Art and Architecture of Viceregal Latin America, 1521-1821 Kelly Donahue-Wallace, 2008-03-16 Kelly Donahue Wallace surveys the art and architecture created in the Spanish Viceroyalties of New Spain Peru New Granada and La Plata from the time of the conquest to the independence era Emphasizing the viceregal capitals and their social economic religious and political contexts the author offers a chronological review of the major objects and monuments of the colonial era In order to present fundamental differences between the early and later colonial periods works are offered chronologically and separated by medium painting urban planning religious architecture and secular art so the aspects of production purpose and response associated with each work are given full attention Primary documents including wills diaries and guild records are placed throughout the text to provide a deeper appreciation of the contexts in which the objects were made

Visible Empire Daniela Bleichmar, 2012-10-08 Between 1777 and 1816 botanical expeditions crisscrossed the vast Spanish empire in an ambitious project to survey the flora of much of the Americas the Caribbean and the Philippines While these voyages produced written texts and compiled collections of specimens they dedicated an overwhelming proportion of their resources and energy to the creation of visual materials European and American naturalists and artists collaborated to manufacture a staggering total of more than 12 000 botanical illustrations Yet these images have remained largely overlooked until now In this lavishly illustrated volume Daniela Bleichmar gives this archive its due finding in these botanical images a window into the worlds of Enlightenment science visual culture and empire Through innovative interdisciplinary scholarship that bridges the histories of science visual culture and the Hispanic world Bleichmar uses these images to trace two related histories the little known history of scientific expeditions in the Hispanic Enlightenment and the history of visual evidence in both science and administration in the early modern Spanish empire As Bleichmar shows in the Spanish empire visual epistemology operated not only in scientific contexts but also as part of an imperial apparatus that had a long established tradition of deploying visual evidence for administrative purposes

From Viracocha to the Virgin of Copacabana Verónica Salles-Reese, 2010-07-05 Surrounded by the peaks of the Andean cordillera the deep blue waters of Lake Titicaca have long provided refreshment and nourishment to the people who live along its shores From prehistoric times the Andean peoples have held Titicaca to be a sacred place the source from which all life originated and the site where the divine manifests its presence In this interdisciplinary study Verónica Salles Reese explores how Andean myths of cosmic and ethnic origins centered on Lake Titicaca evolved from pre Inca times to the enthronement of the Virgin of Copacabana in 1583 She begins by describing the myths of the Kolla pre Inca people and shows how their Inca conquerors attempted to establish legitimacy by reconciling their myths of cosmic and ethnic origin with the Kolla myths She also shows how a similar pattern occurred when the Inca were conquered in turn by the Spanish This research explains why Lake Titicaca continues to occupy a central place in Andean thought despite the major cultural disruptions that have characterized the region's history

This book will be a touchstone in the field of Colonial literature and an important reference for Andean religious and intellectual history

The Power of Huacas Claudia Brosseder, 2014-07-01 The role of the religious specialist in Andean cultures of the sixteenth seventeenth and eighteenth centuries was a complicated one balanced between local traditions and the culture of the Spanish In The Power of Huacas Claudia Brosseder reconstructs the dynamic interaction between religious specialists and the colonial world that unfolded around them considering how the discourse about religion shifted on both sides of the Spanish and Andean relationship in complex and unexpected ways In The Power of Huacas Brosseder examines evidence of transcultural exchange through religious history anthropology and cultural studies Taking Andean religious specialists or hechizeros sorcerers in colonial Spanish terminology as a starting point she considers the different ways in which Andeans and Spaniards thought about key cultural and religious concepts Unlike previous studies this important book fully outlines both sides of the colonial relationship Brosseder uses extensive archival research in Bolivia Chile Ecuador Peru Spain Italy and the United States as well as careful analysis of archaeological and art historical objects to present the Andean religious worldview of the period on equal footing with that of the Spanish Throughout the colonial period she argues Andean religious specialists retained their own unique logic which encompassed specific ideas about holiness nature sickness and social harmony The Power of Huacas deepens our understanding of the complexities of assimilation showing that within the maelstrom of transcultural exchange in the Spanish Americas European paradigms ultimately changed more than Andean ones

