Education And Training In A Knowledge Based Economy:

Education and Training in a Knowledge Based Economy J. A. M. Heijke, J. Muysken, 2000 The aim of this book is to contribute to the scientific knowledge base that can be used as a foundation for views and expectations regarding the economic impact of education and training The book concentrates on the economic effects of education and training as determined by a proper match between education and jobs or under and over education the choices made in education the quality of schools the general or the specific nature of the training taken technology innovation and the obsolescence of knowledge The Knowledge-based Economy, 1996 The Wiley Handbook of Vocational Education and Training David Guile, Lorna Unwin, 2019-01-18 A collection of the theories practices and policies of vocational education and training written by international experts The Wiley Handbook of Vocational Education and Training offers an in depth guide to the theories practices and policies of vocational education and training VET With contributions from a panel of leading international scholars the Handbook contains 27 authoritative essays from a wide range of disciplines The contributors present an integrated analysis of the complex and dynamic field of VET Drawing on the most recent research thinking and practice in the field the book explores the key debates about the role of VET in the education and training systems of various nations The Handbook reveals how expertise is developed in an age of considerable transformation in work processes work organization and occupational identities The authors also examine many of the challenges of vocational education and training such as the impact of digital technologies on employment the demand for re training in the context of extended working lives the emergence of learning regions and skill ecosystems and the professional development of vocational teachers and trainers This important text Offers an original view of VET's role in both the initial and continuing development of expertise Examines the theories and concepts that underpin international perspectives and explores the differences about the purposes of VET Presents various models of learning used in VET including apprenticeship and their relationship with general education Explores how VET is shaped in different ways by the political economy of different countries Reviews how developments in digital technologies are changing VET practice Discusses the challenges for universities offering higher vocational education programs Draws on both recent research as well as historical accounts Written for students researchers and scholars in the fields of educational studies human resource development social policy political economy labor market economics industrial relations sociology The Wiley Handbook of Vocational Education and Training offers an international perspective on the topic of VET Shaping Flexibility in Vocational Education and Training W.J. Nijhof, Anja Heikkinen, Loek F.M. Nieuwenhuis, 2005-12-28 Flexibility seems to be the core concept of economic and educational change in our time The promise of solutions to many problems at the individual institutional and national level evokes as much controversy as acclaim This might be related to the different perspectives of actors and researchers involved in problem solving in Vocational Education and Training VET where on the one hand solutions should be sought in key qualifications and transferability in changing teaching and learning processes while on the other political institutional organisational and professional conditions are seen as the key interventions to build a responsive workforce on the basis of a re engineered VET system Consequently flexibility in connection with vocational education and training and the labour market has several divergent connotations Education and the Knowledge-Based Economy in Europe ,2008-01-01 This book addresses the recent impact of the knowledge based economy as an economic imaginary and as a set of real economic developments on education and especially higher education in Europe including educational strategies and policies such as those of the Bologna process on a European scale The contributors come from various disciplinary backgrounds education history linguistics sociology but share a commitment to trans disciplinary research and a view that changes in educational policy and practice can productively be researched with a focus on discourse The papers in this collection apply a range of approaches to discourse analysis as well as narrative policy analysis and several contributors use a cultural political economy perspective which incorporates a version of critical discourse analysis The book will be of interest to researchers post graduate students and advanced undergraduate students in several subject areas including education discourse studies and political economy

Towards a Knowledge Based Economy? Michael Kuhn,Massimo Tomassini,P. R. J. Simons,2006 Although educational research advocates the perspective of the learner who or what is it advocating against The governments of all European Union countries give learning the most prominent place on their policy agendas the European Commission wants Europe to become a knowledge based society companies across the European Union are no longer interested primarily in profit but want to be learning organisations social scientists detect the emergence of a learning society and economists advocate a learning economy What does European educational research do if nowadays everybody in the European Union wants nothing else but knowledgeable people Learning cities in a knowledge based society ,2010 Globalisation and Education Policy Reform in Botswana Richard Tabulawa,2023-07-21 This book uses the global local dialect approach to explicate education policy reform in Botswana and interrogates the practical effects of the various education policies on curriculum pedagogy and governance of the Botswana General Education system Considering the effect of three reform policies since Botswana s Independence in 1966 the book evaluates the performance of each of the policies and examines their consequences in terms of the interplay of global forces and domestic pressures The result of this interplay has been an education landscape that while reflecting globally circulating education discourses markedly differs from those same discourses The book argues that the State in Botswana has appropriated education policy to legitimate itself in times of crisis and that each policy has improved access to general education but collectively have failed to improve its quality making suggestions for how this can be improved in the future As the first book of its kind to delve into education in Botswana from a single authored critical lens the book will be a highly relevant reading for academics researchers and post graduate students of African education comparative education education policy and curriculum studies Implementing European Union

