers to the science of grape growing wine tasting and wine production and the final section examines the social and cultural ramifications of Niagara s increasing reliance on grapes and wine as an economic motor for the region The original research in this book celebrates and critiques the local wine industry and situates it in a complex web of Old World traditions and New World reliance on technology science and taste as well as global processes and local sociocultural reactions Preface by Konrad Ejbich      Don't Give Up the Ship! Donald R. involved engineering on an unprecedented scale and significant human dislocation. During construction communities along the Great Lakes planned for increased prosperity but changes in transportation, aging infrastructure, and environmental problems have meant that the Golden Dream has not been fully realized even today. This popular history chronicles the rise of one of the great engineering projects in Canadian history and its controversial impact on the people living along the St. Lawrence River.

Between Heaven and Balmoral Robert Ratcliffe Taylor, 2024-07-18. In 1860 Cary Castle was built by George Hunter Cary in Victoria, the bustling Gold Rush capital of Vancouver Island. Cary was the brilliant, boy attorney, general, unethical, unpopular, and mentally disturbed one of the colony's vivid early characters. In 1865 Governor Arthur Kennedy forced the parsimonious Legislative Assembly to purchase the mansion as Vancouver Island's Government House. After 1871 it became the vice-regal residence of the new province of British Columbia, which it remained until it burned down in 1899. Defectively built and uncomfortable to live in, prone to drafts, fires, and water leakage, it nevertheless reflected the character and heritage of Victoria and played an important role in the history of the province and Canada. The venue of elegant social events as well as personal dramas, the mansion hosted British royalty, governors, general naval officers, and local political leaders and could have become a Canadian historic site. Cary Castle was also a family home for vice-regal couples where babies were born, boys slid down the bannister in the main hall, nasty diseases were endured, and the Chinese help was indispensable. Based on personal memoirs and letters, government documents, newspaper articles, photographs, and plans, this book recreates how that idiosyncratic mansion looked and even smelled. Professor Martin Segger described Dr. Taylor's earlier study The Birdcages: British Columbia's First Legislative Buildings (Friesen, 2020) as a significant contribution with fascinating detail and a highly readable writing style. Ormsby Review, April 22, 2020. Between Heaven and Balmoral expands the picture of colonial Victoria developed in The Birdcages and will appeal to readers interested in Victoria's history, especially its early social and architectural development.

Transatlantic Upper Canada Kevin Hutchings, 2020-08-20. Literature emerging from nineteenth-century Upper Canada, born of dramatic cultural and political collisions, reveals much about the colony's history through its contrasting understandings of nature, ecology, deforestation, agricultural development, and land rights. In the first detailed study of literary interactions between Indigenous people and colonial authorities in Upper Canada and Britain, Kevin Hutchings analyzes the period's key figures and the central role that romanticism, ecology, and environment played in their writings. Investigating the ties that bound Upper Canada and Great Britain together during the early nineteenth century, Transatlantic Upper Canada demonstrates the existence of a cosmopolitan culture whose implications for the land and its people are still felt today. The book examines the writings of Haudenosaunee leaders John Norton and John Brant, and Anishinabeg authors Jane Johnston Schoolcraft, Peter Jones, and George Copway, as well as European figures John Beverley Robinson, John Strachan, Anna Brownell Jameson, and Sir Francis Bond Head. Hutchings argues that despite their cultural differences, many factors connected these writers, including shared literary interests, cross

Atlantic journeys metropolitan experiences mutual acquaintance and engagement in ongoing dialogue over Indigenous territory and governance A close examination of relationships between peoples and their understandings of land Transatlantic Upper Canada creates a rich portrait of the nineteenth century British Atlantic world and the cultural and environmental consequences of colonialism and resistance The Ones Who Have to Pay Robert Ratcliffe Taylor,2013-05

When war in Europe broke out in 1914 why did so many men from Victoria BC Canada enlist enthusiastically What did they feel about the war they were fighting What were their personal values Were they ever disillusioned in the trenches of the Western Front To what extent did they enjoy combat How did they regard the German enemy And faced with artillery bombardment execrable living conditions and the fear of death or maiming what helped them to carry on In researching these questions the author found that Victoria was a unique city in several ways and that some assumptions about Canadian soldiers trench experience may not apply to volunteers from that city Moreover the culture of the time was different from that of Canada today so that the enthusiasm for military life and for the empire may seem bizarre to young people Ideals of masculinity may seem outdated and the concepts of personal honor and duty which these men supported may be obsolete This essay tries to understand the culture of Canada and especially that of Victoria BC a century ago a pertinent exercise considering the centenary of the outbreak of the Great War "Great Swivel Link" , The Great Swivel Link Champlain Society,2001

Canada , Negotiating a River Daniel MacFarlane,2014-03-01 A megaproject half a century in the making the planning and building of the St Lawrence Seaway and Power Project is one of the defining episodes in North American history Possibly the largest construction undertaking in Canadian history and one of the most ambitious borderlands projects ever embarked upon by two countries it also required decades of negotiation and the controversial relocation of thousands of people Negotiating a River looks at the profound impacts of this megaproject from the complex diplomatic negotiations political manoeuvring and environmental diplomacy to the implications on national identities and transnational relations The World's Water Volume 7 Peter H.
