Edutopia A Manifesto For The Reform Of Public Education:

Edutopia Winston Apple, 2003-10 For some time now we have been inundated with a steady stream of books and articles detailing the problems plaguing public education Edutopia goes beyond the criticisms to offer a comprehensive list of proposed reforms addressing the problems The general thrust of these proposals is to de regulate education removing elements of compulsion and giving students and parents the freedom to make meaningful choices with regard to the nature of their educational experiences The reforms proposed in Edutopia go well beyond quick fixes and fresh coats of paint to offer parents and students meaningful alternatives to the present system of public education in America Leading for Change Through Whole-School Social-Emotional Learning Jennifer E. Rogers, 2019-04-02 Develop and cultivate social emotional learning to create a new school climate As research on the positive outcomes of Social Emotional Learning SEL are emerging schools and districts across the country are adopting the practices and processes to improve student outcomes and teacher capacity The real world experiences and evidence based strategies outlined in this book will guide implementation of a practical and sustainable social emotional learning program In addition to an integrated workbook readers will find recommendations for steps with each strategy in an implementation rubric reflection questions to promote deeper thinking on SEL resources to explore at the end of each chapter Arguing with Numbers James Wynn, G. Mitchell Reyes, 2021-04-15 As discrete fields of inquiry rhetoric and mathematics have long been considered antithetical to each other That is if mathematics explains or describes the phenomena it studies with certainty persuasion is not needed This volume calls into question the view that mathematics is free of rhetoric Through nine studies of the intersections between these two disciplines Arguing with Numbers shows that mathematics is in fact deeply rhetorical Using rhetoric as a lens to analyze mathematically based arguments in public policy political and economic theory and even literature the essays in this volume reveal how mathematics influences the values and beliefs with which we assess the world and make decisions and how our worldviews influence the kinds of mathematical instruments we construct and accept In addition contributors examine how concepts of rhetoric such as analogy and visuality have been employed in mathematical and scientific reasoning including in the theorems of mathematical physicists and the geometrical diagramming of natural scientists Challenging academic orthodoxy these scholars reject a math equals truth reduction in favor of a more constructivist theory of mathematics as dynamic evolving and powerfully persuasive By bringing these disparate lines of inquiry into conversation with one another Arguing with Numbers provides inspiration to students established scholars and anyone inside or outside rhetorical studies who might be interested in exploring the intersections between the two disciplines In addition to the editors the contributors to this volume are Catherine Chaput Crystal Broch Colombini Nathan Crick Michael Dreher Jeanne Fahnestock Andrew C Jones Joseph Little and Edward Schiappa The Translational Design of Schools Kenn Fisher, 2016-10-13 This book summarises the deep level of research carried out since 2008 within the emerging evidence based translational design EBD

approach to learning environments research This programme has been carried out by the Learning Environments Applied Research Network of the University of Melbourne its partners and colleagues The chapters are based on ten 3 4 year full time doctoral research dissertations with each chapter outlining the key findings from these studies The book links the chapters through the lens of evidence based design which originates from the health planning sector The rigour of that sector is based on the well accepted methodology of translational research used in clinical medicine for many years In adapting that practice translational medicine is akin to translational development When applied to other sectors and disciplines this becomes EBD health planning translational engineering or in the case of evidence based architecture translational design Thus educational planning becomes the translational design of learning environments These doctoral dissertations are examples of this approach The chapters are organised into a narrative that examines evidence based design through three key themes The first explores key issues in learning environments with three chapters covering spatial literacy in pedagogical practice engaging students in learning spaces and re placing classrooms through flexibility The second theme focusses on the socio cultural implications of learning environments exploring student identity formation aligning learning environment affordances for effective professional development in an innovative senior secondary school and occupying curriculum as space in the arts The third theme investigates the design implications for learning environments with four chapters covering corridors nooks and crannies making space for learning the role of the primary school library in learning plans and pedagogies school design as socio spatial assemblage and evaluating the spatial changes in a technology enabled primary years setting

