Schools, Curriculum and Civic Education for Building Democratic Citizens Murray Print, Dirk Lange, 2013-02-12 How can schools and the school curriculum contribute to building democratic citizens This is a major question posed by governments educational systems schools teachers and researchers around the world One important way is to identify the competences needed for preparing democratic citizens and incorporate these within both the formal and informal school curriculum Another question must then be posed what competences do young citizens need to be considered as active and engaged in modern democracies In 2011 an invited research symposium of leading civic and political educators and social scientists from across Europe met in Hannover Germany to consider this key concern facing Europe today In examining the above questions the symposium addressed two significant issues 1 Identify key competencies required for active citizenship of young people in Europe of the future 2 Translate those competencies to school based activities in the form of curricular and pedagogical strategies The publication Civic Education and Competences for Engaging Citizens in Democracies addressed the first issue and this volume addresses the second issue Through discussion in the invited symposium previously prepared papers and participation in a modified Delphi Technique the participants have prepared chapters for this book The chapters of this book represent the contribution of the participants before during and after the symposium with opportunities for review and reflection about competences for democratic citizenship and the role of schools and the curriculum Murray Print and Dirk Lange are professors from the University of Sydney and Leibniz University of Hannover respectively and are national leaders in civics and citizenship education in their respective countries They have brought together a group of leading European civic and citizenship educators from different academic fields to explore the key issue and to identify the competences for young people to become active and engaged European citizens Research in Education, 1973 and Masters level study Resources in Education ,2001 Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1974 Educating the Young Thinker C. Copple,I. E. Sigel,R. Saunders,2013-02-01 Published in the year 1984 Educating the Young Thinker is a valuable contribution to the field of Cognitive Psychology The Century of the Child Theresa Richardson,1989-08-03 In this book Richardson crosses disciplinary boundaries to examine mental hygiene issues of contemporary concern in both the United States and Canada The work juxtaposes a social history of the child in the twentieth century to shifts in private and public power as influenced by the mental hygiene movements in both countries The author shows how the historical record sheds light on current policy concerned with mentally emotionally and educationally handicapped children As a sociology of mental illness the book examines the relationship between mental hygiene as a form of knowledge and the social institutions that fostered the use of psychiatric perspectives concerning child and family life Significant topics covered in this regard include the history of early childhood and parent education the origins of child psychiatry in treating juvenile delinquency and the evolution of contemporary concepts of normal development Handbook of Research on Special Education Teacher Preparation Paul T. Sindelar,Erica D. McCray,Mary T. Brownell,Benjamin Lignugaris/Kraft,2014-03-05 Compilations of research on teacher preparation often include no more than a cursory mention of the specific roles and needs of special education teachers Although the work that special education teachers perform does indeed differ from the work of classroom teachers teacher preparation in the two fields has much in common The purpose of this seven part handbook is to expand our knowledge of teacher education broadly by providing an in depth look at the most up to date research on special education teacher preparation Opening chapters ground the collection in political and economic context while subsequent sections delve deeply into issues related to the current state of our special education workforce and offer insights into how to best prepare and sustain that workforce Ultimately by illuminating the particularities of special education teacher preparation this landmark handbook addresses the state of current research in the field and sets an agenda for future scholarship Educational Documentation and Information ,1975 Schools and Informal Learning in a Knowledge-Based World Javier Calvo de Mora,Kerry J. Kennedy,2019-09-19 This book has two purposes To open up the debate on the role of informal education in schooling systems and to suggest the kind of school organizational environment that can best facilitate the recognition of informal learning Successive chapters explore what is often seen as a duality between informal and formal learning This duality is particularly so because education systems expend so much time and effort in certifying formal knowledge often expressed in school subjects reflecting academic disciplines Recognizing the contribution informal learning can make to young people s understanding and development does not negate the importance of valued social knowledge That complements it Students come to school with knowledge learnt from their families peers the community and both traditional and social media They should not have to unlearn this in order to enter the world of formal learning Rather students different learning worlds should be integrated so that each informs the other In a knowledge based society all learning needs to be valued Some contributors to this book reflect on how new educational systems could be created in a move away from top down authoritarian and bureaucratic management Such open systems are seen to be more welcoming in acknowledging the importance of informal learning Others provide practical examples of how informal learning is currently recognized Some attention is also paid to the evaluation of informal learning A key objective of the work presented here is to stimulate debate about the role of informal learning in knowledge based societies and to stimulate thinking about the kind of reforms needed to create more open and more democratic school learning environments
