Educational Curricula Jennifer N. Casey, 2008 In formal education a curriculum plural curricula is the set of courses and their content offered at a school or university As an idea curriculum stems from the Latin word for race course referring to the course of deeds and experiences through which children grow and mature in becoming adults Crucial to the curriculum is the definition of the course objectives that usually are expressed as learning outcomes and normally include the program s assessment strategy These outcomes and assessments are grouped as units or modules and therefore the curriculum comprises a collection of such units each in turn comprising a specialised specific part of the curriculum So a typical curriculum includes communications numeracy information technology and social skills units with specific specialised teaching of each This book presents research on educational curricula from around the world Action Research in South African Education TM Makoelle,2019-11-15 In an increasingly complex and challenging profession the need for teachers administrators and school systems to become involved in professional development activities is ever present Action Research in South African Education A Critical Praxis is a culmination of varying reflective accounts Professor Makoelle made as a teacher an academic and a devoted action researcher The book delves into his beliefs attitudes and conceptions about the evolving discourse of Action Research in education and how it could be operationalised in varying educative contexts The conversation fosters openness toward new ideas and learning new innovations as well as giving teachers ownership of effective practices It ultimately provides teachers with the necessary skills knowledge and focus to engage in meaningful inquiry about their professional practice Fanon, Education, Action Erica Burman,2018-07-23 Bridging childhood studies pedagogy and educational theory critical psychology and postcolonial studies this unique book reads the role and functions of the child and childhood as both cultural motif and as embodied life condition through the work of Frantz Fanon Based on innovative readings of Fanon and postcolonial cultural studies the book offers new insights for critical pedagogical and transformative practice in forging crucial links not only between the political and the psychological but between distress therapy and personal and political learning and transformation Structured around four indicative and distinct forms of child read from Fanon s texts Idiotic Traumatogenic Therapeutic Extemic the author discusses both educational and therapeutic practices The pedagogical links the political with the personal and Fanon s revolutionary psychoaffective account offers vital resources to inform these Finally the book presents child as method as a new analytical approach by which to read the geopolitical which shows childhood education and critical psychological studies to be key to these at the level of theory method and practice By interrogating contemporary modalities of childhood as modern economic and political tropes the author offers conceptual and methodological resources for practically engaging with and transforming these This book will be vital and fascinating reading for students and scholars in psychology psychoanalysis education and childhood studies gender studies postcolonial studies and mental health Values and Virtues in Higher Education Research. Jean McNiff,2016-06-10 Values and Virtues in Higher Education Research centres on practitioners studying and researching their practices in higher education settings in order to improve those practices for the benefit of others and themselves Making research public is a key aspect of ensuring the quality of educational research and educational practices Values and Virtues in Higher Education Research raises questions and develops conversations about why higher education practitioners should study and improve their work how this may be done and what might be some of the benefits of doing so What we do as practitioners is influenced by and linked with what we value what we believe is good Improving practices therefore involves becoming aware of and interrogating the values that enter into and inform those practices a study of practices becomes a study of the relationships between the practices in question and their values base From an international group of contributors in this growing field this book provides strong theoretical resources and case study material that shows how this transformation may be achieved including topics such as Theorising practices to show personal and organisational accountability Developing inter professional and inter disciplinary dialogues for social transformation Establishing communities of inquiry in higher education and other workplace settings Reconceptualising professional education as research informed practice Locating educational theory in the real world for human and environmental wellbeing Showing the evolution of theory through critical engagement this text will be a valuable companion for lecturers students and professional developers in higher education This book will form core reading for those who are interested in engaging in practice based research and as additional reading for those whose aim is to broaden their thinking in relation to the role of values and virtues in educational research Jean McNiff is an independent researcher and writer Professor of Educational Research at York St John University and Visiting Professor at Oslo and Akershus University College Beijing Normal University and Ningxia Teachers University She is also the author of key texts Action Research Principles and Practice You and Your Action Research Project and Writing Up Your Action Research Project