Tyack,Larry Cuban,1997-03-25 This book documents the tension between Americans faith in education as a panacea and the moderate pace of change in educational practices The authors suggest that reformers need to focus on ways to help teachers improve instruction from the inside out instead of decreeing change by remote control Ideology And Educational Reform David C. Paris,2019-03-13 Ideology and Educational Reform traces the underlying ideological problems that make genuine educational reform difficult It describes three major themes in public education common school human capital and clientelism Creating Educational Access, Equity, and Opportunity for All Everette W. Surgenor,2014-09-17 Louis Sullivan an American architect was referred to as the father of modernism and coined the phrase form follows function His phrase provides a key insight into the state of public education in America The existing form for public education is industrial in nature and is not a match for what should be the function of an education system in an information age society one that is characterized by technology globalism a new definition of work and rapid relentless change This book explains how the mismatch between function and form is creating circumstances that are putting the future of public education at risk leading to system dysfunction deregulation and privatization Public education needs to be redesigned and reformatted to match the function of the age in which we now live The current structure and function denies too many students the levels of access equity and opportunity that their parents once enjoyed Achieving that outcome is important to the economic social and political wellbeing of America It's Time for a Change Matthew Lynch,2011-12-01 The United States entered the 21st century as the world s sole superpower Our diplomatic strength military might financial resources and technological innovation were and continue to be the envy of the world However in the crucial area of education the U S lags behind many other developed countries Though the U S spends more per student than almost any other country international exams have demonstrated that we consistently perform well behind countries such as South Korea China Japan and Finland in the areas of reading and math There are even more worrying elements at play however Paramount among these is the fact that the U S educational system is becoming ever more stratified Despite efforts such as the George W Bush administration's No Child Left Behind Act NCLB the disparity in academic achievement between students from high and low socioeconomic classes continues to grow The ramifications of this trend are vast China Japan and South Korea understand that well educated workers are crucial for survival in the competitive global economy Thus they are placing enormous emphasis on education ensuring that their students receive instruction not only foundational reading and math but are also taught to think creatively and solve problems Their youth are poised to take on and conquer the world The U S on the other hand is losing the battle School systems are using more money but have less to show for it Test results especially among the lower socioeconomic classes are dismal America has extraordinary natural resources a solid functioning democracy and excellent infrastructure but unless we can reform our educational system to produce students who are able to take advantage of new technologies and compete in the global economy we will cede our position as world leader Its Time for Change School Reform provides a no nonsense blueprint for reforming The U S educational system in a manner that will ensure that it secures its position as the preeminent world leader

The Assault on Public Education William Watkins, 2015-04-24 In this timely interdisciplinary volume William Watkins has brought together leading scholars and activists to address some of the most urgent issues facing public education What is underneath and behind the language of choice efficiency and improvement in current neoliberal discourse How will urban and poor populations be affected Will privatization lead to increased stratification in our schools How can public education not only be saved but re imagined In accessible language renowned contributors explore and critique corporate school reform to both inform and serve as an organizing tool for teachers parents students and citizens committed to genuine public education Book Features A comprehensive critique of how corporate power is disrupting universal public education An illumination of how corporate school reform threatens unions racial progress and democracy An illustration of how private wealth forges public policy A case study of the public school system in New Orleans Contributors Pauline Lipman Kenneth Saltman Alfie Kohn Jack Gerson Malila N Robinson Catherine A Lugg William H Watkins Ann G Winfield Kristen L Buras William H Watkins is a professor at the University of Illinois at Chicago and author of The White Architects of Black Education As The Assault on Public Education makes so very clear we are witnessing the growth of a destructive set of policies in education and the larger society This book provides us with a set of articulate analyses of what the future will likely hold if we do not engage in the hard and committed labor of countering these dangerous tendencies today From the

Foreword by Michael W Apple University of Wisconsin Madison The Assault on Public Education is a powerful assemblage of scholars practitioners and activists who are willing to stand up to the entrenched interests arrayed against public education as we know it This is a must read for thinking citizen scholars Gloria Ladson Billings University of Wisconsin Madison Today is a pivotal moment for America and its schools Teachers and others who envision schools that enhance democratic life will find critical theoretical and practical guidance in this book Use it Daniel Perlstein Graduate School of Education University of California Berkeley Watkins has produced an important and timely work a much needed corrective to the dumbing down of educational policy discourse The essays here offer a very real challenge to those who have confounded market based policy with school reform and the well being of children with the well being of corporations Charles Payne University of Chicago

