A Modern Art of Education Rudolf Steiner,2001-03-15 In this fine introduction to Waldorf education written out of a series of lectures given in 1924 Steiner provides one of the most comprehensive introductions to his pedagogical philosophy psychology and practice Steiner begins by describing the union of science art religion and morality which was the aim of all his work and underlies his concept of education Against this background many of the lectures describe a new developmental psychology On this basis having established how children s consciousness develops Steiner discusses how different subjects should be presented so that individuals can grow and flourish inwardly Only if the child absorbs the right subject in the right way at the right time can the inner freedom so necessary for life in the modern world become second nature

Rudolf Steiner Bo Dahlin,2017-06-22 This book covers Rudolf Steiner s biography presented from an educational point of view and also unfolds the different aspects of Steiner s educational thought in Waldorf Education His point of view is unique in that it relates education to a wide horizon of different contexts such as social pedagogical evolutionary and spiritual aspects His ideas are philosophical ethical epistemological ontological However above all they are based on spiritual understanding of the human being and the world In many ways they stand in stark contrast to the views that inform present mainstream educational thought and practice Nevertheless there are points where Steiner s ideas can find a resonance in more recent educational thought Steiner was in many ways ahead of his time and his educational ideas are still relevant to many present day educational issues and problems

Rudolf

Steiner Heiner Ullrich, 2014-10-23 Rudolf Steiner is one of the most controversially judged educational reformers of the twentieth century. Although he received little recognition within his field, his educational thought has had a sustained and profound influence not only in the development of the Waldorf Schools but also in healing, socially therapeutic work, psychosomatic medicine, biological dynamics, agriculture, corporate organisation, fine arts, and architecture. Heiner Ullrich paints a concise and well-grounded portrait of the creator of the anthroposophic doctrine and Waldorf pedagogy. The text describes a wide arc from the intellectual biography of Rudolf Steiner across his basic ideas on human development and education to include discussion of the organisation, curriculum, methods, and success of the Waldorf Schools. The Art of Teaching Secondary English Nicholas McGuinn, David Stevens, 2004-05-27 The Art of Teaching Secondary English is a practical and accessible resource for everyone involved in English teaching, including teachers and student teachers of English. Jacket The Spirit of the Waldorf School Rudolf Steiner, 1995 6 lectures and an essay 1919-1920 CW 297 World War I destroyed the structures, values, and self-confidence that created the seeming greatness of the nineteenth century. In its place stood ruins and the shards of a civilization. In response to this, Emil Molt, the director of the Waldorf Astoria Cigarette Factory, and a student of Rudolf Steiner decided to establish a school to educate people who could create a new culture. Thus, the Waldorf school movement was begun. Rudolf Steiner agreed to act as the school's consultant, and his insights guided the school in accomplishing this ambitious task. The goal of this education was that through living inner work, guided by the insights of Rudolf Steiner, the teachers would develop in the children such power of thought, depth of feeling, and strength of will that they would emerge from their school years as full members of the human community, able to meet and transform the world. These lectures occurred around the opening of the first Waldorf school. They serve as an excellent inspiring introduction to Waldorf education as a whole. Here Steiner outlines with freshness, immediacy, and excitement the goals and intentions of a new form of education and speaks to parents of prospective students. He explains the school's guiding principles and describes how parents must participate with understanding and interest in the awakening of their children's creative forces so that a healthier society can come about.