Manuscript Cultures of Colonial Mexico and Peru Thomas B. F. Cummins, Emily Engel, Barbara Anderson, Juan Ossio, 2015-01-01 This volume showcases dynamic developments in the field of manuscript research that go beyond traditional textual iconographic or codicological studies Using state of the art conservation technologies scholars investigate how four manuscripts the Galvin Mur a the Getty Mur a the Florentine Codex and the Relaci n de Michoac n were created and demonstrate why these objects must be studied in a comparative context The forensic study of manuscripts provides art historians anthropologists curators and conservators with effective methods for determining authorship identifying technical innovations and contextualizing illustrated histories This information in turn allows for more nuanced arguments that transcend the information that the written texts and painted images themselves provide The book encourages scholars to think broadly about the manuscripts of colonial Mexico and Peru in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries and employ new techniques and methods of research

Cases of Exclusion and Mobilization of Race and Ethnicities in Latin America Marc Becker, 2014-10-02 Issues of race and ethnicity in Latin America continue to gain a growing amount of academic attention While themes of ethnic identities indigeneity and race relations are commonly examined in our respective disciplines it is less common to bring together essays from scholars from such a broad variety of disciplines The papers collected in this volume draw on a wide range of studies from across Latin America including the examination of ethnohistory the environment and culture They convey a large diversity of perspectives disciplines and issues that reflect the richness and complexities of the social processes that encompass the Americas Taken as a whole this broad range of studies on ethnohistory environmental and legal issues education and culture advances our understandings of race and ethnicity in Latin America In the process these studies incorporate related issues of how historical and political developments in Latin America have and continue to be experienced differently based on varying gendered and class perspectives These studies examine how those speaking from the margins continue to shape and reshape what we know as Latin America On the Wings of Time Sabine MacCormack, 2007 Universals and particulars themes and persons Writing and the pursuit of origins Conquest civil war and political life The emergence of patria cities and the law Works of nature and works of free will The discourse of my life what language can do The Incas Rome and Peru Epilogue Ancient texts prophecies and predictions causes and judgments The Oxford World History of Empire Peter Fibiger Bang, Christopher Alan Bayly, Walter Scheidel, 2021 This is the first world history of empire reaching from the third millennium BCE to the present By combining synthetic surveys thematic comparative essays and numerous chapters on specific empires its two volumes provide unparalleled coverage of imperialism throughout history and across continents from Asia to Europe and from Africa to the Americas Only a few decades ago empire was believed to be a thing of the past now it is clear that it has been and remains one of the most enduring forms of political organization and power We cannot understand the dynamics and resilience of empire without moving decisively beyond the study of individual cases or particular periods such as the relatively short age of European colonialism The history of empire as these volumes amply demonstrate needs to be drawn on the much broader canvas of global history Volume Two The History of Empires tracks the protean history of political domination from the very beginnings of state formation in the Bronze Age up to the present Case studies deal with the full range of the historical experience of empire from the realms of the Achaemenids and Asoka to the empires of Mali and Songhay and from ancient Rome and China to the Mughals American settler colonialism and the Soviet Union Forty five chapters detailing the history of individual empires are tied together by a set of global synthesizing surveys that structure the world history of empire into eight chronological phases The Globe on Paper Giuseppe Marcocci, 2020-07-02 The age of exploration exposed the limits of available universal histories Everyday interactions with cultures and societies across the globe brought to light a multiplicity of pasts which proved difficult to reconcile with an emerging sense of unity in the world Among the first to address the questions posed by this challenge were a handful of Renaissance historians On what basis could they narrate the history of hitherto unknown peoples Why did the Bible and classical works say nothing about so many visible traces of ancient cultures And how far was it possible to write histories of the world at a time of growing religious division in Europe and imperial rivalry around the world A study of the cross fertilization of historical writing in the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries The Globe on Paper reconstructs a set of imaginative accounts worked out from Mexico to the Moluccas and Peru and from the shops of Venetian printers to the rival courts of Spain and England The pages of this book

teem with humanists librarians missionaries imperial officials as well as forgers and indigenous chroniclers Drawing on information gathered or said to have been gathered from eyewitness reports interviews with local inhabitants ancient codices and material evidence their global narratives testify to an unprecedented broadening of horizons which briefly flourished before succumbing to the forces of imperial and religious reaction