Education for Everyone John I. It's the Mission, Not the Mandates Amy Fast, 2015-11-17 This book invites a conversation among stakeholders of public education and conveys the need for a common vision for America's public schools Amy Fast argues that we have never had a clear purpose for our schools and that now more than ever educators in America ache for a more inspiring purpose than simply improving results on standardized assessments Fast asserts how focusing on the mission instead of simply the mandates and measures is how real change occurs Until we have a common and transparent purpose that serves to inspire those in the trenches of the work reform in public education will continue to flounder Through the examination of our past and current priorities for American schools Fast uncovers a nobler purpose that will intrinsically move educators as well as students to be inspired in their work In turn it is this inspiration not another silver bullet reform that will lead to meaningful change in society

Humanizing the Education Machine Rex Miller, Bill Latham, Brian Cahill, 2016-10-24 A clear roadmap for the new territory of education Education in the U S has been under fire for quite some time and for good reason The numbers alone tell a very disconcerting story according to various polls 70% of teachers are disengaged Add to that the fact that the United States ranks last among industrialized nations for college graduation levels and it's evident there's a huge problem that needs to be addressed Yet the current education system and its school buildings with teachers standing in front of classrooms and lecturing to students have gone largely unchanged since the 19th century Humanizing the Education Machine tackles this tough issue head on It describes how the education system has become ineffective by not adapting to fit students' needs learning styles perspectives and lives at home This book explains how schools can evolve to engage students and involve parents It serves to spread hope for reform and equip parents educators administrators and communities to Analyze the pitfalls of the current U S education system Intelligently argue the need to reform the current landscape of education Work to make a difference in the public education system Be an informed advocate for your child or local school system If you re a concerned parent or professional looking for a trusted resource on the need for education reform look no further than Humanizing the Education Machine This illuminating resource provides the information you need to become a full partner in the new human centered learning revolution

The Fog of Reform George A. Goens,2016 American public education has been on a merry go round of change for the past 40 years We made something that is complex by its very nature into a strangled enterprise that is becoming even more knotty and complicated A fog of reform is created obscuring issues and deflecting our focus from the real mission of schools We need to emphasize ideals and principles in providing an education for our children in a caring and creative way This book is about the fog of reform and getting back the ideal of a place called school The sections describe a new metaphor and approach to change and examine the forces and ideals that can bring about the schools children need Principles and values transform organizations not mandates and fear Recipes for making schools into caring places for children do not exist Great schools must be created one by one Numbers don t create change people and passion do Unless we focus on the moral imperative of educating children we will fail them and possibly slide into an ethical quagmire

Toward a New Common School Movement Noah De Lissovoy,Alexander J Means,Kenneth J. Saltman,2015-11-17 Toward a New Common School Movement is a bold and urgent call to action The authors argue that corporate school reform in the United States represents a failed project subverted by profiteering corruption and educational inequalities Toward a New Common School Movement suggests that educational privatization and austerity are not simply bad policies but represent a broader redistribution of control over social life that is the enclosure of the global commons This condition requires far more than a liberal defense of public schooling It requires recovering elements of the radical progressive educational tradition while generating a new language of the common suitable to the unique challenges of the global era Toward a New Common School Movement traces the history of struggles over public schooling in the United States and provides a set of ethical principles for enacting the commons in educational policy finance labor curriculum and pedagogy Ultimately it argues for global educational struggles in common for a just and sustainable future beyond the crises of neoliberalism and predatory capitalism

Reclaiming Our Children, Reclaiming Our Schools Eric Shyman,2016-12-16 Reclaiming Our Children Reclaiming our Schools offers both a comprehensive censure of the current corporate interest in privatizing public schooling as well as a framework for attaining meaningful education reform based in democracy and the combined will of the public Using current research and sound philosophical and ethical arguments Shyman argues for more attention to be paid to teacher expertise participatory democratic practices genuine valuation of ethnic and cultural diversity attention to global citizenship and cooperation and the prevention of private profit based interests in public schooling policy and practice By returning the power of the public school to the public and the true experts public schools can become the most important tool in securing genuine cultural growth leading to a stronger safer and more cooperative nation and world
