together scholars and educators based in Myanmar the USA the UK Denmark and Thailand this book presents new perspectives and research on the struggle for social justice and peace in Myanmar at this critical juncture It shows how actors from diverse backgrounds and regions of Myanmar are drawing from their identities evoking their agency and using critical pedagogy to advance social justice and peace The chapters provide the compelling life stories of the authors specific examples of what they are doing and insights of how their work might be applied to other contexts The topics discussed include addressing structural violence peace curriculum development identity based conflict teaching the history of the country promoting inclusion civic education critical pedagogy teacher agency and agendas of research funding for peacebuilding The foreword and afterword written by well known scholars of Myanmar address the relevance and importance of the book vis a vis the current social and political crisis following the February 2021 military coup Peace Education James Page,2008-09-01 Peace education is now well recognized within international legal instruments and within critical educational literature as an important aspect of education Despite this little attention has been given in the critical literature to the philosophical foundations for peace education and the rationale for peace education thus remains substantially an assumed one This investigation explores some possible ethico philosophical foundations for peace education through an examination of five specific ethical traditions 1 virtue ethics whereby peace may be interpreted as a virtue and or virtue is interpreted as peacefulness and peace education as education in that virtue 2 consequentialist ethics whereby peace education may be interpreted as education regarding the consequences of our action and inaction both as individuals and collectivities 3 conservative political ethics whereby peace education may be interpreted as emphasizing the importance of the evolution of social institutions and the importance of ordered and lawful social change 4 aesthetic ethics whereby peace may be interpreted as something beautiful and valuable in itself and peace education as emphasizing the importance of that beauty and value and 5 the ethics of care whereby care may be interpreted as a core element in peace and peace education as encouraging trust and engagement with the other The study addresses major contributions to each of these ethical traditions the strengths and weaknesses of the tradition and the ways in which the tradition provides support for peace education It is argued in the thesis that each tradition provides only a partial basis for peace education and that ultimately a holistic and integrative understanding is required one that encourages a culture of peace an important addition to the emerging literature on peace education and the culture of peace From the Foreword by Koichiro Matsuura Director General of UNESCO