Pictured Politics Emily Engel,2020-03-23 The Spanish colonial period in South America saw artists develop the subgenre of official portraiture or portraits of key individuals in the continent's viceregal governments Although these portraits appeared to illustrate a narrative of imperial splendor and absolutist governance they instead became a visual record of the local history that emerged during the colonial occupation Using the official portrait collections accumulated between 1542 and 1830 in Lima Buenos Aires and Bogota as a lens Pictured Politics explores how official portraiture originated and evolved to become an essential component in the construction of Ibero American political relationships Through the surviving portraits and archival evidence including political treatises travel accounts and early periodicals Emily Engel demonstrates that these official portraits not only belie a singular interpretation as tools of imperial domination but also visualize the continent's multilayered history of colonial occupation The first standalone analysis of South American portraiture Pictured Politics brings to light the historical relevance of political portraits in crafting the history of South American colonialism

At Home with the Sapa Inca Stella Nair,2015-07-01 By examining the stunning stone buildings and dynamic spaces of the royal estate of Chinchero Nair brings to light the rich complexity of Inca architecture This investigation ranges from the paradigms of Inca scholarship and a summary of Inca cultural practices to the key events of Topa Inca's reign and the many individual elements of Chinchero's extraordinary built environment What emerges are the subtle often sophisticated ways in which the Inca manipulated space and architecture in order to impose their authority identity and agenda The remains of grand buildings as well as a series of deft architectural gestures in the landscape reveal the unique places that were created within the royal estate and how one space deeply informed the other These dynamic settings created private places for an aging ruler to spend time with a preferred wife and son while also providing impressive spaces for imperial theatrics that reiterated the power of Topa Inca the choice of his preferred heir and the ruler's close relationship with sacred forces This careful study of architectural details also exposes several false paradigms that have profoundly misguided how we understand Inca architecture including the belief that it ended with the arrival of Spaniards in the Andes Instead Nair reveals how amidst the entanglement and violence of the European encounter an indigenous town emerged that was rooted in Inca ways of understanding space place and architecture and that paid homage to a landscape that defined home for Topa Inca

History from Loss Marnie Hughes-Warrington,Daniel Woolf,2023-05-31 History from Loss challenges the common thought that history is written by the winners and explores how history makers in different times and places across the globe have written histories from loss even when this has come at the threat to their own safety A distinguished group of historians from around the globe offer an introduction to different history makers lives and ideas and important extracts from their works which highlight various meanings of loss from physical ailments to social ostracism exile to imprisonment and from dispossession to potential execution Throughout the volume consideration of the information bubbles of different times and places helps to show how information has been weaponized to cause harm In this way the text helps to put current debates about the biases and weaponization of platforms such as social media into global and historical perspectives In combination the chapters build a picture of history from loss which is global sustained and anything but a simple mirror of history made by victors The volume also includes an Introduction and Afterword which draw out the key meanings of history from loss and which offer ideas for further exploration History from Loss provides an invaluable resource for students teachers and general readers who wish to put current debates on bias the politicization of history and threats to history makers into global and historical perspectives The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Animals and Science Maggie Bolton, Cathrine Degnen, 2020-05-15 What exactly does a focus on animals bring to anthropological studies of science This is a question that the various contributors to this edited collection set out to answer This range of studies explores the intersections between animals and science across different ethnographic settings and in different historical periods The contributions to this volume look at what it means to be human the place of human beings vis vis other species on this planet our ideas of what nature and culture are the limits to our ideas of kinship the ethical debates that surround science together with their interpretation by both scientific communities and the lay public and the moral comportment of scientists Through focusing on science our contributors not only demonstrate that people elsewhere have different relationships with and knowledge of beasts and that different possibilities of relating to animals exist within our own Western worldview but further suggest that our Western knowledge about animals and their positions in society arrived at through Western science and the social sciences is itself in need of rethinking to incorporate other ways of knowing This volume contends that accounts in which animals meet science provide important theoretical insights for anthropologists and can set new agendas for theory in anthropology and science studies