Education and Training Policy D. Phillips, H. Ertl, 2007-05-08 The papers which make up this volume have for the most part emerged from the work of a team of young researchers based for varying periods at the Department of Educational Studies of the University of Oxford as part of an international network funded by the European Union The network known as PRESTiGE Problems of Educational Standardisation and Transition in a Global Environment involves teams at six European universities each of which can only employ young researchers from Member States other than that in which it is situated The Oxford part of PRESTiGE has been concerned with the interpretation transmission and implementation of European Union education and training policy in four Member States France Germany Sweden and the United Kingdom As the leader of the Oxford team I had the good fortune to work with young researchers from Denmark Germany Greece Sweden and Portugal Their work is included here So too are contributions from Jake Murdoch a member of the Dijon team based at the Universit de Bourgogne and Professor Antonio Novoa the leader of the Lisbon team Together the papers which we have allowed to overlap to some extent so that each one can be read independently represent a genuinely international collaborative effort to understand the intentions and the effects of EU education and training policy and we hope that they will contribute to further discussion of the important issues that those with an interest in European co operation and development will wish to pursue

The Human Society and the Internet: Internet Related Socio-Economic Issues Won

Kim, Tok-Wang Ling, Yoon-Joon Lee, Seung-Soo Park, 2003-06-29 During the past several years the world has entered the first phase of the Internet Revolution Investors showed confidence and faith in the prospects of the Internet driven economy In the US alone some 30 000 dot com companies have sprung up to support electronic commerce with a wide variety of business models technologies and or items or services to sell or even give away Traditional businesses so called brick and mortar or offline businesses have started to respond to challenges by Internet based new competitors by augmenting their own businesses with Internet based or online businesses and or filing lawsuits against them The initial business to consumer orientation of electronic commerce is giving way to business to business commerce with large corporations forming electronic exchanges or consortia to conduct commerce among members Government industry and civic groups have started addressing social issues related to the Internet such as taxation on electronic commerce privacy intellectual property rights security hacking cyber crimes digital divide etc Governments have started legitimizing electronic signatures and stepping up efforts to track down perpetrators of cyber crimes The courts have started to wrestle with issues of privacy intellectual property rights crimes and impediments to Internet driven economy

Economy, Work, and Education Catherine Casey, 2016-07-27 Economy Work and Education Critical Connections addresses effects of neoliberal capitalism in particular regard to work and education It reveals limits and paradoxes in macroeconomic policy imperatives toward knowledge based economies and learning societies and elaborates ensuing critical concerns and dilemmas It concludes with an exploration of innovative conceptions of social citizenship which may stimulate sources of a revitalization of work and education beyond singular economic imperatives

Building Inclusive Communities through Education and Learning Klara Skubic Ermenc, Borut Mikulec, 2019-08-22 The book addresses the complex relationships among learning education and the community It examines the significance of the community for the individual s development and the potential that learning and education have for the development of the community The volume gathers together the findings of a number of quantitative and qualitative studies conducted on different samples theoretical discussions set in comparative international contexts Although the studies employ Slovenian samples and analyse situations in this country the contributions address issues that are of concern to the global research community Moreover they respond to international debates and engage in the dialogue between the local partial and the global universal The book is unique in its embeddedness in the intellectual continental European tradition that has been characterised by the failed historical experience of attempting collective unity through the community understood as a common identity in former Yugoslavia
