

Educational anthropology

In a general sense, educational anthropology involves the use of anthropological theory, data, and methods to study educational practices, institutions, and problems in their proper cultural contexts. The range of educational institutions studied varies from highly formal school systems in industrialized societies to very informal systems in which important cultural knowledge is passed down from generation to generation by kin through such means as storytelling, experiential learning, and peer interaction. The 1960s and 1970s witnessed many case studies in education and culture. For example, Thomas Williams (1969) wrote A Borneo Childhood, a study of how Dusun children learned what they needed to know at different stages of development; Margaret Read (1960) wrote Children of Their Fathers, an ethnography of growing up among the Ngoni of Malawi; and Bruce Grindal (1972), in his work Growing Up in Two Worlds, ethnographically examined how the Sisala children of northern Ghana were caught between traditional and more modern forms of education. At the same time, other educational anthropologists were working closer to home. For example, Gerry Rosenfeld (1971) studied school failure among Black children in Harlem schools, John Hostetler and Gertrude Huntington (1971) studied the process of education among the Amish in Ohio, and Martha Ward (1971) examined speech acquisition among Black children near New Orleans.

Educational Anthropology George F. Kneller, 1965 Educational Anthropology Paul Buchner, 1965 An Introduction to Multicultural Education Chinaka S. DomNwachukwu, 2010-03-15 An Introduction to Multicultural Education provides a balance between the principles and practice of multicultural education in the K 12 classroom presenting multicultural education as a learner centered pedagogy DomNwachukwu s book projects foundational principles and practices that make multicultural education relevant and appealing while eliminating ideas and practices that produce negative reactions and outcomes An Introduction to Multicultural Education utilizes historical data to make the case for equity pedagogy going further than other books on this topic to provide practical steps and approaches to implementing multicultural education The person and cultural identity of the teacher is addressed in depth The person and nature of the learner and the learning process are addressed as foundational ideas behind equity pedagogy Such multicultural education topics as gender equity universal access religious pluralism and bilingualism or multilingualism are all addressed with much detail This book provides pre service and in service teachers with the theoretical and practical support they need to provide equal and meaningful education to all the students in their classrooms Perspectives on Human Learning Hansen, Judith Friedman, 1979-01-01 Contrasting School Culture and Education V. Sucharita, 2023-05-31 This book presents a comparative ethnographic understanding of government and low fee private schools in India within the context of ever increasing privatization and commercialization of education and the growing presence of non state actors Drawing on rich empirical data the book provides an ethnographic account of a government and a low fee private school in Hyderabad India and explores life in these two distinct spaces through the lens of culture While private schools catering to the poorer sections have been proliferating little is known about how these low fee private schools operate how choices and negotiations unfold the classroom discourses subjective meanings of different stakeholders and the kind of education provided in these schools vis vis the government schools The book focuses on the educational experiences schooling choices processes and voices of the children and teachers at these schools to reflect on how school culture influences the quality of education Based on intensive fieldwork and qualitative data the book provides contextual insights into what exactly happens inside the schools and classrooms of two contrasting schooling provisions in India and helps understand the world views of different stakeholders as they negotiate their daily lives The book will be of interest to students researchers and teachers of education sociology of education childhood studies urban education and teacher education It will also be useful for education policymakers educationists education professionals and those working on private schooling in India Human Rights & Education N. Bernstein Tarrow, 2014-06-28 This book discusses the relationship between human rights and education Education as a human right and education for human rights are currently the topics of considerable debate worldwide In addition to their traditional role of transmitting knowledge and values education systems are being pressed to respond to a new range of aspirations and to a wide variety of economic political social and cultural developments whose roots lie outside the education system Human rights education is much wider than just teaching about human rights it should lead to an understanding of and sympathy for the concepts of democracy justice equality freedom solidarity peace dignity rights and responsibilities Young people are guaranteed their right to education and education systems should equip them with the knowledge skills and attitudes they will need if they are to take an active part in the operation of democratic institutions

The Anthropology of Education David Julian Hodges, 2011 This unique anthology outlines and reconsiders the disciplinary origins of the anthropology of education The book is a student oriented compilation of classic articles written by anthropologists who helped pioneer the field some fifty years ago Their names constitute a veritable who's who in cultural anthropology Kluckhohn Linton Mead Benedict and Redfield to name a few who while accomplished in the general area of cultural anthropology nevertheless gave specific attention to the developing area of the anthropology of education Also included in the collection are contemporary classics by non anthropologists such as Paulo Freire James Baldwin and Jonathan Kozol who tackle more recent issues facing education and educators The readings are termed classic because collectively they represent the best of that to which today's students of the anthropology of education should be exposed for a first rate introduction to the field However despite their relevance and importance many of these articles are out of print difficult to find or otherwise unavailable Still there is an abiding need for the insights they provide The need for the thinking of these pioneers is as great today arguably greater than when the articles were written Their contributions and insights must not succumb to the awful tendency of our times for scholarship to be both instant and disposable

Special Education in the 21st Century Margret A. Winzer, 2000 In the late 20th century a tidal wave of calls for reform and inclusion of special needs students swept over public special education The current debates over implementing these themes today are authoritatively addressed by 19 distinguished scholars in this thorough volume Organized into three cohesive sections it begins with the issues of educational reform and the emerging discourses of disability and integration in the inclusion movement Respective chapters appraise specific arguments for inclusion and the federal legislation and litigation surrounding and supporting special education The second part features the thorny issue of assessment the technological revolution in special education and the disposition of teacher training The third section scrutinizes the inclusion of various populations of students with exceptional needs particularly how teachers can make an easy transition from ideology to educational practice Special Education in the 21st Century sets the standard for extrapolating future directions by wisely weighing classroom practices for different groups and the technical problems of resources management social groupings instructional design and the supposition that teachers will automatically change to accommodate an even greater diversity of learners

Education Anthropology G. F. Kneller, 1965-01-15 Foundations of Education J. Calderon, 1998 Anthropological Perspectives on Education in Nepal Karen Valentin, Uma Pradhan, 2022-12-31 What is education and who counts as an educated person amidst competing religious political and pedagogical ideologies which have shaped contemporary educational practices and institutions in Nepal How have social and political changes an increasing commodification of education a continued reliance on foreign aid and expanded geographical horizons contributed to a reshaping of the educational landscape of Nepal and thereby altered opened up and closed avenues of learning available to the Nepali people Grounded in the intersection between anthropology sociology and development studies and based on rich ethnographic evidence the essays in this edited volume illuminate educational transformations and avenues of learning in the context of wider social and political changes in Nepal They capture diverse and competing educational experiences and trajectories examine the process of construction and transmission of knowledge in different sites within and beyond institutions of formal education and explore the interconnections between education state and society Anthropologies of Education Kathryn M. Anderson-Levitt, 2011-10-01 Despite international congresses and international journals anthropologies of education differ significantly around the world Linguistic barriers constrain the flow of ideas which results in a vast amount of research on educational anthropology that is not published in English or is difficult for international readers to find This volume responds to the call to attend to educational research outside the United States and to break out of metropolitan provincialism A guide to the anthropologies and ethnographies of learning and schooling published in German French Spanish Portuguese Italian Slavic languages Japanese and English as a second language show how scholars in Latin America Japan and elsewhere adapt European American and other approaches to create new traditions As the contributors show educators draw on different foundational research and different theoretical discussions Thus this global survey raises new questions and casts a new light on what has become a too familiar discipline in the United States

Educational Anthropology An Introduction: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the engaging narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Educational Anthropology An Introduction : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Educational Anthropology An Introduction : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Educational Anthropology An Introduction : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
